22ND YEAR. LOWELL, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1899. 8 PAGES 1 CENT

A LOWELL MAN GONE

Supposed to Have Been Killed at So. Acton

MILES B. GRAY, Missing From His Home, 17 Forrest Street.

But the Sun's Investigation Proves the Contrary—Miles B. Gray of Forrest Street is Not the Dead Man at Acton.

The recent death of a man at South Acton, the particulars of which have already been given in The Sun, has caused no little uneasiness in many homes from which men have been missing. The case at Acton not only aroused the authorities of that town but State Inspector Joe Whitney has been working on the case, making an investigation of the death. It will be remembered that about four weeks ago the man in question was picked up in a semi-conscious condition in a field in the rear of the freight house in South Acton. It is presumed that death was due to accident but the man's identity is what has puzzled every one who has been connected with the case, even to the hustling chief of police, L. E. Reed of Acton and the "State Sleuth," Joe Whitney, the officer who brought Bunco Reed from prison. The unfortunate man, prior to meeting with his violent death, was seen about Acton and gave the names of Wellington, Marston, Williams, Dalton, Tucker and Donohoe and at all time gave the first name of Frank. The description first sent out to the newspapers was that the man had tatoo marks on the arm, bearing his three initials. At the time of the sad fatality many of the newspapers stated that these initials were the only clue that would lead to the identification of the man. This assertion caused intense anxiety in one Lowell home where a wife mourns a missing husband who disappeared several weeks ago and who also had tatoo marks on his arm bearing the three initials of his name.

A Sun reporter learning of the latter disappearance started out on a tour of investigation thinking that possibly the dead man at Acton might prove to be the missing Lowell husband. The scribe learned that the Acton man whose weight was about 200 pounds, face quite round, good teeth, had a healthy, ruddy complexion, a good form, was clean shaved, hair on top of head, not parted but curly. The man was well dressed, his clothing having a flareness that indicated he was in well to do circumstances. On the shirt of the victim was discovered the firm name of a manufacturing firm of London, England. Inspector Whitney has endeavored to glean from the railroad men, from whose train the man was put off, some facts in the matter but as yet the case is shrouded in the deepest mystery. The Sun in today's issue produces a portrait of the face of the man taken after death.

THE LOWELL MISSING MAN.

The man missing from Lowell is Miles B. Gray, a well known carpenter residing at 17 Forrest street and up to the time of his disappearance in the employ of Contractor Charles Needham.

A little over a fortnight ago Gray, after shaving off his moustache, suddenly left his home, leaving a most estimable wife and a beautiful child just old enough to be cute and winsome. Whether the disappearance was premeditated or whether Gray had met with a fatal accident has caused considerable speculation and anxiety among relatives. There were good reasons for thinking that Gray was the unfortunate man who had met death at Acton. But The Sun proved this assumption to be erroneous so there are many who think that Gray has shipped to sea, as he has left home suddenly once before, and a separation followed between him and wife. A reunion subsequently took place and the home life of the couple has to all appearances, and according to the story of neighbors, been one of happiness. If the departure from home has been planned then the husband leaves his wife at a very critical time.

Gray is a man about five feet six inches in height, with dark hair, dark eyes, rather thin face, with Roman nose had a tatoo on his arm with the initials, "M.-B. G." and had the tatoo of an anchor on one hand and a star on the other. On his head is a large scar, the result of an accident received when Gray was a boy of 15 years. Gray, on leaving home, was attired in a brown suit, white felt hat, tan lace shoes. Not only is the wife anxious as to the whereabouts of her husband but neighbors are equally anxious. The Sun publishes a picture of Gray as he appeared up to the day of his departure—just as his acquaintances knew him.

THE RELATIONS

Of Accounts Committee Were Wofully Strained

BUT HARMOMY FOLLOWED THE STORM

At Last Night's Troubled Meeting.

ALD. DERBY'S FEELINGS HURT

And Councilman Saunders Healed the Wounds.

In a partially lighted committee room in City Hall with no one to bother them but poor Janitor Delmage, who looked at the clock until it actually flushed, the three members of the committee on accounts, Alderman Derby and Councilmen Walker and Saunders held forth last evening and "chewed" at each other for an hour. Only three cups of strong tea and a rat, being needed to make the meeting a complete success.

The object of the trio in coming together was to approve Fourth of July bills, but they worked in a little feature not on the program and at one time the law against duelling probably preventing real trouble.

Alderman Derby, chairman of the committee and a most sensitive little man, started the fun and Councilman Walker usually good natured and whose name will go thundering thro' the ages for his benign habit of springing votes of thanks promiscuously, backed him up. Alderman Derby was inclined to be sure and somewhat wrathy and an unhappy victim of some of that wrath was Councilman Saunders, with a mind of his own and faculty of speaking it undeterred by his surroundings.

Alderman Derby began by patting the committee on the back for the unanimity displayed at its meetings. Then he got down to business and in a voice which some would describe as trembling with emotion, said:

"I didn't know that there was any thing but harmony in this committee and I have said that I didn't believe there was any committee which was a more harmonious one than ours. I felt the remark made by Councilman Saunders very much and I am not over it yet. I took it as an insult to two of the members of the committee. I feel that Councilman Saunders ought to go back to the lady in which he made his original statement and say he was mistaken, if he feels that he said things that ought not to have been said. If, on the other hand, he believes the committee has not acted properly or anything, then it is his place to say to the common council that the committee is an unjust one and a change should be made. You said, Councilman Saunders, that the other two members of this committee would let any kind of a bill go through. If you do not think that is so, I think you should say so in the same place in which you made your statement. I was surprised that such a thing should come from you and I have heard of it from a dozen men that Councilman Saunders got after me. I think you owe us an apology in the common council chamber."

Councilman Saunders replied that he was called out of bed just before ten o'clock to attend the meeting of the common council. I made that statement in the heat of the moment and I later publicly apologized through the Citizen. I am willing to do anything that is proper to do.

Alderman Derby said he had not seen the apology in the paper.

Councilman Walker said he had seen it, but did not think it sufficient. The apology ought to be made in the common council chamber. If Mr. Saunders still thinks the committee deserves what he said, he had better have us investigated.

Councilman Saunders said that his statement in the paper was a good, clear one, whether Mr. Walker thinks so or not. "Mr. Walker," he said, "claimed I was not honest in the position I took on the school matter."

Councilman Walker said his statement about Councilman Saunders was in answer to what was said against the accounts committee.

Councilman Saunders said he would not take back one word he had said about the school system. I believe now as I always have, there are intimates there.

Then Alderman Derby, so as not to be misunderstood, said that he believed Councilman Saunders to be honest but he made the statement when excited and the alderman very considerately concluded that an explanation before the common council would be sufficient balm for his wounded feelings, and consequently it is our pleasure to announce that there will be no blood spilled over the affair. Councilman Saunders certainly erred in judgment in making his apology for had he put it in The Sun every one would have seen it, even Alderman Derby and the trouble of last evening would in all probability never have arisen. But like Alderman Derby, we are willing to believe that the councilman was still excited when he placed the apology in the paper and we shall forgive him this time.

With that little oil on the troubled waters, Councilman Saunders remarked that there had been stirring times in the city council.

And Councilman Walker who evidently wanted to get into the oiled surface, admitted telling Mr. Saunders he was not consistent and was talking for effect. "Your letter in the newspaper," said Mr. Walker, "gave the borrowing capacity of the city as $1500 when the city treasurer gives the information that it is $57,000."

Mr. Saunders said he got his figures from Alderman Dimon.

Mr. Walker said the reason he said Mr. Saunders was not consistent was because he voted for the school appropriation early in the year after speaking several times against it.

Mr. Saunders denied voting for the appropriation.

Then they talked over the weather, smooth paving and other subjects and finally came to a most harmonious finish, the atmosphere growing heavy with brotherly love and they reached adjournment. When they had finished Janitor Delmage shook his head knowingly, as he lowered the lights, remarking to the clock as he took a last look at the time, "Do you remember that celebrated saying of Puck?" and the clock ticked affirmatively.

A NEW MONOPOLY

Supposed to be on Its Way Here

The city clerk's office this morning was thrown into a state of temporary excitement upon receiving a letter addressed to the city council which would appear to be the forerunner of a gigantic trust or monopoly which desires to control everything in Lowell but air with Vanderbilts and Goulds and Morgans and millions behind it.

On close inspection, however, it does not appear quite so dangerous.

The letter is as follows:

To the City Council of Lowell:

If the aforesaid body will entertain an offer of money value for a franchise of a telephonic, heat, light, power and traction nature, I will be prepared to submit proposition at their earliest convenience.

Yours very respectfully,
—Edward D. McVey.

THE GERMAN FLAG

Torn Down From Hotel In Honolulu

INTERNATIONAL EPISODE MAY RESULT.

Matter Will be Reported to Germany.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HONOLULU, July 7.—Via Victoria, B. C., July 11.—There was a flag incident here on the Fourth of July which promises to be made an international episode. Carl Klemme, the proprietor of the Orpheum Hotel, daily decorated his building in American colors, hoisting the American flag over it and under the American flag the German flag. Later a friend of his wanted to use an American flag and Klemme good-naturedly loaned him his, leaving the German flag alone from the flagstaff.

J. H. West saw it and ordered Klemme to haul it down. There had been an ill-will between the two men before and Klemme refused to take orders from his enemy. West thereupon gathered a lot of soldiers from the transport Sheridan, and showed them the German flag floating on the Fourth of July in American territory. The soldiers at once proceeded to the roof, tore down the German flag and destroyed it and put into its place some red, white and blue bunting torn from the other decorations of the building.

West was today fined $100 in the police court for malicious mischief, and the German consul general will make a report of the matter to his government.

DEATHS.

CONROY—Frank Conroy died at his home, 9 Manchester street, last evening, aged 17 years, 6 months. He leaves one brother, Daniel Conroy.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of the Loyal Victoria lodge, I.O.O.F. M. U., was held in Manchester Unity hall last evening. The newly elected officers of the lodge were installed by District Deputy Grand Master Thomas E. Crowe of Holyoke and suite.

Three candidates were also initiated.

Bay State colony, United Order of Pilgrim Fathers, met last night. One application for membership was accepted and a committee was appointed to confer with Garfield and Empire colonies with relation to holding a union picnic soon.

The new officers of the Court General Shields, F. of A., were installed last evening by Deputy Edward F. Slattery and suite. Besides the installation of officers, two candidates were initiated and three applications were received and accepted.

Dorcas temple, Rathbone Sisters, held its annual picnic yesterday afternoon at Mountain Rock. There was a good attendance and the afternoon was pleasantly spent by all.

There were not many sports pulled off, but the few that were furnished plenty of amusement for the merry picnickers. A feature of the afternoon's sports was the fat women's race which proved an exciting one. There were several entries and the first prize was captured by Mrs. C. E. Park. The boys' running race came next and was hotly contested. After an exciting race, Allie Park won. The women's egg race was won by Mrs. J. H. Breton. Newell Gilman won the boys' egg race. These comprised the important sports.

The general committee in charge of the affair was as follows: Mrs. J. W. Stiles, chairman; Mrs. A. F. Choate, Mrs. W. H. Gilman and Mrs. C. H. Glidden.

Washington commandery, United Order of the Golden Cross, met in Union hall last evening and the new officers were installed.

WHITNEY'S HOUSE

And Stables For His Thoroughbreds

BURNED DOWN LATE LAST NIGHT.

Magnificent Dwellings and Furnishings Total Loss.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The magnificent country residence of W. C. Whitney, on Wheatley Hills, two miles from Westbury, L. I., was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock last night and at a late hour one of the three big barns in which Mr. Whitney keeps his thoroughbreds was on fire. There is small chance that it can be saved.

Mr. Whitney was not at home, having sailed for Europe a few weeks ago.

It is not known how much furnishings were saved, but it is understood that most of the furniture, personal effects and handsome fittings were burned.

The fire was discovered at 10 o'clock by one of the servants, who immediately gave the alarm. In a few moments the entire household was fighting flames that made rapid headway under a stiff wind from off the sound.

The servants formed themselves in two brigades. One fought the fire with buckets of water, and the other attempted to save the furniture and as many of Mr. Whitney's effects as they could reach.

The blaze illuminated the country as far as the villages of Hempstead, Westbury and Garden City on the south and east and to the coast on the north.

Before the telephone was burned a message was sent to Mineola, Westbury and Hempstead, asking for aid. The fire departments were immediately called but the only one that had arrived at midnight was from Mineola.

At the clubhouse of Meadowbrook hunt club the fire was observed as soon as it started and the members of the club who are summering there hastened to the assistance of the servants. Among the number were E. D. Morgan, Stanley Mortimer, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., and Marcus Mackay. The men formed themselves into a fire brigade and fought the flames gallantly.

One message from Hempstead said that the fire might have been of incendiary origin but there is nothing to back up this statement.

Just before the fire started everything had been locked for the night and not even a servant with a lantern was about.

All the buildings are of wood and are highly inflammable. The loss on the house alone is put at $50,000.

So far as is known there were no members of the Whitney family at home when the fire started. Mr. Whitney purchased his property at Wheatley Hills in 1895. The house, a manor once owned by the Matts, the wealthy Quakers, was remodeled and improved at a cost of $30,000. The land comprising the Whitney estate covers 450 acres. Mr. Whitney's house was the ideal of country comfort. The outlines of the manor house were preserved in the remodeling and all the conveniences of a modern household added. The house contained many costly treasures which Mr. Whitney had collected during his travels.

CHELMSFORD CENTRE

TROOP F CAVALRY HELD COMPANY DRILL LAST EVENING.

Troop F Cavalry held a company drill and business meeting last evening at their quarters at the town hall, Capt. Amos Leighton presiding. There was a business session of nearly an hour to consider matters relating to the annual muster in August. The matter of catering called out a lively discussion after which it was voted by a large majority that the same course be followed as is former years, that is, that it be left in the hands of the quartermaster. There was considerable discussion as to the band to be engaged. It was voted not to hire the Dunstable band which has always accompanied Troop F to camps. It was next voted to refer the selection of a band to a committee consisting of Private Josiah Marshall, Private A. R. Lyman and Corporal Walter Perham and to borrow $150 for camp expenses, voted to appropriate $50 to entertain honorary members at headquarters. A short drill followed the business meeting.

At the Unitarian vestry last evening there was a meeting of a committee of this and the Central Congregational church to arrange for a union Sunday school picnic. It was voted to endeavor to secure Willow Dale on the 25th, 26th or 27th of this month.

THAT LIQUOR CASE

E. H. Davis of Dracut on Trial

IN THE LOWELL POLICE COURT.

Several Witnesses Heard on Both Sides.

J. J. HOGAN PROSECUTING ATTORNEY.

N. D. Pratt Counsel for Defendant.

The case of Edward H. Davis, charged with illegally keeping liquor in Dracut occupied the attention of Judge Fisher for a long period today. Lawyer John J. Hogan appeared for the prosecution and N. D. Pratt, Esq., for the defense.

The first witness called was Police Officer George F. Tucker of the town of Dracut. On Sunday afternoon, June 25, armed with a search warrant and accompanied by Officers C. F. Richardson and Judson Crawford both of Dracut, called at the Davis house about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. He told the defendant that he came with a search warrant and was about to search if there were sellable liquors on his premises. The witness then further stated that he read the search warrant on the piazza to Davis and then told Officers Crawford and Richardson to proceed with the search for liquors, and if they found any, to seize them. They started for the cellar and defendant begged witness to call the officers back. The officers came up from the cellar and were crossing the kitchen into the pantry when Davis let witness and started for Officer Richardson. "From the piazza," said the witness, "I heard Davis say something to Officer Richards in about a present. In the pantry were found in a half cider barrel containing water for cooling purposes 61 pint bottles of Harvard ale. Partly off from the kitchen was discovered a barrel containing forty-one bottles of Harvard ale and another barrel was at hand containing 61 empty bottles with Harvard ale labels on each. Asked the defendant why he had so much stuff on hand and told him that he (the witness) considered it a shame. The defendant replied that he had the liquor for his own use. After being asked how it came into his possession the defendant replied that it came to him by the Boston and Lowell express company. Informing him that the books of that company showed no such delivery he replied that he got it through the Concord and Lowell express company. On being told that the books of the latter did not show any such invoice he stuck to the latter statement. The witness testified further that he told Defendant that he must have had it in himself. The witness testified also that the defendant told him if he let up in the matter he (the witness) would not say anything by it. "My reply was that I cannot stand for anything like that. You ought to know better than to have any such stuff in the house. The defendant then asked me: 'Do you think I am the only one in the town of Dracut doing business?' and I replied: 'I don't, but I'll look after that part of it.' The defendant then replied," said the witness, "that he would get back the load seized. I then instructed my brother officers to be very careful in loading so that no bottles would be broken for I was kind of afraid that we might have to return the goods."

On the Sunday previous to June 18, he made two visits to the neighborhood of the Davis residence at 2.30 o'clock and at 5 o'clock. "On the first visit I saw four men going down the lane that approaches the premises. About five minutes afterward I observed three more men also go down the lane and when opposite the Davis house turn in to the yard. On being asked by Lawyer Hogan if there was any other house on the lane in question, witness replied that he knew of no other. At the 5 o'clock visit to the premises, the witness observed within a space of three quarters of an hour about 25 men coming from the lane that leads from the Davis residence and nine of these persons were staggering and under the influence of liquor. The witness then went on to testify that the drunken men were talking fight, using profane language, &c. At this point the witness was interrupted by an objection by Lawyer Pratt. The objection was allowed.

The cross examination then began, which brought out the fact that this was the first liquor seizure that Officer Tucker ever participated in his official capacity. It was also shown that the search warrant was made out the day previous to the seizure on June 24, and that officer Richardson was notified to be in readiness for action that day, having near Tucker's residence and Officer Crawford was not notified that a search was to be made until the morning of the seizure.

Officer Crawford was next called and his testimony was simply corroborative of the previous witness.

Officer Richardson in addition to the testimony of the other two witnesses, said that when he entered the Davis cellar he found 6 full barrels of cider, and 5 partially full. The witness testified that when he came up from the cellar the defendant said to the witness, you see all the stuff that I got is cider and if you go out of here and say that you have seen nothing, I will make you a nice present. The witness said he shook his head in the negative and looked toward Officer Tucker, giving him a nod to come forward and the seizure of the ale followed as already stated.

The other witnesses for the prosecution were Irine E. Lawrence who resides about 300 rods on a street opposite the Harris residence and Willis C. Dodge who resides on the Willow Dale road. Their testimony was principally to the observing of people coming from the much talked of lane on Sundays.

There were sixteen witnesses for the defense, which included the defendant E. H. Davis, Patrick McNamara, Fred Davis, Thomas Riley, Peter A. Murphy, James Finlon, Michael Finlon, Thomas J. Flynn Charles H. Miller, William Grosbeigel, Daniel Cameron, Charles Thompson, James McMahon, Mrs. E. H. Davis Michael Hiller.

The defendant was the first witness called on the defense. He said that he had lived in the lane leading from the Nashua road in Dracut for the last six years, and is employed in the Harvard brewery. He said that the people had a short cut through his land and that many came through once on Sunday, there may other day, because it was a short cut also to Willow Dale.

He said that he had considerable beer on his premises, and that it came on Friday before the seizure, and that it came from Boston and was intended for an outing, which was postponed on account of the rain. He stated that the men had come up in a wagon and showed him a search warrant. They entered the house and found the ale.

Cross examined: Defendant said that the bottles that were empty were left over from the last outing that he (witness) had at his house. He said to Officer Richardson that if he would go away that he would make him a present, but did not say what it would be.

Michael Hiller, chief engineer of the Harvard Brewing Co., said that he knew the defendant, and that he had been out to Davis' house. He stated that he never saw Davis sell any cider or beer.

Thomas B. Riley, a woolen weaver, said that he knew Mr. Davis and had been out to his place dozens of times and that he never saw any beer or cider sold.

James F. McMahon, an employe of the Harvard brewery knew Mr. Davis for about four year and he and the other witness's many of whom resided in Dracut, spoke highly of the defendant's character and never knew of sales being made by him. Mr. Davis was invited and he said that when the outings at his premises were over that each man was to pay his share of the outing.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Court opened at 2.30 o'clock.

Mrs. Lillian M. Davis, wife of the defendant, was the first witness called. She said that quite a number of people go through the land near her premises to go fishing and also to Willow Dale. Witness said that there was never any beer sold.

Cross-examined: Witness said that on the day of the seizure that two men went through the lane with rubber coats and rubber boots on.

Thomas J. Flynn said that he was assistant engineer at the Harvard brewery and knew Mr. Davis for two years and had an invitation to go to the outing but did not go on account of the chief engineer going.

NOT GUILTY.

About 5.30 o'clock Judge Fisher found the defendant not guilty and discharged him.

BOTH INNOCENT

O'Neil and Morrissey Discharged in Nashua.

John O'Neil and William Morrissey two young men arrested on a charge of larceny of a gold watch proved their innocence in the Nashua police court this morning and were promptly discharged.

O'Neil and Morrissey were called from their work about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the push department of the Merrimack mills and were charged with the larceny of a watch by Inspector Allen. This they promptly denied but were placed under arrest and not allowed to return to the mill to obtain their outer garments but had to wait until their apparel was brought to them and dress publicly in the mill yard. They were then taken to the Lowell police station and there detained until the arrival of Inspector Flood from Nashua who took them to that city. The watch said to have been stolen was the property of Patrick O'Brien of High street, Nashua, who invited the young men to his residence on July 3 with a party of other friends to join in celebrating the Fourth. The young men returned to their homes on July 5, and the next day they started to their work and have been daily employed since and were almost dazed when charged with the crime of larceny yesterday. To a Sun reporter today the two young men stated that even though they have proved their innocence, they feel that a stigma has been placed on their character which it will take time to efface.

ON SICK LIST.

Alderman G. B. Pierce was able to ride out for a short time yesterday. He attributed his illness to the recent intense heat.

Miss Mary E. Way, the well known school teacher of Tyler street has so far recovered from her recent severe illness as to be able to sit up a part of the time.

SCHEY SENTENCED

For Stealing $10,000 From Metropolitan Bank

Must Serve Two and One Half Years in State Prison—His Story of How the Money Was Stolen.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 13.—Philip Lambele, alias George Schey, of Chicago, who took $10,000 from the desk of the paying teller of the Metropolitan National bank on June 22, came before Judge Richardson in the superior criminal court today for arraignment and after pleading guilty, he was sent to the state prison for a term of not less than two and a half and not more than three and a half years with the first day in solitary confinement.

Lambele told Chief Inspector Watts today that he was not a professional crook. He says that when he entered the Metropolitan bank he had no intention of stealing money. He had intended to send some money to his relatives in Chicago and while passing the bank he thought he would inquire where to go to send it as he was a stranger in Boston. While he was conversing with the teller, he said, a telephone bell rang and while the official was answering the call it occurred to Lambele that by taking part of the large pile of bills on the counter he could make himself rich easily.

"I put my hand in through the window and grabbed one of the piles of money," he said. "That was all there was to it."

BRIDE BACKED OUT

When Everything Was Ready For Ceremony

NO EXPLANATION GIVEN BY BRIDE.

The Clergymen Announced the Disappointment.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SPRINGFIELD, July 13.—The staid town of Thompsonville, Conn. is in a state of excitement over the abrupt and indefinite postponement of a church wedding which had been announced for yesterday morning.

In accordance with the invitations which were issued a fortnight ago, St. Michael's church was filled in the morning with the friends and relatives of Miss Florin Pequigney, a belle in local Catholic society, and of Dr. James Austin McCarthy, a practising Meriden, Conn., physician. The appointed hour came, but no wedding march was heard. Instead Rev. Fr. T. J. Preston announced that there would be no ceremony.

Surprise was plainly indicated in every face. For a moment there was dead silence, then a buzz of excited comment in undertone. The church was soon emptied, but those present lingered outside to discuss the unusual occurrence and speculate on the probable cause.

At the bride's home on Church street a wedding cake lay uncut. The dining room showed evidence of preparations for a wedding breakfast, roses and cut flowers being strewn about in profusion, and in one of the parlors was a beautiful array of wedding presents.

The bride's wedding gown and trousseau were in readiness. Her sister, Miss Rosalie Pequigney, who was to have been bridesmaid, and her brother, were astounded, but the intended bride gave no reason for her strange action.

PRACTICE SQUIRT

THE BUCKETS THROW A STREAM OF 150 FEET.

If the Burkes pump at Pepperell as they did last night at the rear of the police station one of the big prizes ought to come their way. With a crew of about 30 men on the brakes they pushed a stream through the air to a distance of about 300 feet. Foreman John C. O'Neil had charge of the brakes while Hoseman Welch and a substitute for Hoseman McGinnis directed the stream. The boys made several good throws and they were all satisfied.

TO TEWKSBURY.

A delegation of Sisters from the French convent went on a special to Tewksbury Centre for a day's outing yesterday.

Doctor and Cook Agree

The following opinions of high authorities on hygiene and cooking, express the views of all members of the medical and culinary professions.

"Cottolene oil has a direct dietetic value; it aids both digestion and assimilation.....Cottolene is a thoroughly wholesome combination of fresh beef suet and pure cottonseed oil is eminently worthy to supersede lard for culinary use."
J. Hobart Egbert, A. M., M. D., Ph. D.
Editor Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette.

"Vegetable oils (such as cottonseed oil) are growing fast in favor with educated housewives and intelligent cooks.....
The desirable substitute (Cottolene) is purer, more healthful and economical than lard, which it has supplanted."
Marion Harland,
The famous lecturer and cooking teacher.

LADIES' HATS FOR SUMMER WEAR

Summer headgear for ladies' wear is certainly more stylish, appropriate, and comfortable this season than ever before, and it's less costly, too, than we've ever known it to be in all the long years of our experience. Our milliners trim more hats now than ever before, and it's all because they do it better and cheaper than others. It's the period between seasons at present, and in order to keep millinery artists at work, we have decided to give Lowell a series of millinery surprises this week. Come in and get our prices.

WILLIAM W. PELTIER, Co C. Going to the Philippines.

TWO VOLUNTEERS

The First to Leave Lowell For Manila

WM. PELTIER AND ALEX DUBE

Of Co. G. and 3rd. Nebraska Regiment.

The two men who are the first volunteers to leave Lowell for the Philippines are William N. Peltier of Co. G, and Alexander Dube of the Third Nebraska regiment. Mr. Peltier went to Porto Rico with his company and was on active duty while the company remained there, having escaped the sickness which prevailed. He had been a conductor on the Lowell and Suburban railway and resided at 130 Avon street. Mr. Dube went to Nebraska last summer with the intention of visiting the Mississippi exposition and while there enlisted in the Nebraska regiment just mentioned. With his regiment he went to Havana and served until the end of the war, leaving Cuba last December and receiving an honorable discharge in Augusta, Ga., on the 11th of May last, after which he returned to his home in this city, 306 West Sixth street.

Both men enlisted in Boston yesterday for service in Colonel Rice's regiment, and were mustered in. They were allowed until Monday to get ready and on that day they will start for Plattsburg where they will embark on a transport for the Philippines. They are two very healthy and rugged young men and ready to meet whatever fate befall them in the service of their country. Mr. Peltier stated that the officials in Boston assured them that if killed in the war, every effort would be made to return their bodies to their families in this country.

Both men seemed to take considerable satisfaction in this and stated to a Sun reporter that while they were determined to go to the Philippines, they realized that they were taking serious chances and that they might never return; still they are willing to risk their lives in defense of the flag under Colonel Rice.

GAMBLER'S DEATH

Born in Vermont, Became a Gambler

B. D. MAXHAM'S STRANGE CAREER.

Made Millions at Faro and Gave to Charity.

WAS PRESIDENT OF SEVERAL BANKS.

Gave His Last Days to Philantropic Work.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 14—Pious people to whom the story of his wicked past has always seemed apocryphal stood about the grave of Benjamin D. Maxham at Vineland, N. J., yesterday and prayed for his soul while the clods tumbled on his coffin.

Death was not the first metamorphosis that had come to Maxham, nor the greatest. A more complete, more incredible one was when years ago he came with millions out of that wild was where he was king of gamblers and began to buy and win his way, first into the esteem of the Vinelanders then into the kingdom of heaven.

In the first he was plainly successful and the Vinelanders believe in their hearts that by his years of upright living, church work and unassuming charity he had blotted out past transgressions.

The measureless money he had made by gambling he had used in good deeds of which few persons ever knew. From master of full 50 faro banks in the mining towns of the west, where men staked their last ounce and lost to him, he graduated to the presidency of a national bank in the quiet New Jersey village where on Sunday last he finished the game of life. He quit winner by $5,000,000 but he could take none of it away, for as "Dupely" Dodge, who dealt bank when Maxham was a Vermont lad in roundabouts, used to say: "There is no pocket in a shroud."

At the last Maxham was trustee of the Presbyterian church. He helped found the New Jersey training school for feeble minded children. He had learned to distinguish shams, as men never learn it in the cloister.

From his boyhood home in Woodstock, Vt., Maxham ran away to sea, deserted the ship in Brazil, worked his way home, learned photography and wandered up and down the Pacific slopes coining money making pictures.

Road agents robbed him of $55,000 and every rag of clothing. Shouting through the woods he was heard by a German, who with his wife and another woman, was journeying about with a gin mill on wheels. Maxham waited, wrapped in a blanket, while the women made him a suit out of old sacking.

His chemicals enabled him to clarify the pedler's bad whiskey and he joined the firm. One morning the wife, in jealousy, shot her husband and fled, and Maxham owned the horse, wagon, whisky and goodwill of the outfit.

That was the nucleus of $7,600,000 he left the other day. Reaching Virginia City, he transferred the chattels from wheels to a lean-to, and called it "The miners' supply house." He handled dust for the miners and kept part of it as commission. Then he started a faro bank, where they might stake the rest and lose it. He prospered and his den was famous.

Maxham conducted a freight and stage business from Virginia City and Cheyenne and in his employ was an army of men and horses.

In 1852 he broke every faro bank in Frisco and then established faro banks of his own there. From that time on he was green baize monarch. At one time he was sole creditor and owner of the entire bonded indebtedness of the state of Montana.

Why is it that no merchant can build up a large and successful business nowadays without advertising in the newspapers? Because people look to the newspapers for the announcements of the merchants. The dealer who does not make announcements to the people through the daily papers is soon forgotten by the buying public and quickly left behind in the race for business.

Talk to the people through the columns of The Sun and they will bear you in mind when they need anything in your line.

The Sun having the largest circulation in Lowell is therefore the cheapest and most effective advertising medium in the city. It is unquestionably

That episode between Senators Chandler and Gallinger will have some significance for democrats in the next campaign.

The campaign for license next year has commenced. Several of the papers are printing license campaign articles daily. They are unanimous in two things, first that the no license law is a failure, second that the police are not to blame for this and that the salvation of the liquor dealers depends upon a return to license next year.

It is amusing to find Nashua merchants kicking against an easier and shorter electric route to that city from Lowell, on the ground that it would injure trade with Nashua merchants. Well, if it does the Nashua merchants will be compelled to offer as good bargains as the Lowell merchants. That will result in better stores, better trade and less travelling expenses.

Between George Fred Williams and John R. McLean of Ohio there is a contest for the democratic nomination for vice president. It has started early and will no doubt be a lively one. The fact that Williams is from the East will probably stand in his favor, although an Ohio candidate might be useful in cutting down the majority for McKinley in that state. There is practically no opposition to Bryan for the first place on the ticket.

The Citizen talking of the war in the Philippines says:

"Of course it is going to take a great deal of money and many of our patriotic countrymen will give up their lives in the cause. But isn't it worth it? Is not the establishment of American sovereignty and the bringing of a higher civilization to these misguided people (who already use their superior Mausers with considerable skill) worth the expenditure of millions and the slaughter of thousands of our fellow countrymen?

These misguided people are proving themselves the superiors of some of the Americans who would rob them of their liberty. Americans are the misguided people in this case.

GEN. AGUINALDO'S GREAT SPEECH

The address of General Aguinaldo at the recent celebration of the declaration of the Filipino independence marks him as a man of education and a statesman. It breathes the spirit of patriotism and appeals to the national pride and honor of the natives in a manner that will induce them to lay down their lives if necessary rather than submit to alien sway.

Grattan's famous apostrophe to his country after he had secured her legislative independence, "Esto Perpetua," is not more eloquent than the opening sentence of Aguinaldo's speech, when he apostrophizes his country thus:

"Beloved daughter of the ardent sun of the tropics, commended by Providence to the care of noble Spain, be not ungrateful to her salute who warmed you with the breath of her own culture and civilization.

It is true that she sought to crush thy aspiration for independence as a loving mother opposes separation forever from the daughter of her bosom. This but proves the excess of affection and love Spain feels for thee.

"My country, delicate flower of the east, scarcely eight months weaned from the breast of thy mother, thou hast dared to brave a great and powerful navy such as the United States, after barely organizing and disciplining thy little army. Yet we reply we are slaves to none nor will we allow ourselves to be deluded by soft words at the peril of our independence."

Other portions of his speech reminds one forcibly of Demosthenes cautioning his people against the wiles of Philip of Macedon. The following is an example, although in English it has not the polish or the rhetorical finish that it undoubtedly had in the Spanish tongue, in which it was delivered:

"We might well accept this autonomy America offers, but what can we do with it if our ambition is independence and we are to accept it only to later overthrow by force of our arms the sovereignty of America? As I believe it is the intention of the autonomists to make use of treachery and deceit. We cannot accept such a procedure.

"We do not wish to be traitors afterward. We wish to show our character of frankness and sincerity and nothing more. Let us avoid the example of those natives who having at one time been colonists, accept autonomy to enable them to make their work surer once everything was prepared.

"History has given us an example of this in recent events. Let us persist in our idea, which is only the legitimate and noble aspiration of a people desirous at all costs to preserve their national honor spotless and as pure as crystal."

Those who undertake to call this Filipino leader a semi-civilized dictator seeking his own aggrandizement and ready to sell out his people, are deluding themselves and those who believe in them. There is not an American general in the Philippines today who could make such a forcible speech as that of Aguinaldo, from which we have just quoted. Is it any wonder that the people are so ready to die for their freedom from such an exhortation and such appeals to their patriotism and national pride?

This people may be conquered but not before a vast number of them are killed and as soon as they are able to reassert their power in a rebellion they will do so. Such a people cannot be oppressed. Who can deny them the right to fight for independence, so dear to every American heart. No American who is true to the principles of the constitution will favor a war of conquest against such a people in the face of justice and right without any plea other than greed of gain, extension of trade, the desire of an opportunity to rob a nation struggling to be free.

These directions if followed will it is declared cause the swelling to subside, and the pain to disappear without further trouble and ill effects.

OFFER REJECTED

OF CADETSHIP BY DEIGNAN THE MERRIMAC HERO.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Secretary Long has received a letter from Osear F. Deignan declining the appointment to the naval academy offered him in accordance with an act of congress.

Young Deignan's declination is due, it is said, to his belief that he would find it extremely difficult to pass the examination for admission. With a view to aiding him in every possible way, the secretary offered to permit him to enter the academy without the usual entrance examination, but while appreciating the concession, the young man deemed it expedient to give up altogether his dreams of a career in the service.

Deignan's last duty was on the Asiatic station, from which point he was ordered to return to the United States and was mustered out that he might accept a cadetship at the academy. The department has no idea whether Deignan will reenter the service but should he do so, care will undoubtedly be taken to promote him rapidly and finally present him with a commission as a chief warrant officer, provided, of course, that his conduct and attention to duty should merit such action. Beyond the advancement given to each enlisted man of the Merrimac's crew by the department, Deignan was the only one who received substantial reward by congress.

It is understood that when congress assembles, the president will re-submit the nomination for advancement of Naval Constructor Hobson and it is presumed that favorable action will be taken.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Anna Belle Sullivan, assisted by Miss Blanche Piper, celebrated her seventh birthday by entertaining about twenty of her young friends Wednesday evening at her home on South Highland street. Ice cream, cake and candy were served during the evening. The merry party dispersed, leaving behind them many tokens of friendship as remembrances of the happy event.

THE BIRTHDAY

OF MISS MAUDE MILLS OF BEACON STREET PLEASANTLY OBSERVED.

The twenty-first birthday of Miss Maude F. Mills, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Mills was pleasantly observed last evening at the residence of the parents, 535 Beacon street. The enjoyable event took the form of a lawn party and was held upon the spacious grounds surrounding the residence. Japanese lanterns were hung in an artistic manner about the premises and their soft glow descended upon one of the merriest parties ever held in that vicinity.

There were about 75 young people who responded to Miss Mill's invitation and they passed an evening of unalloyed pleasure amid the beautiful surroundings. On the lawn there were pretty tents arranged, from which refreshments were dispensed throughout the evening. Music and games helped to pass the time merrily and the young lady who had reached her majority received many words of congratulation, besides a number of useful and pleasing tokens of esteem on the part of her friends. It was midnight ere the happy assemblage dispersed to their homes.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

BOSTON OFFICER STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14.—While patrolling his beat about 11 last night, Patrolman Wood of division 5 came upon the prostrate body of a man on Crawford street. He was startled to find that it was that of a brother official, Patrolman Thomas O. Magrath, 39, 380 Main street, connected with the same division.

Wood saw that Magrath was still alive and he called the patrol wagon, in which Magrath was taken to the station, where a physician found him suffering from convulsions and general paralysis.

His removal was ordered to the city hospital, where his case was found to be serious and his name was at once put on the dangerous list.

SOLDIERS SICK

Death Rate Never Less Than 20 Per Cent

NEBRASKA REGIMENT SUFFERED THE WORST

Has Only 200 Men in Its Ranks.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 14.—Advices received from the transport Newport from Manila, dated June 17, are as follows:

The volunteers are greatly debilitated in consequence of their hard campaigning through three months of tropic weather. Since the middle of May no volunteer regiment has had a sick list of less than 20 per cent. Most of them at present have 25 per cent, 30, and a few of the regiments have less than one third of their number on duty. The Nebraska regiment has suffered the worst. It came in from San Fernando a few days ago with less than 200 men in the ranks. The South Dakota followed yesterday with 275 men on duty. The Montana and Kansas regiments at San Fernando have not more than 280 available men each. The morning after the Washington troops took Morong only 253 responded to roll call. The Washington men have been engaged since March 12 in preventing the insurgent armies of the north and south from forming a junction at Laguna Bay, and they engaged at the same time with the enemy in opposite directions.

Twenty-four of the Nebraska officers are on the sick list, and the Montana, Washington and South Dakota regiments show twenty or more officers in the hospitals or sick in their quarters. These regiments have borne the brunt of the fighting. Their losses in killed and wounded ranged from 160 in the Montana regiment to 230 Nebraska men. The loss of the Kansas regiment is second to that of Nebraska, while the Washington and South Dakota regiments follow closely, each with losses of about 200.

The Oregon regiment suffered severely.

Of the regulars the Third artillery is the heaviest loser, its killed and wounded numbering 123.

HAMMER THROWING CHALLENGE.

J. C. Coffey, the crack Irish weight thrower, who landed in this country about four weeks ago, has written a letter to the management of the St. Augustin's Games, which take place on the Locust street grounds, Boston, Saturday, July 22, offering to meet John Flanagan, the world's champion hammer-thrower, in a special match at throwing the hammer, but he specifies that it must be from a nine-foot circle, as Gaelic rules prescribe and not from a seven-foot circle, as our rules call for. He has met Flanagan twice in this country and was defeated on both occasions.

His best throw with Flanagan was 140 feet, though he maintains that he can do 160 feet from the larger circle, which is better than Flanagan's world's record of 158 feet 11-2 inches made here last year. Coffey is six feet four inches tall and towers above the present champion.

THE TALBOT BAND

Gave Highly Entertaining Concert Last Evening

The concert at North Billerica by the Talbot Mills band last evening attracted a very large attendance, perhaps the largest of the season. Not only was Lowell well represented but all the towns for miles around. The street railway service was much better than on previous occasions, but still there was room for improvement, judging from the expression of many persons who have up to date attended all of the open-air concerts at North Billerica. "They will never go there any more" if the conductors do not stop crowding people in between seats and on the sideboards. There is no necessity for it when cars are to follow in quick succession.

Of the concert, nothing can be said but praise. The program was carefully selected and each number excellently rendered, meriting the hearty plaudits of the large throng. Worthy of special mention was the clarinet solo, "Sonnambula" by Mr. John Fairbrother, whose clever rendition was applauded to the echo.

After the concert a collation was served in the vestry of the Baptist church to the members of the band by the Ladies' Aid society. The committee in charge was as follows: Mrs. Walter Holt, chairman; Mrs. Charles Barker, Mrs. H. W. Sheldon, Mrs. Frank Roone, and Mrs. Jennie Perry.

It might be here stated that it would be wisdom on the part of the many bicyclists who attend these concerts to procure lanterns for their machines. Many "lights" however, were noticed on wheels last evening.

IN THIRD PLACE

The Bostons Took Another Drop Yesterday.

YOUNG GARVIN PITCHED STRONG GAME

Collins Gave a Fine Exhibition.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14.—Chicago administered a terrific thumping to Pitcher Lewis yesterday and thereby shoved Boston into third place. Philadelphia moving again into second place. Boston is but two points ahead of Chicago. Brooklyn and Boston each lost a glorious opportunity to gain on the other.

The Chicagos started out with two triples and a single in the first inning after two hands were out, two singles, a double and a triple in the second and two singles and a triple in the fifth with a base on balls thrown in. That enabled them to score nine runs.

For the visitors the elongated Garvin was in the box, a young giant, standing 6 feet 3 inches who pitched his second league game and was very successful. He had excellent command and was sufficiently puzzling to keep the home team from scoring except for one inning.

The weather was again perfect and a crowd of fine proportions was out to see the last of the series and although victory perched on the other side, could not but enjoy the sharp and free hitting and excellent fielding with which the game abounded. The Bostons made two splendid double plays. The Chicago infield had a great deal to do, the second and third baseman and shortstop having 19 assists and 25 chances.

Young Green did some great hitting, making two triples. Mertes also had a jubilee with a triple, and two singles and electrified the crowd by stealing home while Lewis was pitching the ball. Lange hit splendidly and played a fine game at first. Stahl did the best batting for Boston with a triple and two singles, and Lowe. Frisbee and Lewis also did good work with the stick.

The score by innings:

Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	0	0	—4

Earned runs, Chicago 8, Boston 1. Two-base hit, Donahue. Three-base hits Green 2, Lange, Mertes, Stahl. Sacrifice hits Mertes. Stolen bases, Lange, Mertes, Dement. First base on balls, Lange, Wolverton, McCormick, Tenney 2. First base on errors, Chicago 1. Left on bases, Chicago 7, Boston 5. Struck out, Frisbie. Double plays, Long and Tenney; Long, Lowe and Tenney. Time—2h. 10m. Umpires, Messrs. Lynch and Connolly. Attendance, 3500.

The other games resulted as follows:
St. Louis 8, Brooklyn 2.
Philadelphia 5, Cleveland 1.
Pittsburg 9, New York 5.

CITY HALL NOTES.

The city treasurer received yesterday notice from the clerk of courts in Cambridge that a satisfactory bond had been filed by the Boston Paving company in the suit brought against them by John Holland of Lowell, and the attachment in force on the money due the company from the city of Lowell to July 1, amounting to slightly over $5370, was removed. The money was drawn by the company.

BIGAMIST DOCTOR

Requistion For His Extradition From California

By Associated Press to The Sun.

AUGUSTA, Me., July 13.—Governor Powers today granted a requisition for of Fall River, Mass., on the charge of the surrender of Dr. Walter R. Gwynne bigamy, alleged to have been committed in Dover, Me.

Eva May Lake of Fall River was sent to Corinth, by her father, Edward Lake of Fall River, to separate her from Gwynne. Gwynne came to Maine and married the girl, after which they went to California. Gwynne had a no divorce and it is alleged that he committed bigamy by the second marriage.

The Governor would not grant the requisition until Mr. Lake had guaranteed there would be no expense to the state.

MILITARY NOTES

The Coming Outing of Company M.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE LAST NIGHT.

Dewey Grove to be the Scene of Outing.

A special meeting of Co. M was held last evening to make final arrangements for the anniversary of the surrender of Santiago in which the company took part a year ago. The observance of the day will take the form of an outing at Dewey Grove next Monday afternoon, the party leaving the armory on special electrics at 1 o'clock. In addition to the present members of the company, all of the men who were with the company at Santiago are invited to be present and participate in the day's festivities. They are requested to wear their Khaki uniforms if they have them. An interesting program of sports has been arranged, which will open with a ball game between teams from the company captained by Privates Hildreth and John Scott; the other events will include 100 yards' dash, half mile running race, high jump, hop, step and jump, potato race and three-legged race. Suitable prizes have been procured for the winners of the different events. At the conclusion of the sports dinner will be served and the festivities of the day will conclude with dancing until 10 o'clock. The arrangements for the occasion are in charge of an efficient committee consisting of Captain Mitten, Lieutenants Gillow and McNulty, Sergeants Howard, Caldwell and Ralph Hill, Corporal Dickey, Musician Oliver Fiske, Privates Scott, Hildreth and Carr.

It is stated that Major Greig would willingly accept a captaincy in any of the new regiments. It goes without saying he would make an excellent man for such a place. An appointment of this kind, however, would probably terminate his life as a civilian. He has always leaned toward army life and would like nothing better than a chance for permanent service.

That malaria stays with one is indicated in the fact that several of Company M's soldiers have had chills recently. Lieut. McNulty has never been the same man and his physicians say it will be a long time before he will get it entirely out of his system.

CYCLING NEWS

There was a party of five cyclists who started for Tewksbury Centre about half past seven Wednesday evening, that had pretty hard luck. One got a puncture, one had his tire blown out and a third broke his forks. They are beginning to think that Tewksbury Centre is a hoodoo.

Tom Linton, the widely known English middle-distance rider, accompanied by his manager, Dudley Marks, and Pacemaker and Motor Expert Cabaliot, arrived in Boston early yesterday morning. This is the second visit of Linton and Marks to America during recent years, so that both were pleased to be welcomed by many friends they have made in Boston cycledom.

Thomas Harrison, a 16-year-old boy, of New York, is credited with riding a paced mile in 1.41. He wants to race any amateur five miles, preferring to meet Le Roy See, the amateur skater and cyclist, who is proving a fast rider behind pace. Charles T. Earl of the Kings' County Wheelmen says he will accept Harrison's challenge.

The other members of the committee on resolutions are John S. Richardson of Boston; Hon. Wm. Reynolds, Marblehead; F. L. Dean, of Worcester; and W. B. Lawrence of Medford.

The general caucuses will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, September 26 and 27 and the representative caucuses, Tuesday and Wednesday Oct. 10 and 11.

HORSES WANTED

FOR USE OF CAVALRY IN THE PHILIPPINES.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—A despatch has been received from General Otis requesting that there be sent to the Philippines, 2500 horses in order that a brigade of cavalry may be organized for use at the end of the rainy season. General Otis has tried the horses of Manila and near-by countries but none of them seem to be available for cavalry. It is the intention of Secretary Alger to have the mounts carefully selected and he thinks the animals from the southern states, not too heavy, but tough and wiry will be the best.

GALLINGER HEARING

Only One Witness at Today's Session.

Captain Clifford Knew Nothing of the Assessment Circular—A Written Statement Secured From Wm. F. Thayer.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CONCORD, N. H., July 13.—Neither Senator Chandler nor Senator Gallinger was present when the hearing was resumed this morning, the only ones in attendance being the commissioners, the newspaper men and the sole witness, whom it had been impossible to procure, Captain Thomas F. Clifford, a clerk in the republican state headquarters during the campaigns of 1896 and 1898. Captain Clifford testified that in 1898 he was largely occupied with his duties as an officer of the First New Hampshire Volunteers, and was at the rooms but a fraction of each day. He had especial charge of the vote canvassing and speaker assignment departments, and knew little of what else was done at headquarters. He knew nothing about the assessment circulars, and never saw one until this morning when the commissioners handed him their copy. In 1896, he said, he thought the assessment circulars were sent out by the chairman of the committee, John A. Spalding, personally. He did not know that any were sent to Federal office-holders, but thought one was sent to United States Judge Edgar Aldrich.

Special Agent Wales secured written statements this morning from Secretary of State Edward N. Pearson, William F. Thayer and others which are to be read at the afternoon session of the commission.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED

By Rear End Collision of Trains

FORTUNATELY NO ONE WAS INJURED.

Reports Vary as to Cause of Accident.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SOUTH ACTON, Mass., July 13.—Traffic on the Fitchburg road was blocked at this point for two hours today, by a rear end collision between two freight trains.

An unusually long east bound freight train had hauled up near the South Acton station for water. A fast through freight train which followed came on and struck the rear end of the first train. The engine was battered by the contact but the engineer and fireman jumped and escaped injury.

Reports vary as to the cause of the accident, some claiming that the rear train was not flagged when the other stopped for water and others stating that the engineer of the rear train was making his first trip and had confused the signals.

BARTER MISSING

THE FORMER TREASURER OF WORCESTER LEFT HOME.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 13.—William Barter, who was treasurer of the city of Worcester for over 25 years, retiring last January left his home, on Tuesday morning, saying he was going for a short walk and has not since returned. He is 75 years old and had not been in good health for some time. His mind has been affected and it is supposed he wandered away while in a state of mental aberration.

Scrofula to Consumption.

Any one predisposed to Scrofula can never be healthy and vigorous. This taint in the blood naturally drifts into Consumption. Being such a deep-seated blood disease, Swift's Specific is the only known cure for Scrofula, because it is the only remedy which can reach the disease.

Scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild when only 18 months old. Shortly after breaking out it spread rapidly all over her body. The scabs on the sores would peel off on the slightest touch, and the odor that would arise made the atmosphere of the room sickening and unbearable. The disease next attacked the eyes, and we feared she would lose her sight. Eminent physicians from the surrounding country were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent, and gave it as their opinion that the case was hopeless and impossible to save the child's eyesight. It was then that we decided to try Swift's Specific. That medicine at once made a speedy and complete cure. She is now a young lady, and has never had a sign of the disease to return.

MRS. RUTH BERKELEY, Salina, Kan.

Scrofula is an obstinate blood disease, and is beyond the reach of the average blood medicine. Swift's Specific

S.S.S. For The Blood

is the only remedy equal to such deep-seated diseases; it goes down to the very foundation and forces out every taint. It is purely vegetable, and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no mercury, potash or other mineral substance whatever.

RICE IN BOSTON

The Former Colonel of the Sixth

LOOKING OVER RECRUITING STATIONS

Many of His Former Comrades May Enlist.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 13.—Col. Edmund Rice, who will command the new 26th regiment, arrived in town today. He comes to look over the recruiting stations and to assist possibly in the enlistment of the regiment. It is expected that he will establish recruiting stations in other parts of New England where a disposition has been shown to enter the service. It is stated that many of the Sixth regiment, Massachusetts volunteers, which Col. Rice commanded in Porto Rico, will join the ranks.

HEARING GIVEN

ON THE BOSTON PAVING COMPANY ATTACHMENT.

A hearing was given Wednesday before Charles H. Conant, master in chancery on the petition of the Boston Paving company, to have released the attachment placed on city money due them, incident to the suit for personal damages.

The hearing lasted from 9.30 to 12.30. At the latter time the Paving company officials had not satisfied the master as to the reliability of the bond of the Philadelphia Surety company, which they represented. They wanted to go to Boston for more evidence. E. D. McVey, Esq., counsel for the attaching party consented. The hearing was adjourned to 2.30 this afternoon with the attachment still in force.

WELCOME TO OUR ATHLETES.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 13.—The newspapers here extend the most cordial welcome to the Yale and Harvard athletes, who arrived at Southampton yesterday on board the American line steamer St. Louis, and who are to go into training at Brighton. The papers express the hope that the visit will be a success in every way except in the contests, where, however, they admit the trans-Atlantic university men will give a good account of themselves.

WORK OF BURGLARS.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HARWICH, Conn., July 13.—Burglars entered the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad station here last night and secured a small sum of money. A large number of tickets and several mileage books were not taken. The break is supposed to have been the work of a gang who have been operating in the Cape district for some time.

Every Dinner's a Feast

If the dessert is made from Keystone Silver White Gelatine. An almost unlimited variety of desserts can be made from it—jellies, charlottes, puddings and sherbets—every one daintily delicious, wholesomely light and delicate. And all are so easily and quickly prepared, and the results are so sure, that the making affords as much pleasure as the eating.

KEYSTONE SILVER WHITE GELATINE

is the purest gelatine that can be made, and the most economical to use. It goes further than any other and requires least time and no trouble to prepare it.

Ask your grocer for it; if he cannot supply you send us his name and we will mail you a sample package (makes one pint of jelly) and recipes by the leading cooks of the country.

Full size box mailed for 15 cents.

Seaman was 53 years old and was a native of Sweden where he had a wife. He was sentenced from Worcester to serve four months for drunkenness.

HE SURRENDERED

Edward Brogan Wanted on the Charge of Murder

HE CLAIMS HE WAS JUSTIFIED

In Shooting as the Man Annoyed Him.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LANCASTER, Pa., July 13.—Edwin J. Brogan, of Fulton Township, a carpenter, 45 years of age, with a wife and three children, came to this city today and surrendered himself to the district attorney, the charge against him being murder.

On Tuesday evening, R. Marion Wiley, aged 20 years, and a companion named John Wills, neighbors of Brogan's, passed the latter's place and threw stones at his dog. They started to run, when the crack of a pistol was heard and Wiley received a 38-calibre ball in his left lung. He died yesterday afternoon. Brogan claims that the young man had been in the habit of annoying him and that he was fully justified in doing the shooting.

Robert—Talk about psychology as an aid to teachers! There is no measurement of psychological facts and therefore no psychology which is antagonistic to or will in any way conflict with the psychology of introspection. The methods are more developed but the general aim is the same—a purely qualitative analysis of the inner life; no quantitative calculation. That should settle it.

It is supposed that the move is made with the idea of influencing the people toward Gov. Pingree's municipal ownership scheme, which has for its object the institution of three-cent fares.

VISITED BREWERY

AGENTS FOR HARVARD BEER INSPECT THE PLANT.

A party of agents of the Harvard Brewery and their friends from Natick, Worcester and Boston, to number of 75 visited the plant of the concern yesterday and were royally entertained by General Manager Halloway who was ably assisted as host by Local Agent W. H. Harrigan, and the company's celebrated travelling representative, George Rowley, formerly local agent. The Natick party came in a special train over the New York, New Haven & Hartford railway and backed in at the brewery arriving about 11 o'clock. A fine German lunch was served and later in the day the Page company served dinner.

In the afternoon the party took a ride to Lakeview, in special electric cars, returning to the brewery about 4 o'clock. They were shown all through the great plant and all expressed surprise and admiration at its size and facilities. The Natick party left at 6 o'clock. Among the visitors were Rep. T. F. Sullivan, J. F. Sullivan, S. E. Hoey, T. F. Linsky, Selectman D. J. Murphy, A. J. Doon, J. A. Quesnil, P. Doherty, W. Perry, H. McDonald, Jr., J. V. Murray, C. E. Hagg, Dr. Lewis, Dr. W. O. Copithorn, all of Natick; L. F. Gould of South Framingham; Charles C. Henry of Wellesley Hills; R. C. Erb, Boston agent of the Harvard Brewing Co.; J. V. Monvay, Worcester agent; J. W. ELECTRIC WIRES

May Soon be Placed Under Ground

GROWING SENTIMENT FAVORS PROPOSITION

Wire Inspector McElholm Estimates Cost.

There is growing sentiment in favor of underground wires in Lowell for the purpose of doing away for good with the danger from fire and fatality that lurks in the net works of the overhead wires.

Already the city council and its committee on electric wires have taken up the matter, and Wire Inspector McElholm is working hard in the right direction.

A great friend of the new movement is Alderman Pence whose most unfortunate illness prevents him from paying any further attention to municipal matters for some time to come.

It is proposed if possible to put all electric wires out trolley wires and then feed wires under ground. It will cost almost nothing to place the telephone wires under ground, for over a year ago the N. E. Telephone Co., anticipating the movement, placed conduits in the streets of Lowell, and when officially requested to will undoubtedly place its wires in the conduits.

The committee on wires recently took the matter in hand, and requested Wire Inspector McElholm to furnish estimates to the cost of the conduits.

Inspector McElholm's report to the committee was as follows:

Estimate of comparative cost of wrought iron, cement lined and vitrified clay conduits, laid in concrete.

COST OF CONDUIT CONSTRUCTION LAID UNDER BLOCK PAVING.

1	$0.60	$0.59	$0.40
4	1.72	1.40	1.24
6	2.19	1.88	1.68
8	3.04	2.40	2.00
12	4.32	3.36	2.76
24	7.68	5.76	4.32
30	9.60	6.98	4.80

It will be seen from the table that these types of conduits come in the following order, the vitrified clay conduit being the cheapest:

1. Vitrified clay.
2. Cement lined.
3. Wrought iron.

This is due mainly to the difference in the cost of the ducts, the vitrified clay duct costing about five cents a foot, the cement lined pipe seven cents a foot, and the wrought iron pipe fourteen cents a foot. Owing to the manner in which the vitrified ducts are laid, less concrete is required than with the cement lined and wrought iron conduits, thus reducing the cost. The cost of laying conduits even the same size will vary largely in the different streets and in different sections of the city, owing to the work being done under different conditions in relation to the character of the soil and the obstacles in the shape of water mains, gas mains, sewers, conduits, etc., which may be encountered during the progress of the work. The cost of the trench-work excavating, back filling and paving is the variable quantity which enters largely into an estimate of this kind, and the above figures can only be taken to apply to conduits laid during favorable weather, and under average conditions. The cost under more difficult conditions might easily be increased 10, 20 or even 30 per cent.

The cost of the subway will increase with the number of manholes which must be provided, a manhole 5x5x6 feet deep, costing about $80.

I have been able to obtain the exact cost of laying a 4 duct cement lined conduit under block paving in one of the streets of the Boston district, the work being done by a company wishing to operate the same.

Feet of conduit estimated, 1481 feet.
Total cost, $1750.
Cost per foot, $1.20.

The conditions here are rather favorable. The amount paid by one of the companies for a 31 duct conduit of Camp term cotta tile is as follows:

Feet of conduit, 225 feet.
Total cost, $1116.
Cost per foot, $4.96.

The conduit is laid in a macadamized street. As the work was let out by contract the cost of the same was probably less.

Very few wrought iron conduits have been laid, and these laid lately have been laid without concrete. The estimate on the cost of wrought iron conduits is based mainly on the difference in the cost of the cement lined and wrought iron pipe.

Thus the cost will be comparatively light and offers no barrier to the speedy work of laying the wires under ground. It will be necessary to place the electric light wires on an opposite side of the street from the telephone conduits.

Wire Inspector McElholm is working hard on the matter and if successful in Lowell a lasting fame. his attempt will have done the city of

YOUNG KLEPTOMANIAC

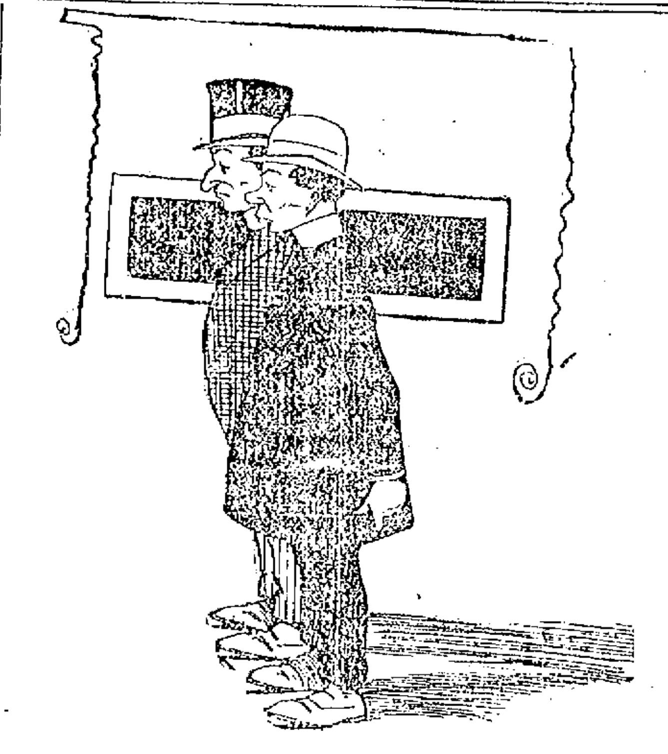

LITTLE MAMIE HARRINGTON COULDN'T HELP STEALING.

Little Mamie Harrington of Hale street, who has been found to be a juvenile kleptomaniac, has been placed in a Boston home by Agent Richardson of the Humane society, with the hope that she may be broken of her growing bad habit. The little girl is only 10 years old, and is the daughter of respectable parents. Her mind is probably in this particular line, for try as they might her parents could not prevent her from stealing.

Monday she entered a house in Belvidere and stole a pocketbook containing a small sum of money. The purse was later recovered but the money had been spent. Tuesday afternoon the girl went into a house in Mansur street and took another purse which she found under a young woman's hat in the hall. This money she also spent.

The child's mother appealed to Agent Richardson, who took the girl with him and she showed where she got the purses. Her mother also said the girl had within a fortnight taken four skirts from yards in Stackpole street. She said she found them and her mother returned them. With good care and under the watchfulness of a good institution the little pilferer, it is hoped, will grow up an honest woman.

TO KILL HIS WIFE

Terrible Death of a Fall River Drunkard

NEIGHBORS RUSHED TO THE SCENE

In Time to Save the Woman's Life.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

FALL RIVER, July 22.—While in a drunken frenzy, Martin Herron, 25 years old, so severely beat his wife about the head and face with a flatiron that it is feared she will die from the effects of her wounds.

Herron is a machinist and lives at 375 Burlington street. He had been acting in a peculiar manner all day but the neighbors thought little of it until about 10.30 last night, when they were aroused by a terrible scream from the Herron house and a number of them rushing in, held the maniac until the police arrived.

The house was in disorder while on the floor lay the victim of the man's fury, bleeding freely from her wounds. There were four children in the house at the time and the eldest, a boy of 7, said: "I saw papa strike mamma with a flatiron." Herron has been arrested before and left jail only two weeks ago after serving a term for a wife beating. At the police station he admitted that he tried to kill her with a flatiron.

FOR LABOR DAY

Committee Wants Common For Sports.

A meeting of the committee on commons was called for last night to act on several matters, but only Alderman Libby and Councilman Dillon put in an appearance, and an adjournment was taken until next Monday night.

A delegation of labor union men was present for the purpose of asking the committee's permission to use the South common for athletic events in connection with the Labor Day celebration. They will make their request at the next meeting. The amount appropriated by the city council for Labor Day is $600, an advance of $200 over last year. The athletic sports last year were held at Mountain Rock grove, and an admission fee was charged. This was necessary because nearly all the city appropriation was expended on the parade and nearly as much more was spent out of the labor union treasury. With an appropriation of $600 the labor men are satisfied that they can pay for everything without calling on their own funds and they believe the athletics should be held where the taxpayers will have an opportunity to see them free of cost. They decided on the South common and without doubt the permission will be granted.

GEN. SHAFTER

HIS FRIENDS WANT HIM RETAINED IN SERVICE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 14.—Major General Shafter will have reached the age limit in about three months and it is said his friends are working energetically to secure his retention in the service a few years longer. The friends of General Shafter argue that since the Department of the Pacific has become so important by reason of the acquisition of the Philippines, it is inadvisable to make a change in its commander just at this time. It is rumored that Brigadier General Merriam, at present in command of the department of the Columbia, is likely to succeed Shafter in the event of his retirement.

GUILD'S CHOICE

OF CHAIRMAN FOR THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14—The meeting of the State committee of the republicans yesterday, outside of the naming of the date of the convention and selecting the presiding and other convention officials, was interesting in indicating the feelings of the members on the Bates-Guild contest.

So far as the act of the committee in naming Mr. Melvin O. Adams for presiding officer may be considered it favors Guild. Mr. Adams is a leader in the Boston machine, and has always been classed as a Guild man.

Very few of the members attending the meeting would express their preference, but those who did were for General Guild.

WORLD'S RECORDS BROKEN.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SALT LAKE, Utah, July 14.—Two world's records were broken here last night on the Salt Palace eighth of a mile saucer track. John Lawson the "Terrible Swede," paced by tandems, rode a mile in 1.54 3-5, breaking the world's record for that distance on an indoor track. Clem Turville of Philadelphia, in the five mile professional event, went the distance in 11 minutes and 29 seconds.

Good Templars Receive Councillor Hector Turnbull

UPON HIS RETURN FROM TORONTO.

Delightful Reception in Pilgrim Hall.

Past Grand Councillor Hector Turnbull of the Good Templars who recently returned from the session of the International Supreme lodge at Toronto, was tendered a reception in Pilgrim hall, last evening, by the members of the different local and neighboring lodges.

Past Chief Templar Edward Turnbull called to order and after a short business session of Elrene lodge at which one member was initiated, introduced Past District Chief Templar Robt. W. Mountford as the presiding officer of the evening.

After a few appropriate remarks by the chairman E. S. Varney was called upon to deliver the address of welcome. In his remarks, Mr. Varney told of the pleasure it gave him to welcome Mr. Turnbull on behalf of Elrene lodge and the other lodges represented. He spoke of the honor conferred upon Elrene lodge and upon the city of Lowell in having a resident chosen to be one of three to represent the 7000 Good Templars in Massachusetts.

A dialogue, "Popping the Question," by Austin Fife and Edith McDonald of General Fiske lodge was cleverly given after Mr. Varney had concluded his remarks; and Past Chief Templar Luther S. Wood of the same lodge had a pleasant word to say of Mr. Turnbull on behalf of the General Fiske brethren. D. H. Jones also spoke for General Fiske lodge. John W. Boker of Mt. Zion lodge also had a good word to say of Mr. Turnbull, and Ira G. George of West Chelmsford and Mr. Middleton of Chelmsford Centre extended a welcome on behalf of their respective lodges. Miss Alice Kelley of Elrene lodge gave a reading very creditably and Miss Ina Chalmers, Whiley F. Johnson, District Secretary Mrs. Ida A. Tilton and others followed with remarks and all had a pleasant word to say for the man of the hour. Mr. Turnbull was the last speaker. After thanking all for the generous welcome extended him Mr. Turnbull went on to tell of his trip and although limited to a few minutes' time, he gave his hearers a pretty good idea as to what he saw, and the work accomplished during the session. He told of the many changes that were made in the ritualistic and signal work of the order and of the plans that were laid for the general advancement of the cause throughout the world.

The number of members now in the Good Templar order, he said, is 600,000, a gain of over 20,000 during the past two years. The next session will be held in Stockholm Sweden in 1901. Mr. Turnbull was highly pleased at the reception tendered the delegates from all over the world by the Canadian members and spoke of Toronto as a model city. Afterward a general good time was enjoyed, all being given an opportunity to meet Mr. Turnbull personally and shake the hand that has come in contact with all the notables of the order during the past two weeks. Refreshments were served by a committee from Elrene lodge who deserve special credit for having managed the affair so successfully. Those who were prominent in the arrangements were: Mrs. Ida A. Tilton, Mrs. E. S. Varney, Mrs. Whiley F. Johnson, Mrs. John J. Kelley, William J. Smith, Frank Cote, Alice Kelley, Ethel and Winnie Woodman and Leola Craigie.

RAISED THE FLAG

Patriotic Exercises at Edson Orphanage Yesterday

The little waifs of the Edson orphanage, connected with St. Anne's church held a most pleasant flag raising at the orphanage grounds on Anne street yesterday.

The flag is the gift of Mr. John Houghton of Cambridgeport and Mr. Crawford Burnham of this city gave the flagstaff. Both gentlemen are interested in the orphanage.

The flag was raised at 4.30 o'clock with simple and appropriate exercises, a few friends assembling to witness the event.

The first on the program was the singing of "America" by the children, assisted by several members of the boy choir. Then there were a few special prayers by the rector, Rev. Dr. Chambre, after which Mayor Crowley, assisted by Dr. Chambre, raised the flag and unfurled it to the breeze. The boys then saluted the flag, and the Star Spangled Banner was sung.

Mayor Crowley made a three-minute speech and he was followed by the curate, Rev. A. V. V. Binnington.

"Brightly Glows our Banner" was sung in closing and then the guests were invited inside to inspect some improvements recently made in the building. The play-room has been renovated, through the generosity of Mr. Geo. Chase of the Lowell Wall Paper company, and it now presents a bright, clean and attractive appearance. It has been newly papered and painted. The dado is of Lincrusta Walton, finished with an oak chair rail over which the wall is papered with a design particularly attractive for a boy's play-room. It is of a bluish tint, barred off in diamonds and in the center of each diamond is a picture of one of our battleships, with its name beneath. The boys thus have the whole navy before their eyes.

The event of the afternoon came near being made doubly interesting by the presence of a former protege of the orphanage, Mr. Walter Gillespie, who is now a seaman on board the Dolphin. As soon as possible after his arrival in Boston he came to Lowell to pay a visit to his old home, and was urged to remain to the flag-raising, but was obliged to return to his vessel.

VOTED TO STRIKE

Action of Fall River Day Firemen.

WILL STRIKE IF CLAIMS ARE DENIED.

The Night Firemen Will Follow Their Example.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

FALL RIVER, July 14.—The day firemen of the different mills in the city held a meeting last night and voted to make a demand for an increase in wages to 17 cents an hour, actual time, and if this request is not granted to strike on Saturday. There were more than 160 of the men present and the meeting was most enthusiastic not a word of opposition being raised from beginning to end.

It was learned that the American Print Works had decided to grant the increase and that the Iron Works mill would follow suit. These two companies however, stipulated that a day should consist of 11 1-4 hours.

It was voted that if the demand for an increase is not granted the day firemen shall leave work at the end of their labor on Saturday with the understanding that the night firemen shall strike at the end of work Saturday morning. The night firemen will hold a meeting tonight and it is believed that concurrent action will be taken.

The local firemen's union consists of about 200 members but it is believed that a large number of non-union men are in actual sympathy with the movement. If a strike should come, no assistance from the outside will be looked for, as the workmen feel capable of taking care of themselves in such an emergency.

CRICKET MATCH.

A cricket game in aid of the Lowell hospital will be played on the U.S.B. C. C.'s grounds at Wigginville, Saturday, July 15, when the U. S. Bunting cricket club will meet the Boston cricket club. The admission will be ten cents.

The Bunting cricket club will be composed of the following men: T. Southam, captain; J. Walker, A. Moss, J. Patrick, W. Gath, W. Simpson, H. Rowley, J. Waterhouse, W. Midgley, R. Hood, M. Burns and J. Hutchinson. Wickets pitched at 2.30 p. m.

LAWN PARTY.

A largely attended and very enjoyable lawn party was held by Miss Elvena Coram last evening at her residence, 68 Mt. Hope street. The lawn was prettily decorated and orchestral music was furnished for "dancing on the green." A dainty lunch was provided.

A LOWELL MAN GONE

Supposed to Have Been Killed at So. Acton

MILES B. GRAY, Missing From His Home, 17 Forrest Street.

But the Sun's Investigation Proves the Contrary—Miles B. Gray of Forrest Street is Not the Dead Man at Acton.

The recent death of a man at South Acton, the particulars of which have already been given in The Sun, has caused no little uneasiness in many homes from which men have been missing. The case at Acton not only aroused the authorities of that town but State Inspector Joe Whitney has been working on the case, making an investigation of the death. It will be remembered that about four weeks ago the man in question was picked up in a semi-conscious condition in a field in the rear of the freight house in South Acton. It is presumed that death was due to accident but the also had tatoo marks on his arm bearing the three initials of his name.

A Sun reporter learning of the latter disappearance started out on a tour of investigation thinking that possibly the dead man at Acton might prove to be the missing Lowell husband. The scribe learned that the Acton man whose weight was about 200 pounds, face quite round, good teeth, had a healthy, ruddy complexion, a good form, was clean shaved, hair on top of head, not parted but curly. The man was well dressed, his clothing having a fineness that indicated he was in well to do circumstances. On the shirt of man's identity is what has puzzled every one who has been connected with the case, even to the hustling chief of police, L. E. Reed of Acton and the "State Sleuth," Joe Whitney, the officer who brought Hunco Reed to prison. The unfortunate man, prior to meeting with his violent death, was seen about Acton and gave the names of Wellington, Marston, Williams, Dalton, Tucker and Donchoe and at all time gave the first name of Frank. The description first sent out to the newspapers was that the man had tatoo marks on the arm, bearing his three initials. At the time of the sad fatality many of the newspapers stated that these initials were the only clue that would lead to the identification of the man. This assertion caused intense anxiety in one Lowell home where a wife mourns a missing husband who disappeared several weeks ago and who the victim was discovered the firm name of a manufacturing firm of London, England. Inspector Whitney has endeavored to glean from the railroad men, from whose train the man was put off, some facts in the matter but as yet the case is shrouded in the deepest mystery. The Sun in today's issue produces a portrait of the face of the man taken after death.

THE LOWELL MISSING MAN.

The man missing from Lowell is Miles B. Gray, a well known carpenter residing at 17 Forrest street and up to the time of his disappearance in the employ of Contractor Charles Needham.

A little over a fortnight ago Gray, after shaving off his moustache, suddenly left his home, leaving a most estimable wife and a beautiful child just old enough to be cute and winsome. Whether the disappearance was premeditated or whether Gray had met with a fatal accident has caused considerable speculation and anxiety among relatives. There were good reasons for thinking that Gray was the unfortunate man who had met death at Acton. But The Sun proved this assumption to be erroneous so there are many who think that Gray has shipped to sea, as he has left home suddenly once before, and a separation followed between him and wife. A reunion subsequently took place and the home life of the couple has to all appearances, and according to the story of neighbors, been one of happiness. If the departure from home has been planned then the husband leaves his wife at a very critical time.

Gray is a man about five feet six inches in height, with dark hair, dark eyes, rather thin face, with Roman nose had a tatoo on his arm with the initials, "M. B. G." and had the tattoo of an anchor on one hand and a star on the other. On his head is a large scar, the result of an accident received when Gray was a boy of 15 years. Gray, on leaving home, was attired in a brown suit, white felt hat, tan lace shoes. Not only is the wife anxious as to the whereabouts of her husband but neighbors are equally anxious. The Sun publishes a picture of Gray as he appeared up to the day of his departure—just as his acquaintances knew him.

TWO BURGLARS

Robbed the Residence of Levy L. Brown

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Two masked burglars, one colored and one white, broke into No. 9 West 55th street, the residence of Levy L. Brown, who with his wife is at his summer home at Adams Mass., and stole about $4,000 worth of goods this morning. They held pistols to the head of Mr. Brown's grandson to keep him quiet and locked him in a wardrobe before leaving. They were chased into the Park avenue railroad tunnel, where the negro was captured. He said he was Frederic Rand and 32 years of age.

KISSING BUGS

SEVERAL CAPTURES BEING MADE DAILY AND SPECIMENS BROUGHT TO THE SUN OFFICE.

Several specimens of the kissing bug, nine in all, were brought into The Sun office today, but that captured by Thomas W. McGrath for size and ferociousness eclipsed everything. It looked more like a small bird than the gigantic insect it was. The boy who resides on Suffolk street, captured the bug near the corner of Lagrange and Suffolk streets. The McGrath boy caught the large insect in his hat, and forced its head and finally its whole body into a bottle.

Walter Kirlan, a boy, and Ernest Waltham of Co. G, who resides in Colburn street, brought into the office two other large specimens of the much dreaded bug. Waltham caught the insect on Moody street this noon.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Charles Smithies of 7 Waite street, while standing on her lawn observed one of the insects, as she at first judged from the illustration of the insect in The Sun of the day previous. She stunned it with a near by dust pan, and yesterday and today is exhibiting the insect to envious friends and neighbors. It is a fine specimen of the oculatory insect.

PRIZE FIGHTERS

Have an 8 Round Bout at Narragansett

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 14.—Two colored prize fighters, Burrell Rhodes and Bert Johnson, met in the woods about ten miles from here at daylight this morning. Rhodes won in the 8th round. Johnson put up a good fight but his opponent had the better of him in reach and weight.

The fight was for a purse of $400 put up by summer residents at the pier, many of whom attended the fight after having eluded the police whom they led off on a long chase in another direction.

NATIONAL FETE

Is Being Observed in Paris Today.

PATRIOTIC LEAGUE HELD DEMONSTRATION

Reviews Carried Out Without Incident.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PARIS, July 14.—Magnificent weather today favored the national fete day. The public and many private buildings were decorated with flags. M. Deroulede and Marcel-Habert and several hundred members of the Patriotic League marched to the Place de la Concorde and deposited a wreath at the foot of the Strasburg statue amid cries of "Vive Farmee!" "Vive Deroulede!" M. Deroulede in turn shouted "Vive la Republique Francaise, Vive la Nation Francaise, Vive l'Alsace-Lorraine."

He then requested the leaguers to disperse. Some of them attempted to continue the demonstration but the police scattered them. Dispatches from the various garrisons, including Rennes report that the reviews were carried out without incident. The troops were acclaimed with the usual shouts of "Vive Farmee!" "Vive la republique!"

DR. MADDEN DEAD

POPULAR YOUNG BOSTON PHYSICIAN PASSES AWAY.

The many Lowell friends of Dr. J. J. Madden, one of Boston's youngest and most promising physicians, will be deeply pained to hear of his death, which occurred on Wednesday at his home, 43 Oneida street, after an illness dating back to early spring which he bore with remarkable fortitude and that calm resignation which crowns a life well spent.

The deceased was a native of the South End and the son of ex-Representative Hugh A., and the late Catherine Madden, his father being one of Boston's most prominent Irishmen and formerly a power in municipal politics. The young doctor received his education in the public schools of Boston and later attended Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmittsburg, Md., from which he was graduated in the class of '92, with highest honors. He then took the four years' course at Harvard Medical School and in 1897, upon receiving his certificate for the State Board of Registration was second in a list of over 150 competitors.

Dr. Madden, until illness overcame him, practiced with much success in South Boston. Quick to learn and of a studious nature, he soon attracted the attention of many of his older brothers in the profession and a bright future in the field of medicine was assured him. While a student he was also a lover of athletics and while at college was noted as an all round athlete. He was a most companionable man, amiable, generous to a fault and the soul of honesty and was beloved by all who knew him. He was 25 years old and is survived by his father and one sister, Miss Mary C. Madden, to whom is extended the heartfelt sympathy of his many Lowell friends.

The funeral took place this morning from the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston, where solemn high mass was sung, a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends attending. The remains were interred in the Calvary cemetery.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION.

The United States Industrial Commission meets in Boston, July 17, 1899, at the Home Market club rooms. They would like to hear from officers of trades and labor unions and employes and manufacturers. If there are enough witnesses and it would be inconvenient for them to go to Boston, the commission will come to Lowell, but it wants to know the names of the witnesses in advance and if all such persons as wish to testify as to the relations etc., between employer and employe, capital and labor, etc., will send their names and addresses to Albert Clarke, 77 Bedford street, Boston, Mass. a member of the commission they will be summoned and paid to attend.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

DETROIT Mich., July 14.—It is reported that Governor Pingree as soon as the council finally adopts the municipal railway ordinance will bend his energies to securing a special session of the legislature for the purpose of providing for the submission of a constitutional amendment to the people permitting the city of Detroit to go into the municipal ownership of street railways. The governor hopes to get the special session in operation some time before the November elections and an announcement of the plan will be formally made within a few days.

THE SUN LATEST!

5 O'CLOCK

THE RELATIONS

Of Accounts Committee Were Wofully Strained

BUT HARMOMY FOLLOWED THE STORM

At Last Night's Troubled Meeting.

ALD. DERBY'S FEELINGS HURT

And Councilman Saunders Healed the Wounds.

In a partially lighted committee room in City Hall with no one to bother them but poor Janitor Delange, who looked at the clock until it actually blushed, the three members of the committee on accounts, Alderman Derby and Councilmen Walker and Saunders held forth last evening and "chewed" at each other for an hour, only three cups of strong tea and a cut, being needed to make the meeting a complete success.

The object of the trio in coming together was to approve Fourth of July bills, but they worked in a little feature not on the program and at one time matters were hot, only respect for the law against duelling probably preventing real trouble.

Alderman Derby, chairman of the committee and a most sensitive little man, started the fun and Councilman Walker usually good natured and whose name will go thundering thro' the ages for his benign habit of spring-ing votes of thanks promiscuously, backed him up. Alderman Derby was inclined to be sore and somewhat wrathy and an unhappy victim of his somewhat wrath was Councilman Saunders, with a mind of his own and faculty of speaking it undeterred by his surroundings.

Alderman Derby began by patting the committee on the back for the unanimity displayed at its meetings. Then he got down to business and in a voice which some would describe as trembling with emotion, said:

"I didn't know that there was any thing but harmony in this committee and I have said that I didn't believe there was any committee which was a more harmonious one than ours. I felt the remark made by Councilman Saunders very much and I am not over it yet. I took it as an insult to two of the members of the committee. I feel that Councilman Saunders ought to go back to the body in which he made his original statement and say he was mistaken. If he feels that he said things that ought not to have been said. If, on the other hand, he believes the committee has not acted properly or anything, then it is his place to say to the common council that the committee is an unjust one and a change should be made. You said, Councilman Saunders, that the other two members of this committee would let any kind of a bill go through. If you do not think that is so, I think you should say so in the same place in which you made your statement. I was surprised that such a thing should come from you and I have heard of it from a dozen men that Councilman Saunders got after me. I think you owe us an apology in the common council chamber."

Councilman Saunders replied that he was called out of bed just before ten o'clock to attend the meeting of the common council. I made that statement in the heat of the moment and I later publicly apologized through the Citizen. I am willing to do anything that is proper to do.

Alderman Derby said he had not seen the apology in the paper.

Councilman Walker said he had seen it, but did not think it sufficient. The apology ought to be made in the common council chamber. If Mr. Saunders still thinks the committee deserves what he said, he had better have us investigated.

Councilman Saunders said that his statement in the paper was a good, clear one, whether Mr. Walker thinks so or not. "Mr. Walker," he said, "claimed I was not honest in the position I took on the school matter."

Councilman Walker said his statement about Councilman Saunders was in answer to what was said against the accounts committee.

Councilman Saunders said he would not take back one word he had said about the school system. I believe now as I always have, there are mistakes there.

Then Alderman Derby, so as not to be misunderstood, said that he believed Councilman Saunders to be honest but he made the statement when excited and the alderman very considerately concluded that an explanation before the common council would be sufficient balm for his wounded feelings and consequently it is our pleasure to announce that there will be no blood spilled over the affair. Councilman Saunders certainly erred in judgment in making his apology for had he put it in The Sun every one would have seen it, even Alderman Derby and the trouble of last evening would in all probability never have arisen. But like Alderman Derby, we are willing to believe that the councilman was still excited when he placed the apology in the paper and we shall forgive him this time.

With that little oil on the troubled waters, Councilman Saunders remarked that there had been stirring times in the city council.

And Councilman Walker who evidently wanted to get into the oiled surface, admitted telling Mr. Saunders he was not consistent and was talking for effect. "Your letter in the newspaper," said Mr. Walker, "gave the borrowing capacity of the city as $1560 when the city treasurer gives the information that it is $67,[illegible]"

Mr. Saunders said he got his figures from Alderman Dixon.

Mr. Walker said the reason he said Mr. Saunders was not consistent was because he voted for the school appropriation early in the year after speaking several times against it.

Mr. Saunders denied voting for the appropriation.

Then they talked over the weather, smooth paving and other subjects and finally came to a most harmonious finish, the atmosphere growing heavy with brotherly love and they reached adjournment. When they had finished Janitor Delange shook his head knowingly, as he lowered the lights, remarking to the clock as he took a last look at the time, "Do you remember that celebrated saying of Puck?" and the clock ticked affirmatively.

A NEW MONOPOLY

Supposed to be on Its Way Here

The city clerk's office this morning was thrown into a state of temporary excitement upon receiving a letter addressed to the city council which would appear to be the forerunner of a gigantic trust or monopoly which desires to control everything in Lowell but airs with Vanderbilts and Goulds and Morgans and millions behind it.

On close inspection, however, it does not appear quite so dangerous.

The letter is as follows:

To the City Council of Lowell:

If the aforesaid body will entertain an offer of money value for a franchise of a telephonic, heat, light, power and traction nature, I will be prepared to submit proposition at their earliest convenience.

Yours very respectfully,
—Edward D. McVey.

Lowell, July 12, 1899.

THE GERMAN FLAG

Torn Down From Hotel In Honolulu

INTERNATIONAL EPISODE MAY RESULT.

Matter Will be Reported to Germany.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HONOLULU, July 7, Via Victoria, B. C., July 14. There was a flag incident here on the Fourth of July which promises to be made an international episode. Carl Klemme, the proprietor of the Orpheum Hotel, daily decorated his building in American colors hoisting the American flag over it and under the American flag the German flag. Later a friend of his wanted to use an American flag and Klemme good-naturedly loaned him his, leaving the German flag alone from the flagstaff.

J. H. West saw it and ordered Klemme to haul it down. There had been ill-will between the two men before and Klemme refused to take orders from his enemy. West thereupon gathered a lot of soldiers from the transport Sheridan and showed them the German flag floating on the Fourth of July in American territory. The soldiers at once proceeded to the roof, tore down the German flag and destroyed it and put into its place some red, white and blue bunting torn from the other decorations of the building.

West was today fined $101 in the police court for malicious mischief, and the German consul general will make a report of the matter to his government.

CHELMSFORD CENTRE

TROOP F CAVALRY HELD COMPANY DRILL LAST EVENING.

Troop F Cavalry held a company drill and business meeting last evening at their quarters at the town hall, Capt. Amos Leighton presiding. There was a business session of nearly an hour to consider matters relating to the annual muster in August. The matter of catering called out a lively discussion after which it was voted by a large majority that the same course be followed as in former years, that is, that it be left in the hands of the quartermaster. There was considerable discussion as to the band to be engaged. It was voted not to hire the Dunstable band which has always accompanied Troop F to camps. It was next voted to refer the selection of a band to a committee consisting of Private Joseph Marshall, Private A. R. Lyman and Corporal Walter Perham and to borrow $100 for camp expenses, voted to appropriate $50 to entertain honorary members at headquarters. A short drill followed the business meeting.

At the Unitarian vestry last evening there was a meeting of a committee of this and the Central Congregational church to arrange for a union Sunday school picnic. It was voted to endeavor to secure Willow Dale on the 25th, 26th or 27th of this month.

WHITNEY'S HOUSE

And Stables For His Thoroughbreds

BURNED DOWN LATE LAST NIGHT.

Magnificent Dwellings and Furnishings Total Loss.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The magnificent country residence of W. C. Whitney, on Wheatley Hills, two miles from Westbury, L. I., was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock last night and at a late hour one of the three big barns in which Mr. Whitney keeps his thoroughbreds was on fire. There is small chance that it can be saved.

Mr. Whitney was not at home, having sailed for Europe a few weeks ago.

It is not known how much furnishings were saved, but it is understood that most of the furniture, personal effects and handsome fittings were burned.

The fire was discovered at 10 o'clock by one of the servants, who immediately gave the alarm. In a few moments the entire household was fighting flames that made rapid headway under a stiff wind from off the sound.

The servants formed themselves in two brigades. One fought the fire with buckets of water, and the other attempted to save the furniture and as many of Mr. Whitney's effects as they could reach.

The fire was so fierce in a few minutes that the most daring were driven from the burning structure and turned their attention to the barns. In the meantime the hostlers had liberated the horses and driven them from the stables. They had hard work to keep the plunging animals from returning to their stalls. Several dashed away and have not been found.

The blaze illuminated the country as far as the villages of Hempstead, Westbury and Garden City on the south and west and to the coast on the north.

Before the telephone was burned a message was sent to Mineola, Westbury and Hempstead, asking for aid. The fire departments were immediately called but the only one that had arrived at midnight was from Mineola.

At the clubhouse of Meadowbrook hunt club the fire was observed as soon as it started and the members of the club who are summering there hastened to the assistance of the servants. Among the number were E. D. Morgan Stanley Mortimer, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., and Clarence Mackay. The men formed themselves into a fire brigade and fought the flames gallantly.

One message from Hempstead said that the fire might have been of incendiary origin but there is nothing to back up this statement.

Just before the fire started everything had been locked for the night and not even a servant with a lantern was about.

All the buildings are of wood and are highly inflammable. The loss on the house alone is put at $75,000.

So far as is known there were no members of the Whitney family at home when the fire started. Mr. Whitney purchased his property at Wheatley Hills in 1896. The house, a manor once owned by the Motts, the wealthy Quakers, was remodeled and improved at a cost of $50,000. The land comprising the Whitney estate covers 450 acres. Mr. Whitney's house was the ideal of country comfort. The outlines of the manor house were preserved in the remodeling and all the conveniences of a modern household added. The house contained many costly treasures which Mr. Whitney had collected during his travels.

DRAPER HONORED

Milford and Hopedale Unite In Honoring Him

AMBASSADOR SPEAKS ON CONSULAR SERVICE

And Need of Italian Naturalization.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MILFORD, July 14—The Board of Trade of this town, comprising all the prominent business men of Milford and Hopedale had Ambassador William F. Draper as their guest at Woodland park, West Medway, yesterday. It was not only a gathering of business men, but an assemblage of his neighbors and friends, men of all religions, beliefs and political persuasion, or in other words it was a tribute to a man who has done much in his business and public career to advance the interests of Milford and Hopedale.

Woodland Park is one of the most delightful spots in Norfolk county, being situated on the banks of one of the streams which go to make up the mighty Charles. A score of special electric cars brought the townspeople and the ambassador also to the grove, where the day's festivities began shortly after 1 o'clock with music by the Milford band, which volunteered its services for the occasion. A genuine Rhode Island clam bake was served, after which some informal speeches were made, laudatory of General Draper.

At the head table were seated with General Draper the president of the Board of Trade, Mr. J. Allen Rice, the Rev. Lewis E. Wilson, pastor of the Unitarian church, Hopedale; ex-Senator W. H. Cook, Editor W. D. Leahy of the News, the Rev. Webster Woodbury, pastor of the Congregational church; the Rev. Fr. T. J. Fitzgerald, assistant pastor of St. Mary's church, the Rev. E. W. Whitney, pastor of the Universalist church; Charles F. Claflin, E. L. Wires, John P. Daniels and the Hon. Edward J. Slattery, late democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor and a former resident of Milford.

President Rice opened the speechmaking by referring to the long and useful career of General Draper, of his interest in the welfare of the town.

The band played "Hail to the Chief" and the Milford and Hopedale people gave a general three cheers.

Gen. Draper expressed his delight at being among his townsmen again and he was doubly pleased, he said, that they were glad to see him. In view of diplomatic relations, which prohibit discussion of general questions, Gen. Draper spoke informally at first of local business conditions and then drifted gradually into a description of the diplomatic and consular service of the government, explaining the duties and responsibilities. He said that the diplomatic service of the United States cost only about $60,000 a year and that one of the great difficulties of the service was that only men of fortune could accept positions.

All serious difficulties arising over this unsettled status had thus far been avoided because of the willingness of both governments to waive certain conditions.

He spoke of the question of immigration and of the removal of the restrictions on importation of meats. During his term of office, he said the latter had been removed and the importation had since increased tenfold.

Gen. Draper was followed by Senator William H. Cook, Rev. Webster Woodbury, Rev. Thomas Fitzgerald, Hon. E. J. Slattery, and Rev. E. W. Whitney all of whom made ringing addresses, complimentary to the career of the distinguished guest as a business man, soldier and diplomat.

After the speeches there was a business session of the board of trade, to consider the important question of sewerage.

LEUT. COL. SMITH

DIED AT HIS HOME IN ST. LOUIS LAST NIGHT.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 14—Lieut. Col. Smith, in charge of the United States Quartermaster's department, here, died at his home late last night. Except for his housekeeper, nobody else was in the house.

Yesterday Col. Smith complained of stomach trouble, but he was apparently not seriously ill.

Col. Smith was born in New York, entered the service at the outbreak of the Civil war as first sergeant of Co. D, 5th California infantry. At the close of the war he entered the regular service as second lieutenant of the 5th infantry.

DWELLING HOUSE BURNED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WEBSTER, Mass., July 14.—Fire destroyed the dwelling house owned by Antonio Maranoski on Eddy street, early this morning. The house was a two-story wooden structure and the loss is estimated at fully $2000. The fire is thought to have been incendiary.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS MADE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14—The exports from this country to Russia which began with heavy machinery, and have been followed by all sorts of tools and wares, promise to cut an important figure in the shipments from this port. Following close on the chartering of the British steamship Puritan, now loading here for New Chwang, and Vladivostock, it is announced by W. F. Hager & Co., that the British steamship Uplands would load locomotives and general cargo at this port for Odessa and other Black Sea ports.

LADIES' HATS FOR SUMMER WEAR

Summer headgear for ladies' wear is certainly more stylish, appropriate, and comfortable this season than ever before, and it's less costly, too, than we've ever known it to be in all the long years of our experience. Our milliners trim more hats now than ever before, and it's all because they do it better and cheaper than others. It's the period between seasons at present, and in order to keep millinery artists at work, we have decided to give Lowell a series of millinery surprises this week. Come in and get our prices.

WILLIAM W. PELTIER, Co C, Going to the Philippines.

The First to Leave Lowell For Manila

WM. PELTIER AND ALEX DUBE

Of Co. G. and 3rd. Nebraska Regiment.

The two men who are the first volunteers to leave Lowell for the Philippines are William N. Peltier of Co. G. and Alexander Dube of the Third Nebraska regiment. Mr. Peltier went to Porto Rico with his company and was on active duty while the company remained there, having escaped the sickness which prevailed. He had been a conductor on the Lowell and Suburban railway and resided at 130 Avon street. Mr. Dube went to Nebraska last summer with the intention of visiting the Mississippi exposition and while there enlisted in the Nebraska regiment just mentioned. With his regiment he went to Havana and served until the end of the war, leaving Cuba last December and receiving an honorable discharge in Augusta, Ga., on the 11th of May last, after which he returned to his home in this city, 308 West Sixth street.

Both men enlisted in Boston yesterday for service in Colonel Rice's regiment, and were mustered in. They were allowed until Monday to get ready and on that day they will start for Plattsburg where they will embark on a transport for the Philippines. They are two very healthy and rugged young men and ready to meet whatever fate befall them in the service of their country. Mr. Peltier stated that the officials in Boston assured them that if killed in the war, every effort would be made to return their bodies to their families in this country.

Both men seemed to take considerable satisfaction in this and stated to a Sun reporter that while they were determined to go to the Philippines, they realized that they were taking serious chances and that they might never return; still they are willing to risk their lives in defense of the flag under Colonel Rice.

GAMBLER'S DEATH

Born in Vermont, Became a Gambler

B. D. MAXHAM'S STRANGE CAREER.

Made Millions at Faro and Gave to Charity.

WAS PRESIDENT OF SEVERAL BANKS.

Gave His Last Days to Philantropic Work.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 14—Pious people to whom the story of his wicked past has always seemed apocryphal stood about the grave of Benjamin D. Maxham at Vineland, N. J., yesterday and prayed for his soul while the clods tumbled on his coffin.

Death was not the first metamorphosis that had come to Maxham, nor the greatest. A more complete, more incredible one was when years ago he came with millions out of that wild was where he was king of gamblers and began to buy and win his way, first into the esteem of the Vinelanders then into the kingdom of heaven.

In the first he was plainly successful and the Vinelanders believe in their hearts that by his years of upright living, church work and unassuming charity he had blotted out past transgressions.

The measureless money he had made by gambling he had used in good deeds of which few persons ever knew. From master of full 50 faro banks in the mining towns of the west, where men staked their last ounce and lost to him, he graduated to the presidency of a national bank in the quiet New Jersey village where on Sunday last he finished the game of life. He quit winner by $5,000,000 but he could take none of it away, for as "Dapely" Dodge, who dealt bank when Maxham was a Vermont lad in roundabouts, used to say: "There is no pocket in a shroud."

At the last Maxham was trustee of the Presbyterian church. He helped found the New Jersey training school for feeble minded children. He had learned to distinguish shams, as men never learn it in the cloister.

From his boyhood home in Woodstock, Vt., Maxham ran away to sea, deserted the ship in Brazil, worked his way home, learned photography and wandered up and down the Pacific slopes coining money making pictures.

Road agents robbed him of $55,000 and every rag of clothing. Shouting through the woods he was heard by a German, who with his wife and another woman, was journeying about with a gin mill on wheels. Maxham waited, wrapped in a blanket, while the women made him a suit out of old sacking.

His chemicals enabled him to clarify the pedler's bad whiskey and he joined the firm. One morning the wife, in jealousy, shot her husband and fled, and Maxham owned the horse, wagon, whisky and goodwill of the outfit.

That was the nucleus of $7,000,000 he left the other day. Reaching Virginia City, he transferred the chattels from wheels to a lean-to, and called it "The miners' supply house." He handled dust for the miners and kept part of it as commission. Then he started a faro bank, where they might stake the rest and lose it. He prospered and his den was famous.

Maxham conducted a freight and stage business from Virginia City and Cheyenne and in his employ was an army of men and horses.

In 1852 he broke every faro bank in Frisco and then established faro banks of his own there. From that time on he was green baize monarch. At one time he was sole creditor and owner of the entire bonded indebtedness of the state of Montana.

WHY?

Why is it that no merchant can build up a large and successful business nowadays without advertising in the newspapers? Because people look to the newspapers for the announcements of the merchants. The dealer who does not make announcements to the people through the daily papers is soon forgotten by the buying public and quickly left behind in the race for business.

Talk to the people through the columns of The Sun and they will bear you in mind when they need anything in your line.

The Sun having the largest circulation in Lowell is therefore the cheapest and most effective advertising medium in the city. It is unquestionably

The campaign for license next year has commenced. Several of the papers are printing license campaign articles daily. They are unanimous in two things, first that the no license law is a failure, second that the police are not to blame for this and that the salvation of the liquor dealers depends upon a return to license next year.

It is amusing to find Nashua merchants kicking against an easier and shorter electric route to that city from Lowell, on the ground that it would injure trade with Nashua merchants. Well, if it does the Nashua merchants will be compelled to offer as good bargains as the Lowell merchants. That will result in better stores, better trade and less traveling expenses.

Between George Fred Williams and John R. McLean of Ohio there is a contest for the democratic nomination for vice president. It has started early and will no doubt be a lively one. The fact that Williams is from the East will probably stand in his favor, although an Ohio candidate might be useful in cutting down the majority for McKinley in that state. There is practically no opposition to Bryan for the first place on the ticket.

The Citizen talking of the war in the Philippines says:

"Of course it is going to take a great deal of money and many of our patriotic countrymen will give up their lives in the cause. But isn't it worth it? Is not the establishment of American sovereignty and the bringing of a higher civilization to these misguided people (who already use their superior Mausers with considerable skill) worth the expenditure of millions and the slaughter of thousands of our fellow countrymen?

These misguided people are proving themselves the superiors of some of the Americans who would rob them of their liberty. Americans are the misguided people in this case.

GEN. AGUINALDO'S GREAT SPEECH

The address of General Aguinaldo at the recent celebration of the declaration of the Filipino independence marks him as a man of education and a statesman. It breathes the spirit of patriotism and appeals to the national pride and honor of the natives in a manner that will induce them to lay down their lives if necessary rather than submit to alien sway.

Grattan's famous apostrophe to his country after he had secured her legislative independence, "Esto Perpetua," is not more eloquent than the opening sentence of Aguinaldo's speech, when he apostrophizes his country thus:

"Beloved daughter of the ardent sun of the tropics, commended by Providence to the care of noble Spain, be not ungrateful to her salute who warmed you with the breath of her own culture and civilization.

It is true that she sought to crush thy aspiration for independence as a loving mother opposes separation forever from the daughter of her bosom. This but proves the excess of affection and love Spain feels for thee.

"My country, delicate flower of the east, scarcely eight months weaned from the breast of thy mother, thou hast dared to brave a great and powerful navy such as the United States, after barely organizing and disciplining thy little army. Yet we reply we are slaves to none nor will we allow ourselves to be deluded by soft words at the peril of our independence."

Other portions of his speech reminds one forcibly of Demosthenes cautioning his people against the wiles of Philip of Macedon. The following is an example, although in English it has not the polish or the rhetorical finish that it undoubtedly had in the Spanish tongue, in which it was delivered:

"We might well accept this autonomy America offers, but what can we do with it if our ambition is independence and we are to accept it only to later overthrow by force of our arms the sovereignty of America? As I believe it is the intention of the autonomists to make use of treachery and deceit, we cannot accept such a procedure.

"We do not wish to be traitors afterward. We wish to show our character of frankness and sincerity and nothing more. Let us avoid the example of those natives who having at one time been colonists, accept autonomy to enable them to make their work surer once everything was prepared.

"History has given us an example of this in recent events. Let us persist in our idea, which is only the legitimate and noble aspiration of a people desirous at all costs to preserve their national honor spotless and as pure as crystal."

Those who undertake to call this Filipino leader a semi-civilized dictator seeking his own aggrandizement and ready to sell out his people, are deluding themselves and those who believe in them. There is not an American general in the Philippines today who could make such a forcible speech as that of Aguinaldo, from which we have just quoted. Is it any wonder that the people are so ready to die for their freedom from such an exhortation and such appeals to their patriotism and national pride?

This people may be conquered but not before a vast number of them are killed and as soon as they are able to reassert their power in a rebellion they will do so. Such a people cannot be oppressed. Who can deny them the right to fight for independence, so dear to every American heart. No American who is true to the principles of the constitution will favor a war of conquest against such a people in the face of justice and right without any plea other than greed of gain, extension of trade, the desire of an opportunity to rob a nation struggling to be free.

The publishers realized $75,000 from its sale.

Here is another cure for the "kissing bug." One who has "been there" states that the kissing bug is what is termed the China bug in California. What is more important, however, is his specific for curing the poisonous bite of this terror. Firstly, avoid excitement and fear; secondly do not touch any part of your body with your hands or your fingers if you do not wish to raise welts on it, such as follow the stinging of nettles; thirdly and chiefly bathe the bite with sharp vinegar and salt quickly and freely and repeat every few hours to keep the fever down. These directions if followed will it is declared cause the swelling to subside, and the pain to disappear without further trouble and ill effects.

OFFER REJECTED

OF CADETSHIP BY DEIGNAN THE MERRIMAC HERO.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—Secretary Long has received a letter from Oscar F. Deignan declining the appointment to the naval academy offered him in accordance with an act of congress.

Young Deignan's declination is due, it is said, to his belief that he would find it extremely difficult to pass the examination for admission. With a view to aiding him in every possible way, the secretary offered to permit him to enter the academy without the usual entrance examination, but while appreciating the concession, the young man deemed it expedient to give up altogether his dreams of a career in the service.

Deignan's last duty was on the Asiatic station, from which point he was ordered to return to the United States and was mustered out that he might accept a cadetship at the academy. The department has no idea whether Deignan will re-enter the service but should he do so, care will undoubtedly be taken to promote him rapidly and finally present him with a commission as a chief warrant officer, provided, of course, that his conduct and attention to duty should merit such action. Beyond the advancement given to each enlisted man of the Merrimac's crew by the department, Deignan was the only one who received substantial reward by congress.

It is understood that when congress assembles, the president will resubmit the nomination for advancement of Naval Constructor Hobson and it is presumed that favorable action will be taken.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Anna Belle Sullivan, assisted by Miss Blanche Piper, celebrated her seventh birthday by entertaining about twenty of her young friends Wednesday evening at her home on South Highland street. Ice cream, cake and candy were served during the evening. The merry party dispersed, leaving behind them many tokens of friendship as remembrances of the happy event.

THE BIRTHDAY

OF MISS MAUDE MILLS OF BEACON STREET PLEASANTLY OBSERVED.

The twenty-first birthday of Miss Maude F. Mills, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Mills was pleasantly observed last evening at the residence of the parents, 536 Beacon street. The enjoyable event took the form of a lawn party and was held upon the spacious grounds surrounding the residence. Japanese lanterns were hung in an artistic manner about the premises and their soft glow descended upon one of the merriest parties ever held in that vicinity.

There were about 75 young people who responded to Miss Mill's invitation and they passed an evening of unalloyed pleasure amid the beautiful surroundings. On the lawn there were pretty tents arranged, from which refreshments were dispensed throughout the evening. Music and games helped to pass the time merrily and the young lady who had reached her majority received many words of congratulation, besides a number of useful and pleasing tokens of esteem on the part of her friends. It was midnight ere the happy assemblage dispersed to their homes.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

BOSTON OFFICER STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14.—While patrolling his beat about 11 last night, Patrolman Wood of division 9 came upon the prostrate body of a man on Crawford street. He was startled to find that it was that of a brother official, Patrolman Thomas H. Magrath, 52, 380 Main street, connected with the same division.

Wood saw that Magrath was still alive and he called the patrol wagon, in which Magrath was taken to the station, where a physician found him suffering from convulsions and general paralysis.

His removal was ordered to the city hospital, where his case was found to be serious and his condition was at once put on the dangerous list.

Patrolman Magrath has been 11 years on the force, and is one of the most popular officers in the division. His wife was notified and she was at the hospital last night with her husband.

NEBRASKA REGIMENT SUFFERED THE WORST

Has Only 200 Men in Its Ranks.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 14.—Advices received from the transport Newport from Manila, dated June 11, are as follows:

The volunteers are greatly debilitated in consequence of their hard campaigning through three months of tropic weather. Since the middle of May no volunteer regiment has had a sick list of less than 20 per cent. Most of them at present have 25 per cent. ill, and a few of the regiments have less than one third of their number on duty. The Nebraska regiment has suffered the worst. It came in from San Fernando a few days ago with less than 200 men in the ranks. The South Dakota followed yesterday with 275 men on duty. The Montana and Kansas regiments at San Fernando have not more than 280 available men each. The morning after the Washington troops took Morong only 203 responded to roll call. The Washington men have been engaged since March 12 in preventing the insurgent armies of the north and south from forming a junction at Laguna Bay, and they engaged at the same time with the enemy in opposite directions.

Twenty-four of the Nebraska officers are on the sick list, and the Montana, Washington and South Dakota regiments show twenty or more officers in the hospitals or sick in their quarters. These regiments have borne the brunt of the fighting. Their losses in killed and wounded ranged from 169 in the Montana regiment to 280 Nebraska men. The loss of the Kansas regiment is second to that of Nebraska, while the Washington and South Dakota regiments follow closely, each with losses of about 200.

The Oregon regiment suffered severely.

Of the regulars the Third artillery is the heaviest loser, its killed and wounded numbering 123.

HAMMER THROWING CHALLENGE.

J. C. Coffey, the track Irish weight thrower, who landed in this country about four weeks ago, has written a letter to the management of the St. Augustin's Games, which take place on the Locust street grounds, Boston, Saturday, July 22, offering to meet John Flanagan, the world's champion hammer-thrower, in a special match at throwing the hammer, but he specifies that it must be from a nine-foot circle, as Gaelic rules prescribe and not from a seven-foot circle, as our rules call for. He has met Flanagan twice in this country and was defeated on both occasions.

His best throw with Flanagan was 140 feet, though he maintains that he can do 160 feet from the larger circle, which is better than Flanagan's world's record of 155 feet 11-2 inches made here last year. Coffey is six feet four inches tall and towers above the present champion.

HURDY GURDY PARTY

A party of young people, many of them High school students or graduates, had an enjoyable hurdy-gurdy party in Highland hall last evening. A number of young lady operators at the local telephone exchange graced the occasion with their presence.

THE TALBOT BAND

Gave Highly Entertaining Concert Last Evening

The concert at North Billerica by the Talbot Mills band last evening attracted a very large attendance, perhaps the largest of the season. Not only was Lowell well represented but all the towns for miles around. The street railway service was much better than on previous occasions, but still there was room for improvement, judging from the expression of many persons who have up to date attended all of the open-air concerts at North Billerica. "They will never go there any more" if the conductors do not stop crowding people in between seats and on the sideboards. There is no necessity for it when cars are to follow in quick succession.

Of the concert, nothing can be said but praise. The program was carefully selected and each number excellently rendered, meriting the hearty plaudits of the large throng. Worthy of special mention was the clarinet solo, "Sonnambula" by Mr. John Fairbrother, whose clever rendition was applauded to the echo.

After the concert a collation was served in the vestry of the Baptist church to the members of the band by the Ladies' Aid society. The committee in charge was as follows: Mrs. Walter Holt, chairman; Mrs. Charles Barker, Mrs. H. W. Sheldon, Mrs. Frank Rooms, and Mrs. Jennie Perry.

It might be here stated that it would be wisdom on the part of the many bicyclists who attend these concerts to procure lanterns for their machines. Many "lights" however, were noticed on wheels last evening.

CAR DERAILED.

Last night at about 11 o'clock one of the Jumbo electric cars, No. 5, got derailed on Central street, opposite Jackson, and detained about 15 cars for 20 minutes.

IN THIRD PLACE

The Bostons Took Another Drop Yesterday..

YOUNG GARVIN PITCHED STRONG GAME

Collins Gave a Fine Exhibition.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14.—Chicago administered a terrific thumping to Pitcher Lewis yesterday and thereby shoved Boston into third place, Philadelphia moving again into second place. Boston is but two points ahead of Chicago. Brooklyn and Boston each lost a glorious opportunity to gain on the other.

The Chicagos started out with two triples and a single in the first inning after two hands were out, two singles, a double and a triple in the second and two singles and a triple in the fifth with a base on balls thrown in. That enabled them to score nine runs.

For the visitors the elongated Garvin was in the box, a young giant, standing 6 feet 3 inches who pitched his second league game and was very successful. He had excellent command and was sufficiently puzzling to keep the home team from scoring except for one inning.

The weather was again perfect and a crowd of fine proportions was out to see the last of the series and although victory perched on the other side, could not but enjoy the sharp and free hitting and excellent fielding with which the game abounded. The Bostons made two splendid double plays. The Chicago infield had a great deal to do, the second and third baseman and shortstop having 19 assists and 25 chances.

Young Green did some great hitting, making two triples. Mertes also had a jubilee with a triple, and two singles and electrified the crowd by stealing home while Lewis was pitching the ball. Lange hit splendidly and played a fine game at first. Stahl did the best batting for Boston with a triple and two singles, and Lowe, Frisbee and Lewis also did good work with the stick.

The score by innings:

Earned runs, Chicago 8, Boston 1. Two-base hit, Donahue. Three-base hits Green 2, Lange, Mertes, Stahl. Sacrifice hits Mertes. Stolen bases, Lange, Mertes, Demont. First base on balls, Lange, Wolverton, McCormick, Tenney 2. First base on errors, Chicago 1. Left on bases, Chicago 7, Boston 5. Struck out, Frisbie. Double plays, Long and Tenney; Long, Lowe and Tenney. Time—2h. 10m. Umpires, Messrs. Lynch and Connolly. Attendance, 2500.

The other games resulted as follows: St. Louis 8, Brooklyn 2. Philadelphia 5, Cleveland 1. Pittsburg 9, New York 5.

CITY HALL NOTES.

The city treasurer received yesterday notice from the clerk of courts in Cambridge that a satisfactory bond had been filed by the Boston Paving company in the suit brought against them by John Holland of Lowell, and the attachment byforce on the money due the company from the city of Lowell to July 1, amounting to slightly over $7370, was removed. The money was drawn by the company.

Mrs. Charles H. Allen arrived in this city yesterday but will immediately rejoin her husband and daughter, Miss Bertha Allen on the Dolphin at Portsmouth. Mr. Allen and family will come to Lowell next Wednesday.

BIGAMIST DOCTOR

Requisition For His Extradition From California

By Associated Press to The Sun.

AUGUSTA, Me., July 12.—Governor Powers today granted a requisition for of Fall River, Mass., on the charge of the surrender of Dr. Walter R. Gwynne bigamy, alleged to have been committed in Dover, Me.

Eva May Lake of Fall River was sent to Corinth, by her father, Edward Lake of Fall River, to separate her from Gwynne. Gwynne came to Maine and married the girl, after which they went to California. Gwynne had a first divorce and it is alleged that he committed bigamy by the second marriage.

The Governor would not grant the requisition until Mr. Lake had guaranteed there would be no expense to the state.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

FROM LADIES OF THE SACRED HEART TABLE.

Most sincere thanks is offered to the kind ladies in charge for their excellent work at the recent lawn party in aid of the Immaculate Conception convent.

The same is extended to the noble officers who so generously volunteered their valuable service on and around the grounds also to the worthy members of the Lowell Cadet Band who rendered first class music, which greatly contributed to the success of the party.

A hearty "Thank you," is likewise due to each and every one of the other gentlemen and ladies, who in their unstinted and gracious support benefited the undertaking.

MILITARY NOTES

The Coming Outing of Company M.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE LAST NIGHT.

Dewey Grove to be the Scene of Outing.

A special meeting of Co. M was held last evening to make final arrangements for the anniversary of the surrender of Santiago in which the company took part a year ago. The observance of the day will take the form of an outing at Dewey Grove next Monday afternoon, the party leaving the armory on special electrics at 1 o'clock. In addition to the present members of the company, all of the men who were with the company at Santiago are invited to be present and participate in the day's festivities. They are requested to wear their Khaki uniforms if they have them. An interesting program of sports has been arranged, which will open with a ball game between teams from the company captained by Privates Hildreth and John Scott; the other events will include 100 yards' dash, half-mile running race, high jump, hop, step and jump, potato race and three-legged race. Suitable prizes have been procured for the winners of the different events. At the conclusion of the sports dinner will be served and the festivities of the day will conclude with dancing until 10 o'clock. The arrangements for the occasion are in charge of an efficient committee consisting of Captain Mitton, Lieutenants Gillow and McNulty, Sergeants Howard, Caldwell and Ralph Hill, Corporal Dickey, Musician Oliver Fiske, Privates Scott, Hildreth and Care.

It is stated that Major Greig would willingly accept a captaincy in any of the new regiments. It goes without saying he would make an excellent man for such a place. An appointment of this kind, however, would probably terminate his life as a civilian. He has always leaned toward army life and would like nothing better than a chance for permanent service.

That malaria stays with one is indicated in the fact that several of Company M's soldiers have had chills recently. Lieut. McNulty has never been the same man and his physicians say it will be a long time before he will get it entirely out of his system.

CYCLING NEWS

There was a party of five cyclists who started for Tewksbury Centre about half past seven Wednesday evening, that had pretty hard luck. One got a puncture, one had his tire blown off and a third broke his forks. They are beginning to think that Tewksbury Centre is a hoodoo.

Tom Linton, the widely known English middle-distance rider, accompanied by his manager, Dudley Marks and Pacemaker and Motor Expert Caballot, arrived in Boston early yesterday morning. This is the second visit of Linton and Marks to America during recent years, so that both were pleased to be welcomed by many friends they have made in Boston cycledom.

Thomas Harrison, a 16-year-old boy, of New York, is credited with riding a paced mile in 1.41. He wants to race any amateur five miles, preferring to meet Le Roy See, the amateur skater and cyclist, who is proving a fast rider behind pace. Charles T. Earl of the Kings' County Wheelmen says he will accept Harrison's challenge.

HORSES WANTED

FOR USE OF CAVALRY IN THE PHILIPPINES.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—A despatch has been received from General Otis requesting that there be sent to the Philippines 2500 horses in order that a brigade of cavalry may be organized for use at the end of the rainy season. General Otis has tried the horses of Manila and near-by countries but none of them seem to be available for cavalry. It is the intention of Secretary Alger to have the mounts carefully selected and he thinks the animals from the southern states, not too heavy, but tough and wiry will be the best.

LITTLE BOY DROWNED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

GALLINGER HEARING

Only One Witness at Today's Session.

Captain Clifford Knew Nothing of the Assessment Circular—A Written Statement Secured From Wm. F. Thayer.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CONCORD, N. H., July 13.—Neither Senator Chandler nor Senator Gallinger was present when the hearing was resumed this morning, the only ones in attendance being the commissioners, the newspaper men and the sole witness, whom it had been impossible to procure, Captain Thomas F. Clifford, a clerk in the republican state headquarters during the campaigns of 1896 and 1898. Captain Clifford testified that in 1898 he was largely occupied with his duties as an officer of the First New Hampshire Volunteers, and was at the rooms but a fraction of each day. He had special charge of the vote canvassing and speaker assignment departments, and knew little of what else was done at headquarters. He knew nothing about the assessment circulars, and never saw one until this morning when the commissioners handed him their copy. In 1896, he said, he thought the assessment circulars were sent out by the chairman of the committee, John A. Spalding, personally. He did not know that any were sent to Federal office-holders, but thought one was sent to United States Judge Edgar Aldrich.

Special Agent Wales secured written statements this morning from Secretary of State Edward N. Pearson, William F. Thayer and others which are to be read at the afternoon session of the commission.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED

By Rear End Collision of Trains

FORTUNATELY NO ONE WAS INJURED.

Reports Vary as to Cause of Accident.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SOUTH ACTON, Mass., July 13.—Traffic on the Fitchburg road was blocked at this point for two hours today, by a rear end collision between two freight trains.

An unusually long eastbound freight train had hauled up near the South Acton station for water. A fast through freight train which followed came on and struck the rear end of the first train. The engine was battered by the contact but the engineer and fireman jumped and escaped injury.

Reports vary as to the cause of the accident, some claiming that the rear train was not flagged when the other stopped for water and others stating that the engineer of the rear train was making his first trip and had confused the signals.

BARTER MISSING

THE FORMER TREASURER OF WORCESTER LEFT HOME.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 13.—William Barter, who was treasurer of the city of Worcester for over 25 years, retiring last January left his home, on Tuesday morning, saying he was going for a short walk and has not since returned. He is 75 years old and had not been in good health for some time. His mind has been affected and it is supposed he wandered away while in a state of mental aberration.

The Former Colonel of the Sixth

Many of His Former Comrades May Enlist.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 13.—Col. Edmund Rice, who will command the new 26th regiment, arrived in town today. He comes to look over the recruiting stations and to assist possibly in the enlistment of the regiment. It is expected that he will establish recruiting stations in other parts of New England where a disposition has been shown to enter the service. It is stated that many of the Sixth regiment, Massachusetts volunteers, which Col. Rice commanded in Porto Rico, will join the ranks.

HEARING GIVEN

ON THE BOSTON PAVING COMPANY ATTACHMENT.

A hearing was given Wednesday before Charles H. Conant, master in chancery on the petition of the Boston Paving company, to have released the attachment placed on city money due them, incident to the suit for personal damages.

The hearing lasted from 9.30 to 12.30. At the latter time the Paving company officials had not satisfied the master as to the reliability of the bond of the Philadelphia Surety company, which they represented. They wanted to go to Boston for more evidence. E. D. McVey, Esq., counsel for the attaching party consented. The hearing was adjourned to 2.30 this afternoon with the attachment still in force.

WELCOME TO OUR ATHLETES.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 13.—The newspapers here extend the most cordial welcome to the Yale and Harvard athletes, who arrived at Southampton yesterday on board the American line steamer St. Louis, and who are to go into training at Brighton. The papers express the hope that the visit will be a success in every way except in the contests, where, however, they admit the trans-Atlantic university men will give a good account of themselves.

HE SURRENDERED

Edward Brogan Wanted on the Charge of Murder

HE CLAIMS HE WAS JUSTIFIED

In Shooting as the Man Annoyed Him.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LANCASTER, Pa., July 13.—Edwin J. Brogan, of Fulton Township, a carpenter, 48 years of age, with a wife and three children, came to this city today and surrendered himself to the district attorney, the charge against him being murder.

On Tuesday evening, R. Marion Wiley, aged 20 years, and a companion named John Wills, neighbors of Brogan's, passed the latter's place and threw stones at his dog. They started to run, when the crack of a pistol was heard and Wiley received a 38-calibre ball in his left lung. He died yesterday afternoon. Brogan claims that the young man had been in the habit of annoying him and that he was fully justified in doing the shooting.

MID-SUMMER NECESSITY

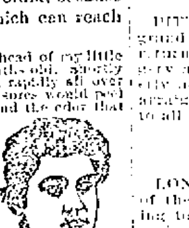

With its stock-taking and general overhauling makes known to us a larger assortment of Misses' and Children's Shoes in Colored and Black than we desire. We dislike the remedy, but it is the buyer's gain. Here they are, Misses', were $1.00; now 87 cents; sizes, 8 to 11, were 90 cents; now 75 cents.

Scrofula to Consumption.

Any one predisposed to Scrofula can never be healthy and vigorous. This taint in the blood naturally drifts into Consumption. Being such a deep-seated blood disease, Swift's Specific is the only known cure for Scrofula, because it is the only remedy which can reach the disease.

Scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild when only 18 months old. Shortly after breaking out it spread rapidly all over her body. The scabs on the sores would peel off on the slightest touch, and the odor that would arise made the atmosphere of the room sickening and unbearable. The disease next attacked the eyes, and we feared she would lose her sight. Eminent physicians from the surrounding country were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent, and gave it as their opinion that the case was hopeless and impossible to save the child's eyesight. It was then that we decided to try Swift's Specific. That medicine at once made a speedy and complete cure. She is now a young lady, and has never had a sign of the disease to return.

MRS. RUTH BERKELEY, Salina, Kan.

S.S.S. For The Blood

is the only remedy equal to such deep-seated diseases; it goes down to the very foundation and forces out every taint. It is purely vegetable, and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no mercury, potash or other mineral substance whatever.

HURRAH FOR THE BON MARCHE!!!

Hurrah for Brown Bros.! Hurrah for Bargains!

THE GREAT SALE CONTINUES

Come on! Come on! Don't drag behind, the best bargains go first. It's not simply thousands of dollars of Brown Bros.' stock, but thousands upon thousands of our own stock thrown in to make this sale one of the greatest in our history.

Every department has been gone through carefully and the figures in some instances cut to a fraction of former prices. Many things to half prices, and so on. This then in connection with Brown Bros.' stock, whose prices we annihilated, makes things very interesting at the BIG STORE JUST NOW.

Come today if you can, and avoid the multitudes of Saturday.

Closing Out Sale of Men's Shoes

In connection with the great sale of Brown Bros.' stock, we have decided to close out our entire lines of Men's Shoes. The whole department, which embraces all that's good, all that's new in Men's Footwear to go for almost any price they will fetch. Here's a list of bargains, if this doesn't meet your requirements, come in, make your own price—i. e., within reason, and the goods are yours. Also some extraordinary offerings in odd lots of Women's Boots and Oxfords will be placed at your disposal this day and tomorrow or while they last.

Robert—Talk about psychology as an aid to teachers! There is no measurement of psychological facts and therefore no psychology which is antagonistic to or will in any way conflict with the psychology of introspection. The methods are more developed but the general aim is the same—a purely qualitative analysis of the inner life; no quantitative calculation. That should settle it.

THREE CENT FARE

STARTED TODAY ON DETROIT STREET CARS.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

DETROIT, Mich., July 11.—Commencing today the Detroit citizens will inaugurate three-cent fares.

The formal announcement is made through an advertisement in the morning papers.

It is supposed that the move is made with the idea of influencing the people toward Gov. Pingree's municipal ownership scheme, which has for its object the institution of three-cent fares.

VISITED BREWERY

AGENTS FOR HARVARD BEER INSPECT THE PLANT.

A party of agents of the Harvard Brewery and their friends from Natick, Worcester and Boston, to number of 75 visited the plant of the concern yesterday and were royally entertained by General Manager Hallaway who was ably assisted by Local Agent W. H. Harrigan, and the company's celebrated travelling representative, George Rowley, formerly local agent. The Natick party came in a special train over the New York, New Haven & Hartford railway and backed in at the brewery arriving at an 11 o'clock. A fine German lunch was served and later in the day the Page company served dinner.

In the afternoon the party took a ride to Lakeview, in special electric cars, returning to the brewery about 4 o'clock. They were shown all through the great plant and all expressed surprise and admiration at its size and facilities. The Natick party left at 6 o'clock. Among the visitors were Rep. T. F. Sullivan, J. F. Sullivan, S. E. Hoey, T. F. Linsky, Selectman D. J. Murphy, A. J. Doon, J. A. Quesnil, P. Doherty, W. Perry, H. McDonald, Jr., J. V. Murray, C. E. H..g, Dr. Lewis, Dr. W. O. ELECTRIC WIRES

Wire Inspector McElholm Estimates Cost.

There is growing sentiment in favor of underground wires in Lowell for the purpose of doing away for good with the danger from fire and fatality that lurks in the net works of the overhead wires.

Already the city council and its committee on electric wires have taken up the matter, and Wire Inspector McElholm is working hard in the right direction.

A great friend of the new movement is Alderman Peirce whose most unfortunate illness prevents him from paying any further attention to municipal matters for some time to come.

It is proposed if possible to put all electric wires but trolley wires and their feed wires under ground. It will cost almost nothing to place the telephone wires under ground, for over a year ago the N. E. Telephone Co., anticipating the movement, placed conduits in the streets of Lowell and when officially requested to will undoubtedly run its wires in the conduits.

The committee on wires recently took the matter in hand, and requested Wire Inspector McElholm to furnish estimates to the cost of the conduits.

Inspector McElholm's report to the committee was as follows:

Estimate of comparative cost of wrought iron, cement lined and vitrified clay conduits, laid in concrete.

COST OF CONDUIT CONSTRUCTION LAID UNDER BLOCK PAVING.

1	$0.60	$0.50	$0.60
4	1.72	1.40	1.24
6	2.10	1.88	1.68
8	3.04	2.10	2.00
12	4.32	3.56	2.76
24	7.68	5.76	4.32
30	9.00	6.60	4.80

It will be seen from the table that these types of conduits come in the following order, the vitrified clay conduit being the cheapest:

1. Vitrified clay.
2. Cement lined.
3. Wrought iron.

This is due mainly to the difference in the cost of the ducts, the vitrified clay duct costing about five cents a foot, the cement lined pipe seven cents a foot, and the wrought iron pipe fourteen cents a foot. Owing to the manner in which the vitrified ducts are laid, less concrete is required than with the cement lined and wrought iron conduits, thus reducing the cost. The cost of laying conduits even the same size will vary largely in the different streets and in different sections of the city, owing to the work being done under different conditions in relation to the character of the soil and the obstacles in the shapes of water mains, gas mains, sewers, conduits, etc., which may be encountered during the progress of the work. The cost of the trench-work excavating, back filling and paving is the variable quantity which enters largely into an estimate of this kind, and the above figures can only be taken to apply to conduits laid during favorable weather, and under average conditions. The cost under more difficult conditions might easily be increased 10, 20 or even 30 per cent.

The cost of the subway will increase with the number of manholes which must be provided, a manhole 5x5x6 feet deep, costing about $80.

I have been able to obtain the exact cost of laying a 4 duct cement lined conduit under block paving in one of the streets of the 1895 district, the work being done by a company wishing to operate the same.

Feet of conduit estimated, 1484 feet.
Total cost, $1750.
Cost per foot, $1.20.

The conditions here are rather favorable. The amount paid by one of the companies for a 20 duct conduit of Camp terra cotta (?) is as follows:

Feet of conduit, 125 feet.
Total cost, $116.
Cost per foot, $1.26.

The conduit is laid in a macadamized street. As the work was let out by contract the cost of the same was probably less.

Very few wrought iron conduits have been laid, and those laid lately have been laid without concrete. The estimate on the cost of wrought iron conduits is based mainly on the difference in the cost of the cement lined and wrought iron pipe.

Thus the cost will be comparatively light and offers no barrier to the speedy work of laying the wires under ground. It will be necessary to place the electric light wires on an opposite side of the street from the telephone conduits.

Wire Inspector McElholm is working hard on the matter and if successful in Lowell a lasting favor, his attempt will have done the city of

YOUNG KLEPTOMANIAC

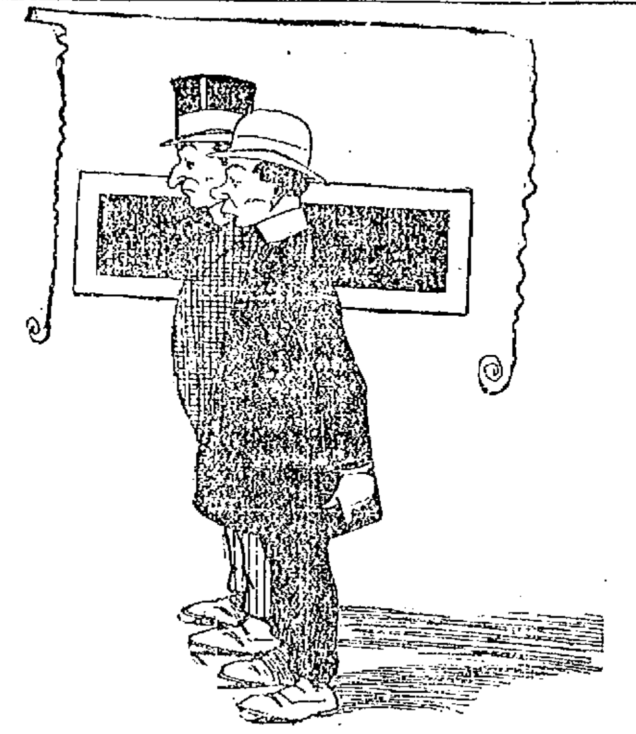

LITTLE MAMIE HARRINGTON COULDN'T HELP STEALING.

Little Mamie Harrington of Hawe street, who has been found to be a juvenile kleptomaniac, has been placed in a Boston home by Agent Richardson of the Humane society, with the hope that she may be broken of her growing bad habit. The little girl is only 10 years old, and is the daughter of respectable parents. Her mind is probably in this particular line, for try as they might her parents could not prevent her from stealing.

Monday she entered a house in Belvidere and stole a pocketbook containing a small sum of money. The purse was later recovered but the money had been spent. Tuesday afternoon the girl went into a house in Marour street and took another purse which she found and a young woman's hat in the hall. This money she also spent.

The child's mother appealed to Agent Richardson who took the girl with him and she showed where she got the purse. Her mother also said the girl had within a fortnight taken four skirts from yards in Stackpole street. She said she found them and her mother returned them. With good care and under the watchfulness of a good institution the little pilferer, it is hoped, will grow up an honest woman.

TO KILL HIS WIFE

Terrible Death of a Fall River Drunkard

NEIGHBORS RUSHED TO THE SCENE

In Time to Save the Woman's Life.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

FALL RIVER, July 22—While in a drunken frenzy, Martin Herron, 25 years old, so severely beat his wife about the head and face with a flatiron that it is feared she will die from the effects of her wounds.

Herron is a machinist and lives at 375 Bullington street. He had been acting in a peculiar manner all day but the neighbors thought little of it until about 10.20 last night, when they were aroused by a terrible scream from the Herron house and a number of them rushing in, held the maniac until the police arrived.

The house was in disorder while on the floor lay the victim of the man's fury, bleeding freely from her wounds. There were four children in the house at the time and the eldest, a boy of 7, said: "I saw papa strike mamma with a flatiron." Herron has been arrested before and left jail only two weeks ago after serving a term for a wife beating. At the police station he admitted that he tried to kill her with a flatiron.

FOR LABOR DAY

Committee Wants Common For Sports.

A meeting of the committee on commons was called for last night to act on several matters, but only Alderman Libby and Councilman Dillon put in an appearance, and an adjournment was taken until next Monday night.

A delegation of labor union men was present for the purpose of asking the committee's permission to use the South common for athletic events in connection with the Labor Day celebration. They will make their request at the next meeting. The amount appropriated by the city council for Labor Day is $500, an advance of $200 over last year. The athletic sports last year were held at Mountain Rock grove, and an admission fee was charged. This was necessary because nearly all the city appropriation was expended on the parade and nearly as much more was spent out of the labor union treasury. With an appropriation of $600 the labor men are satisfied that they can pay for everything without calling on their own funds and they believe the athletics should be held where the taxpayers will have an opportunity to see them free of cost. They decided on the South common and without doubt the permission will be granted.

GEN. SHAFTER

HIS FRIENDS WANT HIM RETAINED IN SERVICE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 11.—Major General Shafter will have reached the age limit in about three months and it is said his friends are working energetically to secure his retention in the service a few years longer. The friends of General Shafter argue that since the Department of the Pacific has become so important by reason of the acquisition of the Philippines, it is inadvisable to make a change in its commander just at this time. It is rumored that Brigadier General Merriam, at present in command of the department of the Columbia, is likely to succeed Shafter in the event of his retirement.

GUILD'S CHOICE

OF CHAIRMAN FOR THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14—The meeting of the State committee of the republicans yesterday, outside of the naming of the date of the convention and selecting the presiding and other convention officials, was interesting in indicating the feelings of the members on the Bates-Guild contest.

So far as the act of the committee in naming Mr. Melvin O. Adams for presiding officer may be considered it favors Guild. Mr. Adams is a leader in the Boston machine, and has always been classed as a Guild man.

Very few of the members attending the meeting would express their preference, but those who did were for General Guild.

WORLD'S RECORDS BROKEN.

John Lawson the "Terrible Swede," paced by tandems, rode a mile in 1.51 3-5, breaking the world's record for that distance on an indoor track. Clem Turville of Philadelphia, in the five mile professional event, went the distance in 11 minutes and 29 seconds.

WELCOMED HOME

Good Templars Receive Councillor Hector Turnbull

UPON HIS RETURN FROM TORONTO.

Delightful Reception in Pilgrim Hall.

Past Grand Councillor Hector Turnbull of the Good Templars who recently returned from the session of the International Supreme lodge at Toronto, was tendered a reception in Pilgrim hall, last evening, by the members of the different local and neighboring lodges.

Past Chief Templar Edward Turnbull called to order and after a short business session of Elrene lodge at which one member was initiated, introduced Past District Chief Templar Robt. W. Mountford as the presiding officer of the evening.

After a few appropriate remarks by the chairman E. S. Varney was called upon to deliver the address of welcome. In his remarks, Mr. Varney told of the pleasure it gave him to welcome Mr. Turnbull on behalf of Elrene lodge and the other lodges represented. He spoke of the honor conferred upon Elrene lodge and upon the city of Lowell in having a resident chosen to be one of three to represent the 7000 Good Templars in Massachusetts.

A dialogue, "Popping the Question," by Austin Fife and Edith McDonald of General Fiske lodge was cleverly given after Mr. Varney had concluded his remarks; and Past Chief Templar Luther S. Wood of the same lodge had a pleasant word to say of Mr. Turnbull on behalf of the General Fiske brethren. D. H. Jones also spoke for General Fiske lodge. John W. Boker of Mt. Zion lodge also had a good word to say of Mr. Turnbull, and Ira G. George of West Chelmsford and Mr. Middleton of Chelmsford Centre extended a welcome on behalf of their respective lodges. Miss Alice Kelley of Elrene lodge gave a reading very creditably and Miss Ina Chalmers, Whitey F. Johnson, District Secretary Mrs. Ida A. Tilton and others followed with remarks and all had a pleasant word to say for the man of the hour. Mr. Turnbull was the last speaker. After thanking all for the generous welcome extended him Mr. Turnbull went on to tell of his trip and although limited to a few minutes' time, he gave his hearers a pretty good idea as to what he saw, and the work accomplished during the session. He told of the many changes that were made in the ritualistic and signal work of the order and of the plans that were laid for the general advancement of the cause throughout the world.

The number of members now in the Good Templar order, he said, is 660,000, a gain of over 20,000 during the past two years. The next session will be held in Stockholm Sweden in 1901. Mr. Turnbull was highly pleased at the reception tendered the delegates from all over the world by the Canadian members and spoke of Toronto as a model city. Afterward a general good time was enjoyed, all being given an opportunity to meet Mr. Turnbull personally and shake the hand that has come in contact with all the notables of the order during the past two weeks. Refreshments were served by a committee from Elrene lodge who deserve special credit for having managed the affair so successfully. Those who were prominent in the arrangements were: Mrs. Ida A. Tilton, Mrs. E. S. Varney, Mrs. Whitey F. Johnson, Mrs. John J. Kelley, William J. Smith, Frank Cote, Alice Kelley, Ethel and Winnie Woodman and Leola Craigie.

RAISED THE FLAG

Patriotic Exercises at Edson Orphanage Yesterday

The little waifs of the Edson orphanage, connected with St. Anne's church held a most pleasant flag raising at the orphanage grounds on Anne street yesterday.

The flag is the gift of Mr. John Houghton of Cambridgeport and Mr. Crawford Burnham of this city gave the flagstaff. Both gentlemen are interested in the orphanage.

The flag was raised at 4.30 o'clock with simple and appropriate exercises, a few friends assembling to witness the event.

The first on the program was the singing of "America" by the children, assisted by several members of the boy choir. Then there were a few special prayers by the rector, Rev. Dr. Chambre, after which Mayor Crowley, assisted by Dr. Chambre, raised the flag and unfurled it to the breeze. The boys then saluted the flag, and the Star Spangled Banner was sung.

Mayor Crowley made a three-minute speech and he was followed by the curate, Rev. A. V. V. Binnington.

"Brightly Glows our Banner" was sung in closing and then the guests were invited inside to inspect some improvements recently made in the building. The play-room has been renovated, through the generosity of Mr. Geo. Chase of the Lowell Wall Paper company, and it now presents a bright, clean and attractive appearance. It has been newly papered and painted. The dado is of Lincrusta Walton, finished with an oak chair rail over which the wall is papered with a design particularly attractive for a boy's play-room. It is of a bluish tint, barred off in diamonds and in the centre of each diamond is a picture of one of our battleships, with its name beneath. The boys thus have the whole navy before their eyes.

The event of the afternoon came near being made doubly interesting by the presence of a former protege of the orphanage, Mr. Walter Gillespie, who is now a seaman on board the Dolphin. As soon as possible after his arrival in Boston he came to Lowell to pay a visit to his old home, and was urged to remain to the flag-raising, but was obliged to return to his vessel.

VOTED TO STRIKE

Action of Fall River Day Firemen.

WILL STRIKE IF CLAIMS ARE DENIED.

The Night Firemen Will Follow Their Example.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

FALL RIVER, July 11.—The day firemen of the different mills in the city held a meeting last night and voted to make a demand for an increase in wages to 17 cents an hour, actual time, and if this request is not granted to strike on Saturday. There were more than 100 of the men present and the meeting was most enthusiastic not a word of opposition being raised from beginning to end.

It was learned that the American Print Works had decided to grant the increase and that the Iron Works mill would follow suit. These two companies however, stipulated that a day should consist of 11 1-4 hours.

It was voted that if the demand for an increase is not granted the day firemen shall leave work at the end of their labor on Saturday with the understanding that the night firemen shall strike at the end of work Saturday morning. The night firemen will hold a meeting tonight and it is believed that concurrent action will be taken.

The local firemen's union consists of about 200 members, but it is believed that a large number of non-union men are in actual sympathy with the movement. If a strike should come, no assistance from the outside will be looked for, as the workmen feel capable of taking care of themselves in such an emergency.

CRICKET MATCH.

A cricket game in aid of the Lowell hospital will be played on the U.S.B. C. C.'s grounds at Wigginville, Saturday, July 15, when the U. S. Bunting cricket club will meet the Boston cricket club. The admission will be ten cents.

The Bunting cricket club will be composed of the following men: T. Southam, captain; J. Walker, A. Moss, J. Patrick, W. Gath, W. Simpson, H. Rowley, J. Waterhouse, W. Midgley, R. Hood, M. Burns and J. Hutchinson.

A LOWELL MAN GONE

Supposed to Have Been Killed at So. Acton

MILES B. GRAY, Missing From His Home, 17 Forrest Street.

But the Sun's Investigation Proves the Contrary—Miles B. Gray of Forrest Street is Not the Dead Man at Acton.

The recent death of a man at South Acton, the particulars of which have already been given in The Sun, has caused no little uneasiness in many homes from which men have been missing. The case at Acton not only aroused the authorities of that town but State Inspector Joe Whitney has been working on the case, making an investigation of the death. It will be remembered that about four weeks ago the man in question was picked up in a semi-conscious condition in a field in the rear of the freight house in South Acton. It is presumed that death was due to accident but the man's identity is what has puzzled every one who has been connected with the case, even to the hustling chief of police, L. E. Reed of Acton and the "State Sleuth," Joe Whitney, the officer who brought Bunco Reed to prison. The unfortunate man, prior to meeting with his violent death, was seen about Acton and gave the names of Wellington, Marston, Williams, Dalton, Tucker and Donohoe and at all time gave the first name of Frank. The description first sent out to the newspapers was that the man had tatoo marks on the arm, bearing his three initials. At the time of the sad fatality many of the newspapers stated that these initials were the only clue that would lead to the identification of the man. This assertion caused intense anxiety in one Lowell home where a wife mourns a missing husband who disappeared several weeks ago and who also had tatoo marks on his arm bearing the three initials of his name.

A Sun reporter learning of the latter disappearance started out on a tour of investigation thinking that possibly the dead man at Acton might prove to be the missing Lowell husband. The scribe learned that the Acton man whose weight was about 200 pounds, face quite round, good teeth, had a healthy, ruddy complexion, a good form, was clean shaved, hair on top of head, not parted but curly. The man was well dressed, his clothing having a fineness that indicated he was in well to do circumstances. On the shirt of the victim was discovered the firm name of a manufacturing firm of London, England. Inspector Whitney has endeavored to glean from the railroad men, from whose train the man was put off, some facts in the matter but as yet the case is shrouded in the deepest mystery. The Sun in today's issue produces a portrait of the face of the man taken after death.

THE LOWELL MISSING MAN.

The man missing from Lowell is Miles B. Gray, a well known carpenter residing at 17 Forrest street and up to the time of his disappearance in the employ of Contractor Charles Needham.

Whether the disappearance was premeditated or whether Gray had met with a fatal accident has caused considerable speculation and anxiety among relatives. There were good reasons for thinking that Gray was the unfortunate man who had met death at Acton. But The Sun proved this assumption to be erroneous as there are many who think that Gray has skipped to sea, as he has left home suddenly once before, and a separation followed between him and wife. A reunion subsequently took place and the home life of the couple has to all appearances, and according to the story of neighbors, been one of happiness. If the departure from home has been planned then the husband leaves his wife at a very critical time.

Gray is a man about five feet six inches in height, with dark hair, dark eyes, rather thin face, with Roman nose had a tatoo on his arm with the initials, "M. B. G." and had the tattoo of an anchor on one hand and a star on the other. On his head is a large scar, the result of an accident received when Gray was a boy of 15 years. Gray, on leaving home, was attired in a brown suit, white felt hat, tan lace shoes. Not only is the wife anxious as to the whereabouts of her husband but neighbors are equally anxious. The Sun publishes a picture of Gray as he appeared up to the day of his departure—just as his acquaintances knew him.

SOUCI'S DEATH

Is Now Being Investigated by Coroner Spooner.

PHOTOGRAPHER SAYS HE GAVE WARNING

Before the Flash Light Went Off.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BRISTOL, R. I., July 14. An inquest into the cause of the death of Napoleon Sans Souci, the lad killed by an explosion of flash light powder on the night the yacht Columbia was launched was held here today by Coroner C. H. Spooner.

Sans Souci was standing near a photographic apparatus when the powder exploded and he was thrown down by the concussion and sustained a fracture of the skull from which he died. Several other persons were injured.

A dozen or more witnesses were summoned by the authorities, including Photographer Mills of Providence, several of the injured persons and the physicians who attended them.

Mr. Mills, the photographer; W. H. Lawson, Mr. Mill's assistant, who was handling the apparatus at the time of the accident related the circumstances. He stated that he could not tell how flash light powder was made and he was unable to tell what caused the explosion. He stated that he warned persons in danger of being too near when the flash light was set off.

Adjournment was taken at 12:15 for lunch.

EX-CONSUL ROSE

Presented to the Presidnet Today.

JUST RETURNED FROM SAMOA.

Says Reports of Friction Were Exaggerated.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Herr Rose, the German ex-consul general to Samoa, who is passing through the city, en route to Germany, paid his respects to the president today. He was presented by Secretary Hay.

Herr Rose has just returned from Samoa. He says that the friction alleged to have existed in Samoa between the Germans on the one hand and the American and English on the other, was very much exaggerated. But, every vestige of friction, he says, disappeared with the appearance of the commissioners representing the parties to the tripartite agreement. The arrangement, which they made, he thinks promises to be perfectly satisfactory.

SENATOR MORGAN

Speaks on Issues in Coming Campaign

INCOME TAX WILL BE AN ISSUE.

Question May Again Go Before Courts.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SELMA, Ala., July 14.—Senator John T. Morgan, who arrived at his home yesterday says the issues in the coming campaign will be many.

"The more they are, the better for us," said Senator Morgan. "The congress that assembles in December will, in providing for the government of our new possessions, have to modify the tariff, which will materially strengthen the democratic position. Sugar will give you issue enough. We can no more place a tax on sugar from Porto Rico Hawaii and the Philippines than we can from Louisiana. Then in providing for the government of the Islands will come the arranging of a financial system. Silver has been the only money there, therefore the remonetization of silver will be again demanded by the democrats. If we can't get free coinage we will say give us five hundred or a thousand millions. Once we make an in-road, the rest of the party way will be cleared. Then again the issue will be injected of the income tax, which no effort has been made to collect. I shall as soon as congress assembles, introduce a joint resolution to require the president to collect this tax, which will no doubt throw it again into the Supreme court. Still another issue will be brought out by the re-apportionment by republicans in congress under the new census and the action to be taken on the 4th and 15th amendments to the Constitution, so far as it relates to states like Louisiana for instance which has disfranchised the negroes. As to trusts, both parties will denounce them in the strongest terms and neither do anything inimical to them."

That's What Judge Fallon Would do to Wife Beaters

South Boston Judge Says He Will Ask Legislature to Pass a Law to Allow Corporal Punishment for Wife Beaters.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14.—Judge Joseph D. Fallon of the South Boston district court in a wife-beating case, expressed himself vigorously today, saying: "If I have any influence with the other magistrates of this county and state, I will go to the legislature and ask that a law be passed to allow corporal punishment for wife-beaters. I hope to live to see the day when I can order the lash to be applied to the naked back of men who assault their wives."

The principals in the case were Dennis O'Brien and his wife, Annie, who is the mother of a ten-months-old child. O'Brien was released as he is the only support of the family and his wife is in a delicate condition. Mrs. O'Brien was directed by the judge to report at once any further cruelty on the part of her husband, in order that the court might make an example of him.

GOLD AND SILVER

FOUND IN RUINS OF THOMAS GRAVES HOUSE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

RICHMOND, Mo., July 14.—Neighbors, digging in the ruins of the house of Thomas Graves near here yesterday, dug up several jars of gold and silver, amounting to $2100. Graves and his sister who lived with him, were murdered and the house burned to conceal the crime. The man was a reputed miser and it is believed that the murderers hoped to secure his hoard. The neighbors are still digging near the house in search of treasures.

4000 CIGARS

SEIZED IN A CIGAR STORE IN PROVIDENCE.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 14.—The Internal Revenue officers this morning seized 1000 cigars at the store of Antonio Cappola, 260 Atwell's avenue. The cigars had been sent to Cappola and were not stamped and packed according to law. The officials of New York and other cities have been trying to locate the makers of the cigars for sometime and it is believed that the seizure in this city will result in their capture.

CASHIER MISSING

Middlesex County Bank Closed Its Doors

A SHORTAGE OF $100,000 DISCOVERED.

Valentine's Books are Now Being Examined.

BANK IS A STATE INSTITUTION

With a Capital of About $50,000.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The Middlesex County Bank of Perth Amboy, N. J., did not open for business today. Its president, T. B. Watson, gave out a statement to the effect that a shortage has been discovered, and that E.M. Valentine, the cashier, was missing. The defalcation is reported to be $100,000.

The details as to how the money was converted or misappropriated have not yet been made public. Expert accountants are now at work on Cashier Valentine's books and until they finish their work the exact amount of the shortage will not be known.

The chief of police of Perth Amboy said at noon today that from present indications the shortage appears to amount to $120,000.

Some weeks ago Cashier Valentine took his family to Ocean Grove. He spent Sunday there with his family, and was last heard of Monday when he left Ocean Grove, as supposed, to go to the Perth Amboy bank. He did not get off the train at Perth Amboy, but continued by. It has been learned that Cashier Valentine cashed checks amounting to between $3000 and $5000 at the Park National bank, the New York city correspondent of the Middlesex County bank.

The Middlesex County bank is a state institution, and in its last report to Bradstreet's showed a capital of $50,000 and a surplus of $50,000.

HELD IN $2000

Case of Lincoln Peasley Goes to Grand Jury.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SALEM, Mass., July 14.- Lincoln B. Peasley of Beverly Farms, charged with having attempted to set fire to a building owned and occupied by himself and several families, was held in $2000 for the grand jury today. Walter J. Clark, a former employe of Peasley testified that on the afternoon of July 5, Mr. Peasley told Clark that he had made plans to burn his paint shop, and that he had prepared a quantity of inflammable material. He offered Clark $50 to set fire to it, but Clark declined to do it. The lives of 12 individuals were endangered by the plan to burn the building.

AGENT WALES SECURED ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS TODAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CONCORD, N. H., July 14.—The civil service commission has held no session here today, but Special Agent George E. Wales has been engaged in securing additional statements from parties who are supposed to know something about the assessment circular. The results were of a negative character, however, for C. Evans, who did some of the printing for the republican state committee in 1896, says that he did not print the assessment circulars. Edward W. Merrill, document clerk during the same campaign, testified that he did not think they were even in the office.

Commissioner Brewer and Agent Wales leave town at 6:47 o'clock this evening for Boston, and do not expect to return here.

THE RELATIONS

Of Accounts Committee Were Wofully Strained

BUT HARMOMY FOLLOWED THE STORM

At Last Night's Troubled Meeting.

ALD. DERBY'S FEELINGS HURT

And Councilman Saunders Healed the Wounds.

In a partially lighted committee room in City Hall with no one to bother them but poor Janitor Delinage, who looked at the clock until it actually blushed, the three members of the committee on accounts, Alderman Derby and Councilmen Walker and Saunders held forth last evening and "chewed" at each other for an hour, only three cups of strong tea and a cat, being needed to make the meeting a complete success.

The object of the trio in coming together was to approve Fourth of July bills, but they worked in a little festive not on the program and at one time matters were hot, only respect for the law against dueling probably preventing real trouble.

Alderman Derby, chairman of the committee and a most sensitive little man, started the fun and Councilman Walker usually good natured and whose name will go thundering down the ages for his benign habit of splitting votes of thanks promiscuously, backed him up. Alderman Derby was inclined to be sore and somewhat wrathy and an unhappy victim of his somewhat wrath was Councilman Saunders, with a mind of his own and faculty of speaking it undeterred by his surroundings.

Alderman Derby began by patting the committee on the back for the unanimity displayed at its meetings. Then he got down to business and in a voice which some would describe as trembling with emotion, said:

"I didn't know that there was any thing but harmony in this committee and I have said that I didn't believe there was any committee which was a more harmonious one than ours. I felt the remark made by Councilman Saunders very much and I am not over it yet. I took it as an insult to two of the members of the committee. I feel that Councilman Saunders ought to go back to the body in which he made his original statement and say he was mistaken, if he feels that he said things that ought not to have been said. If, on the other hand, he believes the committee has not acted properly or anything, then it is his place to say to the common council that the committee is an unjust one and a change should be made. You said, Councilman Saunders, that the other two members of this committee would let any kind of a bill go through. If you do not think that is so, I think you should say so in the same place in which you made your statement. I was surprised that such a thing should come from you and I have heard of it from a dozen men that Councilman Saunders got after me. I think you owe us an apology in the common council chamber."

Councilman Saunders replied that he was called out of bed just before ten o'clock to attend the meeting of the common council. I made that statement in the heat of the moment and I later publicly apologized through the Citizen. I am willing to do anything that is proper to do.

Alderman Derby said he had not seen the apology in the paper.

Councilman Walker said he had seen it, but did not think it sufficient. The apology ought to be made in the common council chamber. If Mr. Saunders still thinks the committee deserves what he said, he had better have us investigated.

Councilman Saunders said that his statement in the paper was a good, clear one, whether Mr. Walker thinks so or not. "Mr. Walker," he said, "claimed I was not honest in the position I took on the school matter."

Councilman Walker said his statement about Councilman Saunders was in answer to what was said against the accounts committee.

Councilman Saunders said he would not take back one word he had said about the school system. I believe now as I always have, there are mistakes there.

Then Alderman Derby, so as not to be misunderstood, said that he believed Councilman Saunders to be honest but he made the statement when excited and the alderman very considerately concluded that an explanation before the common council would be sufficient balm for his wounded feelings and consequently it is our pleasure to announce that there will be no blood spilled over the affair. Councilman Saunders certainly erred in judgment in making his apology for had he put it in The Sun every one would have seen it, even Alderman Derby and the trouble of last evening would in all probability never have arisen. But like Alderman Derby, we are willing to believe that the councilman was still excited when he placed the apology in the paper and we shall forgive him this time.

With that little oil on the troubled waters, Councilman Saunders remarked that there had been stirring times in the city council.

And Councilman Walker who evidently wanted to get into the oiled surface, admitted telling Mr. Saunders he was not consistent and was talking for effect. "Your letter in the newspaper," said Mr. Walker, "gave the borrowing capacity of the city as $1600 when the city treasurer gives the information that it is $61,000."

Mr. Saunders said he got his figures from Alderman Dinon.

Mr. Walker said the reason he said Mr. Saunders was not consistent was because he voted for the school appropriation early in the year after speaking several times against it.

Mr. Saunders declined voting for the appropriation.

Then they talked over the weather, smooth paving and other subjects and finally came to a most harmonious finish, the atmosphere growing heavy with brotherly love and they reached adjournment. When they had finished Janitor Delinage shook his head knowingly, as he lowered the lights, remarking to the clock as he took a last look at the time, "Do you remember that celebrated saying of Puck?" and the clock licked affirmatively.

A NEW MONOPOLY

Supposed to be on Its Way Here

The city clerk's office this morning was thrown into a state of temporary excitement upon receiving a letter addressed to the city council which would appear to be the forerunner of a gigantic trust or monopoly which desires to control everything in Lowell but air with Vanderbilts and Goulds and Morgans and millions behind it.

On close inspection, however it does not appear quite so dangerous.

The letter is as follows:

To the City Council of Lowell:

If the aforesaid body will entertain an offer of money value for a franchise of a telephone, heat, light, power and traction nature, I will be prepared to submit proposition at their earliest convenience.

Yours very respectfully,
--Edward D. McVey.

THE GERMAN FLAG

Torn Down From Hotel In Honolulu

INTERNATIONAL EPISODE MAY RESULT.

Matter Will be Reported to Germany.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HONOLULU, July 7—Via Victoria, B. C., July 14.—There was a flag incident here on the Fourth of July which promises to be made an international episode. Carl Klemme, the proprietor of the Orpheum Hotel, daily decorated his building in American colors, hoisting the American flag over it and under the American flag the German flag. Later a friend of his wanted to use an American flag and Klemme good-naturedly loaned him his, leaving the German flag alone from the flagstaff.

J. H. West saw it and ordered Klemme to haul it down. There had been an ill-will between the two men before and Klemme refused to take orders from his enemy. West thereupon gathered a lot of soldiers from the transport Sheridan, and showed them the German flag floating on the Fourth of July in American territory. The soldiers at once proceeded to the roof, tore down the German flag and destroyed it and put into its place some red, white and blue bunting torn from the other decorations of the building.

West was today fined $150 in the police court for malicious mischief, and the German consul general will make a report of the matter to his government.

CHELMSFORD CENTRE

TROOP F CAVALRY HELD COMPANY DRILL LAST EVENING.

Troop F Cavalry held a company drill and business meeting last evening at their quarters at the town hall, Capt. Amos Leighton presiding. There was a business session of nearly an hour to consider matters relating to the annual muster in August. The matter of entering called out a lively discussion after which it was voted by a large majority that the same course be followed as in former years, that is, that it be left in the hands of the quartermaster. There was considerable discussion as to the band to be engaged. It was voted not to hire the Dunstable band which has always accompanied Troop F to camps. It was next voted to refer the selection of a band to a committee consisting of Private Justin Marshall, Private A. R. Lyman and Corporal Walter Perham and to borrow $1360 for camp expenses, voted to appropriate $50 to entertain honorary members at headquarters. A short drill followed the business meeting.

At the Unitarian vestry last evening there was a meeting of a committee of this and the Central Congregational church to arrange for a union Sunday school picnic. It was voted to endeavor to secure Willow Dale on the 25th, 26th or 27th of this month.

WHITNEY'S HOUSE

And Stables For His Thoroughbreds

BURNED DOWN LATE LAST NIGHT.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The magnificent country residence of W. C. Whitney, on Wheatley Hills, two miles from Westbury, L. I., was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock last night and at a late hour one of the three big barns in which Mr. Whitney keeps his thoroughbreds was on fire. There is small chance that it can be saved.

Mr. Whitney was not at home, having sailed for Europe a few weeks ago.

It is not known how much furnishings were saved, but it is understood that most of the furniture, personal effects and handsome fittings were burned.

The fire was discovered at 10 o'clock by one of the servants, who immediately gave the alarm. In a few moments the entire household was fighting flames that made rapid headway under a stiff wind from off the sound.

The servants formed themselves in two brigades. One fought the fire with buckets of water, and the other attempted to save the furniture and as many of Mr. Whitney's effects as they could reach.

The fire was so fierce in a few minutes that the most daring were driven from the burning structure and turned their attention to the barns. In the meantime the hostlers had liberated the horses and driven them from the stables. They had hard work to keep the plunging animals from returning to their stalls. Several dashed away and have not been found.

The blaze illuminated the country as far as the villages of Hempstead, Westbury and Garden City on the south and east and to the coast on the north.

Before the telephone was burned a message was sent to Mineola, Westbury and Hempstead, asking for aid. The fire departments were immediately called, but the only one that had arrived at midnight was from Mineola.

At the clubhouse of Meadowbrook hunt club the fire was observed as soon as it started and the members of the club who are summering there hastened to the assistance of the servants. Among the number were E. D. Morgan, Stanley Mortimer, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., and Clarence Mackay. The men formed themselves into a fire brigade and fought the flames gallantly.

One message from Hempstead said that the fire might have been of incendiary origin but there is nothing to back up this statement.

Just before the fire started everything had been locked for the night and not even a servant with a lantern was about.

All the buildings are of wood and are highly inflammable. The loss on the house alone is put at $50,000.

So far as is known there were no members of the Whitney family at home when the fire started. Mr. Whitney purchased his property at Wheatley Hills in 1886. The house, a manor once owned by the Motts, the wealthy Quakers, was remodeled and improved at a cost of $50,000. The land comprising the Whitney estate covers 460 acres. Mr. Whitney's house was the ideal of country comfort. The outlines of the manor house were preserved in the remodeling and all the conveniences of a modern household added. The house contained many costly treasures which Mr. Whitney had collected during his travels.

DWELLING HOUSE BURNED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WEBSTER, Mass., July 14.—Fire destroyed the dwelling house owned by Antonio Maranoski on Eddy street, early this morning. The house was a two-story wooden structure and the loss is estimated at fully $3000. The fire is thought to have been incendiary.

DRAPER HONORED

Milford and Hopedale Unite in Honoring Him

AMBASSADOR SPEAKS ON CONSULAR SERVICE

And Need of Italian Naturalization.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MILFORD, July 14—The Board of Trade of this town, comprising all the prominent business men of Milford and Hopedale had Ambassador William F. Draper as their guest at Woodland park, West Medway, yesterday. It was not only a gathering of business men, but an assemblage of his neighbors and friends, men of all religions, beliefs and political persuasion, or in other words it was a tribute to a man who has done much in his business and public career to advance the interests of Milford and Hopedale.

Woodland Park is one of the most delightful spots in Norfolk county, being situated on the banks of one of the streams which go to make up the mighty Charles. A score of special electric cars brought the townspeople and the ambassador also to the grove, where the day's festivities began shortly after 1 o'clock with music by the Milford band, which volunteered its services for the occasion. A genuine Rhode Island clam bake was served, after which some informal speeches were made, laudatory of General Draper.

At the head table were seated with General Draper the president of the Board of Trade, Mr. J. Allen Rice, the Rev. Lewis E. Wilson, pastor of the Unitarian church, Hopedale; ex-Senator W. H. Cook, Editor W. D. Leahy of the News, the Rev. Webster Woodbury, pastor of the Congregational church; the Rev. Fr. T. J. Fitzgerald, assistant pastor of St. Mary's church, the Rev. E. W. Whitney, pastor of the Universalist church; Charles F. Chalin, E. L. Whee, John P. Daniels and the Hon. Edward J. Slattery, late democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor and a former resident of Milford.

President Rice opened the speech-making by referring to the long and useful career of General Draper, of his interest in the welfare of the town.

The band played "Hail to the Chief" and the Milford and Hopedale people gave a general three cheers.

Gen. Draper expressed his delight at being among his townsmen again and he was doubly pleased, he said, that they were glad to see him. In view of diplomatic relations, which prohibit discussion of general questions, Gen. Draper spoke informally at first of local business conditions and then drifted gradually into a description of the diplomatic and consular service of the government, explaining the duties and responsibilities. He said that the diplomatic service of the United States cost only about $600,000 a year and that one of the great difficulties of the service was that only men of fortune could accept positions.

All serious difficulties arising over this unsettled status had thus far been avoided because of the willingness of both governments to waive certain conditions.

He spoke of the question of immigration and of the removal of the restrictions on importation of meats. During his term of office, he said the latter had been removed and the importation had since increased tenfold.

Gen. Draper was followed by Senator William H. Cook, Rev. Webster Woodbury, Rev. Thomas Fitzgerald, Hon. E. J. Slattery, and Rev. E. W. Whitney all of whom made ringing addresses, complimentary to the career of the distinguished man as a business man, soldier and diplomat.

After the speeches there was a business session of the board of trade, to consider the important question of sewerage.

LEUT. COL. SMITH

DIED AT HIS HOME IN ST. LOUIS LAST NIGHT.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 14—Lieut. Col. Smith, in charge of the United States Quartermaster's department, here, died at his home late last night. Except for his housekeeper, nobody else was in the house.

Yesterday Col. Smith complained of stomach trouble, but he was apparently not seriously ill.

Col. Smith was born in New York, entered the service at the outbreak of the Civil war as first sergeant of Co. D, 5th California infantry. At the close of the war he entered the regular service as second lieutenant of the 9th infantry.

LADIES' HATS FOR SUMMER WEAR
Summer headgear for ladies' wear is certainly more stylish, appropriate, and comfortable this season than ever before, and it's less costly, too, than we've ever known it to be in all the long years of our experience. Our milliners trim more hats now than ever before, and it's all because they do it better and cheaper than others. It's the period between seasons at present, and in order to keep millinery artists at work, we have decided to give Lowell a series of millinery surprises this week. Come in and get our prices.

WILLIAM W. PELTIER, Co C, Going to the Philippines.

The First to Leave Lowell For Manila

WM. PELTIER AND ALEX DUBE

Of Co. G. and 3rd. Nebraska Regiment.

The two men who are the first volunteers to leave Lowell for the Philippines are William N. Peltier of Co. G, and Alexander Dube of the Third Nebraska regiment. Mr. Peltier went to Porto Rico with his company and was on active duty while the company remained there, having escaped the sickness which prevailed. He had been a conductor on the Lowell and Suburban railway and resided at 130 Avon street. Mr. Dube went to Nebraska last summer with the intention of visiting the Mississippi exposition and while there enlisted in the Nebraska regiment just mentioned. With his regiment he went to Havana and served until the end of the war, leaving Cuba last December and receiving an honorable discharge in Augusta, Ga., on the 11th of May last, after which he returned to his home in this city, 308 West Sixth street.

Both men enlisted in Boston yesterday for service in Colonel Rice's regiment, and were mustered in. They were allowed until Monday to get ready and on that day they will start for Plattsburg where they will embark on a transport for the Philippines. They are two very healthy and rugged young men and ready to meet whatever fate befall them in the service of their country. Mr. Peltier stated that the officials in Boston assured them that if killed in the war, every effort would be made to return their bodies to their families in this country.

Both men seemed to take considerable satisfaction in this and stated to a Sun reporter that while they were determined to go to the Philippines, they realized that they were taking serious chances and that they might never return; still they are willing to risk their lives in defense of the flag under Colonel Rice.

GAMBLER'S DEATH

Born in Vermont, Became a Gambler

B. D. MAXHAM'S STRANGE CAREER.

Made Millions at Faro and Gave to Charity.

WAS PRESIDENT OF SEVERAL BANKS.

Gave His Last Days to Philantropic Work.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 14—Pious people to whom the story of his wicked past has always seemed apocryphal stood about the grave of Benjamin D. Maxham at Vineland, N. J., yesterday and prayed for his soul while the clods tumbled on his coffin.

Death was not the first metamorphosis that had come to Maxham, nor the greatest. A more complete, more incredible one was when years ago he came with millions out of that wild was where he was king of gamblers and began to buy and win his way, first into the esteem of the Vinelanders then into the kingdom of Heaven.

In the first he was plainly successful and the Vinelanders believe in their hearts that by his years of upright living, church work and unassuming charity he had blotted out past transgressions.

The measureless money he had made by gambling he had used in good deeds of which few persons ever knew. From master of full 50 faro banks in the mining towns of the west, where men staked their last ounce and lost to him, he graduated to the presidency of a national bank in the quiet New Jersey village where on Sunday last he finished the game of life. He quit winner by $5,000,000 but he could take none of it away, for as "Dupely" Dodge, who dealt bank when Maxham was a Vermont lad in roundabouts, used to say: "There is no pocket in a shroud."

At the last Maxham was trustee of the Presbyterian church. He helped found the New Jersey training school for feeble minded children. He had learned to distinguish shams, as men never learn it in the cloister.

From his boyhood home in Woodstock, Vt., Maxham ran away to sea, deserted the ship in Brazil, worked his way home, learned photography and wandered up and down the Pacific slopes coining money making pictures.

Road agents robbed him of $5,000 and every rag of clothing. Shouting through the woods he was heard by a German, who with his wife and another woman, was journeying about with a gin mill on wheels. Maxham waited, wrapped in a blanket, while the women made him a suit out of old sacking.

His chemicals enabled him to clarify the pedler's bad whiskey and he joined the firm. One morning the wife, in jealousy, shot her husband and fled, and Maxham owned the horse, wagon, whisky and goodwill of the outfit.

That was the nucleus of $7,000,000 he left the other day. Reaching Virginia City, he transferred the chattels from wheels to a lean-to, and called it "The miners' supply house." He handled dust for the miners and kept part of it as commission. Then he started a faro bank, where they might stake the rest and lose it. He prospered and his den was famous.

Maxham conducted a freight and stage business from Virginia City and Cheyenne and in his employ was an army of men and horses.

In 1852 he broke every faro bank in Frisco and then established faro banks of his own there. From that time on he was green baize monarch. At one time he was sole creditor and owner of the entire bonded indebtedness of the state of Montana.

WHY?

Why is it that no merchant can build up a large and successful business nowadays without advertising in the newspapers? Because people look to the newspapers for the announcements of the merchants. The dealer who does not make announcements to the people through the daily papers is soon forgotten by the buying public and quickly left behind in the race for business.

Talk to the people through the columns of The Sun and they will bear you in mind when they need anything in your line.

The Sun having the largest circulation in Lowell is therefore the cheapest and most effective advertising medium in the city. It is unquestionably

The campaign for license next year has commenced. Several of the papers are printing license campaign articles daily. They are unanimous in two things, first that the no license law is a failure, second that the police are not to blame for this and that the salvation of the liquor dealers depends upon a return to license next year.

It is amusing to find Nashua merchants kicking against an easier and shorter electric route to that city from Lowell, on the ground that it would injure trade with Nashua merchants. Well, if it does the Nashua merchants will be compelled to offer as good bargains as the Lowell merchants. That will result in better stores, better trade and less travelling expenses.

Between George Fred Williams and John R. McLean of Ohio there is a contest for the democratic nomination for vice president. It has started early and will no doubt be a lively one. The fact that Williams is from the East will probably stand in his favor, although an Ohio candidate might be useful in cutting down the majority for McKinley in that state. There is practically no opposition to Bryan for the first place on the ticket.

The Citizen talking of the war in the Philippines says:

"Of course it is going to take a great deal of money and many of our patriotic countrymen will give up their lives in the cause. But isn't it worth it? Is not the establishment of American sovereignty and the bringing of a higher civilization to these misguided people (who already use their superior Mausers with considerable skill) worth the expenditure of millions and the slaughter of thousands of our fellow countrymen?

These misguided people are proving themselves the superiors of some of the Americans who would rob them of their liberty. Americans are the misguided people in this case.

GEN. AGUINALDO'S GREAT SPEECH

The address of General Aguinaldo at the recent celebration of the declaration of the Filipino Independence marks him as a man of education and a statesman. It breathes the spirit of patriotism and appeals to the national pride and honor of the natives in a manner that will induce them to lay down their lives if necessary rather than submit to alien sway.

Grattan's famous apostrophe to his country after he had secured her legislative independence, "Esto Perpetua," is not more eloquent than the opening sentence of Aguinaldo's speech, when he apostrophizes his country thus:

"Beloved daughter of the ardent sun of the tropics, commended by Providence to the care of noble Spain, be not ungrateful to her salute who warmed you with the breath of her own culture and civilization.

It is true that she sought to crush thy aspiration for independence as a loving mother opposes separation forever from the daughter of her bosom. This but proves the excess of affection and love Spain feels for thee.

"My country, delicate flower of the east, scarcely eight months weaned from the breast of thy mother, thou hast dared to brave a great and powerful navy such as the United States, after barely organizing and disciplining thy little army. Yet we reply we are slaves to none nor will we allow ourselves to be deluded by soft words at the peril of our independence."

Other portions of his speech remind one forcibly of Demosthenes cautioning his people against the wiles of Philip of Macedon. The following is an example, although in English it has not the polish of the rhetorical finish that it undoubtedly had in the Spanish tongue, in which it was delivered:

"We might well accept this autonomy America offers, but what can we do with it if our ambition is independence and we are to accept it only to later overthrow by force of our arms the sovereignty of America? As I believe it is the intention of the autonomists to make use of treachery and deceit, we cannot accept such a procedure.

"We do not wish to be traitors afterward. We wish to show our character of frankness and sincerity and nothing more. Let us avoid the example of those natives who having at one time been colonists, accept autonomy to enable them to make their work surer once everything was prepared.

"History has given us an example of this in recent events. Let us persist in our idea, which is only the legitimate and noble aspiration of a people desirous at all costs to preserve their national honor spotless and as pure as crystal."

Those who undertake to call this Filipino leader a semi-civilized dictator seeking his own aggrandizement and ready to sell out his people, are deluding themselves and those who believe in them. There is not an American general in the Philippines today who could make such a forcible speech as that of Aguinaldo, from which we have just quoted. Is it any wonder that the people are so ready to die for their freedom from such an exhortation and such appeals to their patriotism and national pride?

This people may be conquered but not before a vast number of them are killed and as soon as they are able to reassert their power in a rebellion they will do so. Such a people cannot be oppressed. Who can deny them the right to fight for independence, so dear to every American heart. No American who is true to the principles of the constitution will favor a war of conquest against such a people in the face of justice and right without any plea other than greed of gain, extension of trade, the desire of an opportunity to rob a nation struggling to be free.

Here is another cure for the "kissing bug." One who has "been there" states that the kissing bug is what is termed the China bug in California. What is more important, however, is his specific for curing the poisonous bite of this terror. Firstly, avoid excitement and fear; secondly do not touch any part of your body with your hands or your fingers if you do not wish to raise welts on it, such as follow the stinging of nettles; thirdly and chiefly bathe the bite with sharp vinegar and salt quickly and freely and repeat every few hours to keep the fever down. These directions if followed will it is declared cause the swelling to subside, and the pain to disappear without further trouble and ill effects.

OFFER REJECTED

OF CADETSHIP BY DEIGNAN THE MERRIMAC HERO.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 14.—Secretary Long has received a letter from Osear F. Deignan declining the appointment to the naval academy offered him in accordance with an act of congress.

Young Deignan's declination is due, it is said, to his belief that he would find it extremely difficult to pass the examination for admission. With a view to aiding him in every possible way, the secretary offered to permit him to enter the academy without the usual entrance examination, but while appreciating the concession, the young man deemed it expedient to give up altogether his dreams of a career in the service.

Deignan's last duty was on the Asiatic station, from which point he was ordered to return to the United States and was mustered out that he might accept a cadetship at the academy. The department has no idea whether Deignan will re-enter the service but should he do so, care will undoubtedly be taken to promote him rapidly and finally present him with a commission as a chief warrant officer, provided, of course, that his conduct and attention to duty should merit such action. Beyond the advancement given to each enlisted man of the Merrimac's crew by the department, Deignan was the only one who received substantial reward by congress.

It is understood that when congress assembles, the president will re-submit the nomination for advancement of Naval Constructor Hobson and it is presumed that favorable action will be taken.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Anna Belle Sullivan, assisted by Miss Blanche Piper, celebrated her seventh birthday by entertaining about twenty of her young friends Wednesday evening at her home on South Highland street. Ice cream, cake and candy were served during the evening. The merry party dispersed, leaving behind them many tokens of friendship as remembrances of the happy event.

THE BIRTHDAY

OF MISS MAUDE MILLS OF BEACON STREET PLEASANTLY OBSERVED.

The twenty-first birthday of Miss Maude F. Mills, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Mills was pleasantly observed last evening at the residence of the parents, 526 Beacon street. The enjoyable event took the form of a lawn party and was held upon the spacious grounds surrounding the residence. Japanese lanterns were hung in an artistic manner about the premises and their soft glow descended upon one of the merriest parties ever held in that vicinity.

There were about 75 young people who responded to Miss Mill's invitation and they passed an evening of unalloyed pleasure amid the beautiful surroundings. On the lawn there were pretty tents arranged, from which refreshments were dispensed throughout the evening. Music and games helped to pass the time merrily and the young lady who had reached her majority received many words of congratulation, besides a number of useful and pleasing tokens of esteem on the part of her friends. It was midnight ere the happy assemblage dispersed to their homes.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

BOSTON OFFICER STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14.—While patrolling his beat about 11 last night, Patrolman Wood of division 9 came upon the prostrate body of a man on Crawford street. He was startled to find that it was that of a brother official, Patrolman Thomas O. Magrath, 39, 389 Main street, connected with the same division.

Wood saw that Magrath was still alive and he called the patrol wagon, in which Magrath was taken to the station, where a physician found him suffering from convulsions and general paralysis.

His removal was ordered to the city hospital, where his case was found to be serious and his name was at once put on the dangerous list.

Patrolman Magrath has been 11 years on the force, and is one of the most popular officers in the district. His wife was notified and she was at the hospital last night with her husband.

SOLDIERS SICK

Death Rate Never Less Than 20 Per Cent

NEBRASKA REGIMENT SUFFERED THE WORST

Has Only 200 Men in Its Ranks.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 14.—Advices received from the transport Newport from Manila, dated June 11, are as follows:

The volunteers are greatly debilitated in consequence of their hard campaigning through three months of tropic weather. Since the middle of May no volunteer regiment has had a sick list of less than 29 per cent. Most of them at present have 25 per cent. ill, and a few of the regiments have less than one third of their number on duty. The Nebraska regiment has suffered the worst. It came in from San Fernando a few days ago with less than 200 men in the ranks. The South Dakota followed yesterday with 275 men on duty. The Montana and Kansas regiments at San Fernando have not more than 280 available men each. The morning after the Washington troops took Morong only 268 responded to roll call. The Washington men have been engaged since March 12 in preventing the insurgent armies of the north and south from forming a junction at Laguna Bay, and they engaged at the same time with the enemy in opposite directions.

Twenty-four of the Nebraska officers are on the sick list, and the Montana, Washington and South Dakota regiments show twenty or more officers in the hospitals or sick in their quarters. These regiments have borne the brunt of the fighting. Their losses in killed and wounded ranged from 160 in the Montana regiment to 283 Nebraska men. The loss of the Kansas regiment is second to that of Nebraska, while the Washington and South Dakota regiments follow closely, each with losses of about 20.

The Oregon regiment suffered severely.

Of the regulars the Third artillery is the heaviest loser, its killed and wounded numbering 123.

HAMMER THROWING CHALLENGE.

J. C. Coffey, the crack Irish weight thrower, who landed in this country about four weeks ago, has written a letter to the management of the St. Augustin's Games, which take place on the Locust street grounds, Boston, Saturday, July 22, offering to meet John Flanagan, the world's champion hammer-thrower, in a special match at throwing the hammer, but he specifies that it must be from a nine-foot circle, as Gaelic rules prescribe and not from a seven-foot circle, as our rules call for. He has met Flanagan twice in this country and was defeated on both occasions.

His best throw with Flanagan was 149 feet, though he maintains that he can do 160 feet from the larger circle, which is better than Flanagan's world's record of 158 feet 41-2 inches made here last year. Coffey is six feet, four inches tall and towers above the present champion.

THE TALBOT BAND

Gave Highly Entertaining Concert Last Evening

The concert at North Billerica by the Talbot Mills band last evening attracted a very large attendance, perhaps the largest of the season. Not only was Lowell well represented but all the towns for miles around. The street railway service was much better than on previous occasions, but still there was room for improvement, judging from the expression of many persons who have up to date attended all of the open-air concerts at North Billerica. "They will never go there any more" if the conductors do not stop crowding people in between seats and on the sideboards. There is no necessity for it when cars are to follow in quick succession.

Of the concert, nothing can be said but praise. The program was carefully selected and each number excellently rendered, meriting the hearty plaudits of the large throng. Worthy of special mention was the clarinet solo, "Sonnambula" by Mr. John Fairbrother, whose clever rendition was applauded to the echo.

After the concert a collation was served in the vestry of the Baptist church to the members of the band by the Ladies' Aid society. The committee in charge was as follows: Mrs. Walter Holt, chairman; Mrs. Charles Barker, Mrs. H. W. Sheldon, Mrs. Frank Boone, and Mrs. Jennie Perry.

It might be here stated that it would be wisdom on the part of the many bicyclists who attend these concerts to procure lanterns for their machines. Many "lights" however, were noticed on wheels last evening.

IN THIRD PLACE

The Bostons Took Another Drop Yesterday..

YOUNG GARVIN PITCHED STRONG GAME

Collins Gave a Fine Exhibition.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14.—Chicago administered a terrific thumping to Pitcher Lewis yesterday and thereby shoved Boston into third place, Philadelphia moving again into second place. Boston is but two points ahead of Chicago. Brooklyn and Boston each lost a glorious opportunity to gain on the other.

The Chicagos started out with two triples and a single in the first inning after two hands were out, two singles, a double and a triple in the second and two singles and a triple in the fifth with a base on balls thrown in. That enabled them to score nine runs.

For the visitors the elongated Garvin was in the box, a young giant, standing 6 feet 3 inches who pitched his second league game and was very successful. He had excellent command and was sufficiently puzzling to keep the home team from scoring except for one inning.

The weather was again perfect and a crowd of fine proportions was out to see the last of the series and although victory perched on the other side, could not but enjoy the sharp and free hitting and excellent fielding with which the game abounded. The Bostons made two splendid double plays. The Chicago infield had a great deal to do, the second and third baseman and shortstop having 19 assists and 25 chances.

Young Green did some great hitting, making two triples. Mertes also had a jubilee with a triple and two singles and electrified the crowd by stealing home while Lewis was pitching the ball. Lange hit splendidly and played a fine game at first. Stahl did the best batting for Boston with a triple and two singles, and Lowe. Frisbee and Lewis also did good work with the stick.

The score by innings:

Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	0	0	—4

Earned runs, Chicago 8, Boston 1. Two-base hit, Donahue. Three-base hits Green 2, Lange, Mertes, Stahl. Sacrifice hits Mertes. Stolen bases, Lange, Mertes, Demont. First base on balls, Lange, Wolverton, McCormick, Tenney 2. First base on errors, Chicago 1. Left on bases, Chicago 7, Boston 5. Struck out, Frisbie. Double plays, Long and Tenney; Long, Lowe and Tenney. Time—2h, 10m. Umpires, Messrs. Lynch and Connolly. Attendance, 3500.

The other games resulted as follows:
St. Louis 8, Brooklyn 2.
Philadelphia 5, Cleveland 1.
Pittsburg 9, New York 5.

CITY HALL NOTES.

The city treasurer received yesterday notice from the clerk of courts in Cambridge that a satisfactory bond had been filed by the Boston Paving company in the suit brought against them by John Holland of Lowell, and the attachment in force on the money due the company from the city of Lowell to July 1, amounting to slightly over $5200, was removed. The money was drawn by the company.

Mrs. Charles H. Allen arrived in this city yesterday but will immediately rejoin her husband and daughter, Miss Bertha Allen on the Dolphin at Portsmouth. Mr. Allen and family will come to Lowell next Wednesday.

BIGAMIST DOCTOR

Requistion For His Extradition From California

By Associated Press to The Sun.

AUGUSTA, Me., July 13.—Governor Powers today granted a requisition for of Fall River, Mass., on the charge of the surrender of Dr. Walter H. Gwynne bigamy, alleged to have been committed in Dover, Me.

Eva May Lake of Fall River was sent to Corinth, by her father, Edward Lake of Fall River, to separate her from Gwynne. Gwynne came to Maine and married the girl, after which they went to California. Gwynne had a first divorce and it is alleged that he committed bigamy by the second marriage.

The Governor would not grant the requisition until Mr. Lake had guaranteed there would be no expense to the state.

WARM APPROVAL

Of Valksraad's Franchise Proposal by British Gov.

A FEW MINOR ALTERATIONS SUGGESTED

These Were Accepted by the Transvaal.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 14.—The Digger News, the Boer organ in London, has received the following dispatch from Johannesburg dated July 1:

"A cable dispatch from the British government has been received by the Transvaal government conveying a cordial message of warm approval of the Volksraad's franchise proposals. The message also suggests minor alterations and tenders friendly advice. The Transvaal in replying, gratefully accepts the suggestions and consideration of the reform bill now before the Raad has been deferred in accordance with the British cabinet's advice. As a result of this development the peace party has come out triumphant and Lord Salisbury is acclaimed as the vindicator of the moderates."

CHAMBERLAIN'S DENIAL.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 14.—The secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Jos. Chamberlain, when questioned regarding the Johannesburg dispatch to the Digger News today, said to a representative of the Associated Press that there was not a word of truth in it from beginning to end.

During a Wild West Entertainment

By Associated Press to The Sun.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 14.—During a performance at Summerville on Lake Ontario, last night, the Tuscarora Indians who have been giving a Wild West entertainment there, fired into the crowd. The injured are: Joseph E. Marceile, 7, shot wounds in right leg and two in left; Raymond Broten, 9 years old, several wounds in right thigh; Miss Helen Wilkinson, wounded in the body and limbs. The shooting was accidental, loaded cartridges having been used by mistake.

GREAT CRICKET MATCH.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 14.—The annual Eton and Harrow cricket match opened today at Lord's with brilliant weather and an immense attendance. There was the usual gay gathering of fashionable people, ladies predominating. A large number of lunch parties were given on the grounds, which had the usual picnic appearance.

Eton won the toss, went to the bat and at luncheon time had scored 212 runs for six wickets down.

After the usual resolution, the convention adjourned.

NATIONAL FETE

Is Being Observed in Paris Today.

Reviews Carried Out Without Incident.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PARIS, July 14.—Magnificent weather today favored the national fete day. The public and many private buildings were decorated with flags. M. Deroulede and Marcel-Habert and several hundred members of the Patriotic League marched to the Place de la Concorde and deposited a wreath at the foot of the Strasburg statue amid cries of "Vive l'armee!" "Vive Deroulede!" M. Deroulede in turn shouted "Vive la Republique Francaise, Vive la Nation Francaise, Vive l'Alsace-Lorraine."

He then requested the leaguers to disperse. Some of them attempted to continue the demonstration but the police scattered them. Dispatches from the various garrisons, including Rennes report that the reviews were carried out without incident. The troops were acclaimed with the usual shouts of "Vive l'armee!" "Vive la republique!"

Enormous crowds wended their way towards Long Champs from early morning to witness the military reviews. Stringent precautions were taken for the preservation of order. The cabinet ministers began to arrive at 3 o'clock. The president of the chamber of deputies, M. Deschanel, with the officials of the house, were welcomed with shouts of "Vive la Republic" and "Vive l'armee!" But there were isolated cries of a seditious character which led to some arrests near the Carrefour des Cascades. President Loubet left the Elysee palace at 2.30 p. m., in a carriage drawn by four horses. He was accompanied by the minister of war, General the Marquis de Galliffet, and General Bailloud. In a second carriage was the premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, and others. Along the route the president was greeted with cries of "Vive Loubet" and "Vive la Republique!"

When he arrived at Long Champs the shouts were redoubled. After receiving the congratulations of the officials the president turned towards the crowds and bowed repeatedly. General Kilmartin handed over the command of the troops to General Brugere the military governor of Paris, and the review began forthwith. General Brugere took up a position in front of the presidential stand and the march past occurred. As each regiment passed the presidential stand its flag was dipped and the president rose and saluted the colors. Each time he was greeted with the cheering for the army.

Suddenly a roar of applause ascended from the distant masses of spectators and increased in volume as Major Marchand, the African explorer and principal figure on the French side in the Fashoda incident, appeared in view and amidst increasing excitement defiled in front of the president as the air rang with deafening cries of "Vive Marchand!" and "Vive l'armee!" Hats and handkerchiefs were thrown upwards on all sides. As President Loubet arose the cheers were redoubled and continued for some time.

The review was concluded at 4.20 p. m.

DR. MADDEN DEAD

POPULAR YOUNG BOSTON PHYSICIAN PASSES AWAY.

The many Lowell friends of Dr. J. J. Madden, one of Boston's youngest and most promising physicians, will be deeply pained to hear of his death, which occurred on Wednesday at his home, 13 Oneida street, after an illness dating back to early spring which he bore with remarkable fortitude and that calm resignation which crowns a life well spent.

The deceased, was a native of the South End and the son of ex-Representative Hugh A., and the late Catharine Madden, his father being one of Boston's most prominent Irishmen and formerly a power in municipal politics. The young doctor received his education in the public schools of Boston and later attended Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, Md., from which he was graduated in the class of '92 with highest honors. He then took the four years' course at Harvard Medical School and in 1897, upon receiving his certificate for the State Board of Registration was second in a list of over 100 competitors.

Dr. Madden, until illness overtook him, practiced with much success in South Boston. Quick to learn and of a studious nature, he soon attracted the attention of many of his older brothers in the profession and a bright future in the field of medicine was assured him. While a student he was also a lover of athletics and while at college was noted as an all round athlete. He was a most companionable man, amiable, generous to a fault and the soul of honesty and was beloved by all who knew him. He was 25 years old and is survived by his father and one sister, Miss Mary C. Madden, to whom is extended the heartfelt sympathy of his many Lowell friends.

The funeral took place this morning from the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston, where solemn high mass was sung, a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends attending. The remains were interred in the Calvary cemetery.

SIMMONS HELD IN $1500.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 14.—The case against W. T. Simons, Jr., and William Simons, 3rd of Little Compton charged with assault on a man named Pease in that town, were this morning in the district court here continued for two weeks. The bail was after argument by counsel, reduced to $1500.

OVERCOME BY HEAT

Frank Kerwin is at St. John's hospital in a very precarious condition having been overcome by heat.

Robbed the Residence of Levy L. Brown

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Two masked burglars, one colored and one white, broke into No. 9 West 60th street, the residence of Levy L. Brown, who with his wife is at his summer home at Adams Mass., and stole about $1,000 worth of goods this morning. They held pistols to the head of Mr. Brown's grandson to keep him quiet and locked him in a wardrobe before leaving. They were chased into the Park avenue railroad tunnel, where the negro was captured. He said he was Frederic Rand and 32 years of age.

KISSING BUGS

SEVERAL CAPTURES BEING MADE DAILY AND SPECIMENS BROUGHT TO THE SUN OFFICE.

Several specimens of the kissing bug, nine in all, were brought into The Sun office today, but that captured by Thomas W. McGrath for size and ferociousness eclipsed everything. It looked more like a small bird than the gigantic insect it was. The boy who resides on Suffolk street, captured the bug near the corner of Lagrange and Suffolk streets. The McGrath boy caught the large insect in his hat, and forced its head and finally its whole body into a bottle.

Walter Kivlan, a boy, and Ernest Waltham of Co. G, who resides in Colburn street, brought into the office two other large specimens of the much dreaded bug. Waltham caught the insect on Moody street this noon.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Charles Smithies of 7 Waite street, while standing on her lawn observed one of the insects, as she at first judged from the illustration of the insect in The Sun of the day previous. She stunned it with a near by dust pan, and yesterday and today is exhibiting the insect to envious friends and neighbors. It is a fine specimen of the osculatory insect.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION.

The United States Industrial Commission meets in Boston, July 17, 1899, at the Home Market club rooms. They would like to hear from officers of trades and labor unions and employes and manufacturers. If there are enough witnesses and it would be inconvenient for them to go to Boston, the commission will come to Lowell, but it wants to know the names of the witnesses in advance and if all such persons as wish to testify as to the relations etc., between employer and employe, capital and labor, etc., will send their names and addresses to Albert Clarke, 77 Bedford street, Boston, Mass., a member of the commission they will be summoned and paid to attend.

CONFECTIONERS' OFFICERS.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

FRONTENAC, N. Y., July 14.—The National Confectioners' association today elected the following officers:

President, A. J. Walter, St. Louis.

Vice president, Martin Dawson, Chicago.

Secretary, F. D. Seward, St. Louis.

Treasurer, A. M. Clausen, New York.

The convention adjourned.

DEATHS.

CONROY—Frank Conroy died at his home, 49 Manchester street, last evening, aged 17 years, 6 months. He leaves one brother, Daniel Conroy.

LAROIE—Lea aged 2 months and 6 days, child of John and Lea Laroie, died yesterday at the home of her parents, 16 Dodge street.

CALLAHAN—Mary Callahan, the wife of Thomas Callahan, died this noon at her late home, 35 Bartlett street, after an illness of about five months, from heart difficulty. The deceased had been a resident of Lowell from childhood, and was highly esteemed in the community for many excellent and Christian traits of character. She was a member of the Sacred Heart and Immaculate Conception sodalities of the Immaculate Conception church. She is survived, besides her husband, by two daughters and one son, the former being Mrs. Lillian Travers of Boston, Miss Mary Callahan of Lowell, and the latter, Mr. George Callahan of the Lakeview Theatre. The funeral will take place Monday forenoon, from the Immaculate Conception church.

STEVENS—Mrs. [illegible] F., wife of Sampson Stevens of Chelmsford, died this morning at [illegible] at her home in South street, aged 73 years. While Mrs. Stevens had not been in robust health of late, she was not considered seriously ill until Sunday. She was a native of Westford, and besides her husband, she is survived by four children, Merrill S. Stevens of Chelmsford, Charles H. Stevens, Mrs. Maria Jenkins and Mrs. Georgiana Montague, all of Somerville. Mrs. Stevens was a member of the Baptist church. Funeral services will be held from the family home, Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

FUNERALS.

BERHAUD—The funeral of Arthur Alphonse, child of Renaie and Mary Berhaud, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, 8 Sawtelle Place. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, E. Chelmsford, under the direction of Joseph Albert.

CONROY—The funeral of Frank Conroy will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence.

BROWN—The funeral of the late John E. Brown took place this forenoon at 10 o'clock from [illegible] Charles street. Services were impressively conducted by Rev. N. W. Matthews, pastor of the First Primitive Methodist church. The interment was in the Lowell cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Currier.

SMITH—The funeral of Nettie Smith took place from the home of parents, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. [illegible] was in the Catholic [illegible] the direction of Undertaker [illegible].

MILITARY NOTES

The Coming Outing of Company M.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE LAST NIGHT.

Dewey Grove to be the Scene of Outing.

A special meeting of Co. M was held last evening to make final arrangements for the anniversary of the surrender of Santiago in which the company took part a year ago. The observance of the day will take the form of an outing at Dewey Grove next Monday afternoon, the party leaving the armory on special electrics at 1 o'clock. In addition to the present members of the company, all of the men who were with the company at Santiago are invited to be present and participate in the day's festivities. They are requested to wear their Khaki uniforms if they have them. An interesting program of sports has been arranged, which will open with a ball game between teams from the company captained by Privates Hildreth and John Scott; the other events will include 100 yards' dash, half mile running race, high jump, hop, step and jump, potato race and three-legged race. Suitable prizes have been procured for the winners of the different events. At the conclusion of the sports dinner will be served and the festivities of the day will conclude with dancing until 10 o'clock. The arrangements for the occasion are in charge of an efficient committee consisting of Captain Milton, Lieutenants Gillow and McNulty, Sergeants Howard, Caldwell and Ralph Hill, Corporal Dickey, Musician Oliver Fiske, Privates Scott, Hildreth and Carr.

It is stated that Major Greig would willingly accept a captaincy in any of the new regiments. It goes without saying he would make an excellent man for such a place. An appointment of this kind, however, would probably terminate his life as a civilian. He has always leaned toward army life and would like nothing better than a chance for permanent service.

That malaria stays with one is indicated in the fact that several of Company M's soldiers have had chills recently. Lieut. McNulty has never been the same man and his physicians say it will be a long time before he will get it entirely out of his system.

CYCLING NEWS

There was a party of five cyclists who started for Tewksbury Centre about half past seven Wednesday evening, that had pretty hard luck. One got a puncture, one had his tire blown out and a third broke his fork. They are beginning to think that Tewksbury Centre is a hoodoo.

Tom Linton, the widely known English middle-distance rider, accompanied by his manager, Dudley Marks, and Pacemaker and Motor Expert Caballor, arrived in Boston early yesterday morning. This is the second visit of Linton and Marks to America during recent years, so that both were pleased to be welcomed by many friends they have made in Boston cycledom.

Thomas Harrison, a 16-year-old boy, of New York, is credited with riding a paced mile in 1.11. He wants to race any amateur five miles, preferring to meet Le Roy See, the amateur skater and cyclist, who is proving a fast rider behind pace. Charles T. Earl of the Kings' County Wheelmen says he will accept Harrison's challenge.

SLOAN WON HIS RACE

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 14.—Tod Sloan finished first on Swirl in the race for the Ditton plate of 200 sovereigns at Sandown Park today. Muscovado was second and All Sunshine was third. Sixteen horses ran.

The betting was 100 to 12 against Swirl.

ROBBERS ARRESTED

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 14.—Deputy Marshal Meiklejohn of Montana reached here yesterday with Dave Putty and Bud Nolan, arrested at Dillon, Mont., June 26, charged with several post office robberies in Wyoming and believed to be the principals in the Union Pacific hold-up on June 2. The men have been identified by Postmaster Budd of Big Piney, Wyo., as the parties who robbed his office in August last. They have also been identified as the men known in Wyoming as the Roberts brothers.

THE WEATHER.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Fair weather tonight and Saturday; westerly winds.

MARKET CONCESSION

OF SANCTI SPIRITUS REVOKED BY MUNICIPAL BOARD.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HAVANA, July 14.—The city market concession of Sancti Spiritus extending over a period of twenty years has been revoked by the municipal board on the ground that it was a Spanish grant and prejudicial to the interests of the city.

The civil governor, however, has ordered a suspension of the execution of the decision of the municipal board which allows a continuation of the concession. This led to a lively dispute. It transpires that the order to suspend the municipal decision came from General Wilson, governor of the consolidated departments of Matanzas and Santa Clara and the mayor and other municipal authorities are indignant. They consider they have been unwarrantably interfered with and announce that they will resign in a body unless the decision is altered.

LADY SALISBURY IMPROVING.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

The methods are more developed but the general aim is the same—a purely qualitative analysis of the inner life; no quantitative calculation. That should settle it.

THREE CENT FARE

STARTED TODAY ON DETROIT STREET CARS.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

DETROIT, Mich., July 14.—Commencing today the Detroit citizens will inaugurate three-cent fares.

The formal announcement is made through an advertisement in the morning papers.

It is supposed that the move is made with the idea of influencing the people toward Gov. Pingree's municipal ownership scheme, which has for its object the institution of three-cent fares.

VISITED BREWERY

AGENTS FOR HARVARD BEER INSPECT THE PLANT.

A party of agents of the Harvard Brewery and their friends from Natick, Worcester and Boston, to number of 75 visited the plant of the concern yesterday and were royally entertained by General Manager Halloway who was ably assisted as host by Local Agent W. H. Harrigan, and the company's celebrated travelling representative, George Rowley, formerly local agent. The Natick party came in a special train over the New York, New Haven & Hartford railway and backed in at the brewery arriving about 11 o'clock. A fine German lunch was served and later in the day the Page company served dinner.

In the afternoon the party took a ride to Lakeview, in special electric cars, returning to the brewery about 4 o'clock. They were shown all through the great plant and all expressed surprise and admiration at its size and facilities. The Natick party left at 6 o'clock. Among the visitors were Rep. T. F. Sullivan, J. F. Sullivan, S. E. Hoey, T. F. Linsky, Selectman D. J. Murphy, A. J. Doon, J. A. Quesnil, P. Doherty, W. Perry, H. McDonald, Jr., J. V. Murray, C. E. Hogg, Dr. Lewis, Dr. W. O. Copithorn, all of Natick; L. F. Gould of South Framingham; Charles C. Henry of Wellesley Hills; R. C. Erb, Boston agent of the Harvard Brewing Co.; J. V. Moncvay, Worcester agent; J. W. Page of Boston and others.

ELECTRIC WIRES

Wire Inspector McElholm Estimates Cost.

There is growing sentiment in favor of underground wires in Lowell for the purpose of doing away for good with the danger from fire and fatality that lurks in the net works of the overhead wires.

Already the city council and its committee on electric wires have taken up the matter, and Wire Inspector McElholm is working hard in the right direction.

A great friend of the new movement is Alderman Peirce whose most unfortunate illness prevents him from paying any further attention to municipal matters for some time to come.

It is proposed if possible to put all electric wires but trolley wires and their feed wires under ground. It will cost almost nothing to place the telephone wires under ground, for over a year ago the N. E. Telephone Co., anticipating the movement, placed conduits in the streets of Lowell, and when officially requested to will undoubtedly place its wires in the conduits.

The committee on wires recently took the matter in hand, and requested Wire Inspector McElholm to furnish estimates to the cost of the conduits.

Inspector McElholm's report to the committee was as follows:

Estimate of comparative cost of wrought iron, cement lined and vitrified clay conduits, laid in concrete.

COST OF CONDUIT CONSTRUCTION LAID UNDER BLOCK PAVING.

1	$0.60	$0.50	$0.66
4	1.72	1.40	1.23
6	2.40	1.88	1.68
8	3.01	2.40	2.04
12	4.32	3.36	2.76
24	7.68	5.76	4.32
30	9.60	6.60	4.80

It will be seen from the table that these types of conduits come in the following order, the vitrified clay conduit being the cheapest:

1. Vitrified clay.
2. Cement lined.
3. Wrought iron.

This is due mainly to the difference in the cost of the ducts, the vitrified clay duct costing about five cents a foot, the cement lined pipe seven cents a foot, and the wrought iron pipe fourteen cents a foot. Owing to the manner in which the vitrified ducts are laid, less concrete is required than with the cement lined and wrought iron conduits, thus reducing the cost. The cost of laying conduits even the same size will vary largely in the different streets and in different sections of the city, owing to the work being done under different conditions in relation to the character of the soil and the obstacles in the shapes of water mains, gas mains, sewers, conduits, etc., which may be encountered during the progress of the work. The cost of the trench-work excavating, back filling and paving is the variable quantity which enters largely into an estimate of this kind, and the above figures can only be taken to apply to conduits laid during favorable weather, and under average conditions. The cost under more difficult conditions might easily be increased 10, 20 or even 30 per cent.

The cost of the subway will increase with the number of manholes which must be provided, a manhole 5x5x6 feet deep, costing about $50.

I have been able to obtain the exact cost of laying a 4 duct cement lined conduit under block paving in one of the streets of the 1896 district, the work being done by a company wishing to operate the same.

Feet of conduit estimated, 1481 feet.

Total cost, $1750.

Cost per foot, $1.20.

The conditions here are rather favorable. The amount paid by one of the companies for a 30 duct conduit of camp terra cotta tile is as follows:

Feet of conduit, 225 feet.

Total cost, $1116.

Cost per foot, $4.96.

The conduit is laid in a macadamized street. As the work was let out by contract the cost of the same was probably less.

Very few wrought iron conduits have been laid, and those laid lately have been laid without concrete. The estimate on the cost of wrought iron conduits is based mainly on the difference in the cost of the cement lined and wrought iron pipe.

Thus the cost will be comparatively light and offers no barrier to the speedy work of laying the wires under ground. It will be necessary to place the electric light wires on an opposite side of the street from the telephone conduits.

Wire Inspector McElholm is working hard on the matter and if successful in his attempt will have done the city of Lowell a lasting favor.

YOUNG KLEPTOMANIAC

LITTLE MAMIE HARRINGTON COULDN'T HELP STEALING.

Little Mamie Harrington of Howe street, who has been found to be a juvenile kleptomaniac, has been placed in a Boston home by Agent Richardson of the Humane society, with the hope that she may be broken of her growing bad habit. The little girl is only 10 years old, and is the daughter of respectable parents. Her mind is probably in this particular line, for try as they might her parents could not prevent her from stealing.

Monday she entered a house in Belvidere and stole a pocketbook containing a small sum of money. The purse was later recovered but the money had been spent. Tuesday afternoon the girl went into a house in Mansur street and took another purse which she found under a young woman's hat in the hall. This money she also spent.

The child's mother appealed to Agent Richardson, who took the girl with him and she showed where she got the purses. Her mother also said the girl had within a fortnight taken four skirts from yards in Stackpole street. She said she found them and her mother returned them. With good care and under the watchfulness of a good institution the little pilferer, it is hoped, will grow up an honest woman.

TO KILL HIS WIFE

NEIGHBORS RUSHED TO THE SCENE

In Time to Save the Woman's Life.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

FALL RIVER, July 22.—While in a drunken frenzy, Martin Herron, 25 years old, so severely beat his wife about the head and face with a flatiron that it is feared she will die from the effects of her wounds.

Herron is a machinist and lives at 275 Bullington street. He had been acting in a peculiar manner all day but the neighbors thought little of it until about 10.30 last night, when they were aroused by a terrible scream from the Herron house and a number of them rushing in, held the maniac until the police arrived.

The house was in disorder while on the floor lay the victim of the man's fury, bleeding freely from her wounds. There were four children in the house at the time and the eldest, a boy of 7, said: "I saw papa strike mamma with a flatiron." Herron has been arrested before and left jail only two weeks ago after serving a term for a wife beating. At the police station he admitted that he tried to kill her with a flatiron.

FOR LABOR DAY

Committee Wants Common For Sports.

A meeting of the committee on commons was called for last night to act on several matters, but only Alderman Libby and Councilman Dillon put in an appearance, and an adjournment was taken until next Monday night.

A delegation of labor union men was present for the purpose of asking the committee's permission to use the South common for athletic events in connection with the Labor Day celebration. They will make their request at the next meeting. The amount appropriated by the city council for Labor Day is $600, an advance of $200 over last year. The athletic sports last year were held at Mountain Rock grove, and an admission fee was charged. This was necessary because nearly all the city appropriation was expended on the parade and nearly as much more was spent out of the labor union treasury. With an appropriation of $600 the labor men are satisfied that they can pay for everything without calling on their own funds and they believe the athletics should be held where the taxpayers will have an opportunity to see them free of cost. They decided on the South common and without doubt the permission will be granted.

GEN. SHAFTER

HIS FRIENDS WANT HIM RETAINED IN SERVICE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 14.—Major General Shafter will have reached the age limit in about three months and it is said his friends are working energetically to secure his retention in the service a few years longer. The friends of General Shafter argue that since the Department of the Pacific has become so important by reason of the acquisition of the Philippines, it is inadvisable to make a change in its commander just at this time. It is rumored that Brigadier General Merriam, at present in command of the department of the Columbia, is likely to succeed Shafter in the event of his retirement.

GUILD'S CHOICE

OF CHAIRMAN FOR THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, July 14—The meeting of the State committee of the republicans yesterday, outside of the naming of the date of the convention and selecting the presiding and other convention officials, was interesting in indicating the feelings of the members on the Bates-Guild contest.

So far as the act of the committee in naming Mr. Melvin O. Adams for presiding officer may be considered it favors Guild. Mr. Adams is a leader in the Boston machine, and has always been classed as a Guild man.

Very few of the members attending the meeting would express their preference, but those who did were for General Guild.

WORLD'S RECORDS BROKEN.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SALT LAKE, Utah, July 14.—Two world's records were broken here last night on the Salt Palace eighth of a mile saucer track. John Lawson the "Terrible Swede," paced by tandems, rode a mile in 1.51 3-5, breaking the world's record for that distance on an indoor track. Clem Turville of Philadelphia, in the five mile professional event, went the distance in 10 minutes and 20 seconds.

Charles Paine, the well known driver for the Crystal Oil Co., wishes to announce that he is not the Charles Paine who was arrested a few days ago for stealing a bicycle.

Good Templars Receive Councillor Hector Turnbull

UPON HIS RETURN FROM TORONTO.

Delightful Reception in Pilgrim Hall.

Past Grand Councillor Hector Turnbull of the Good Templars who recently returned from the session of the International Supreme lodge at Toronto, was tendered a reception in Pilgrim hall, last evening, by the members of the different local and neighboring lodges.

Past Chief Templar Edward Turnbull called to order and after a short business session of Eirene lodge at which one member was initiated, introduced Past District Chief Templar Robt. W. Mountford as the presiding officer of the evening.

After a few appropriate remarks by the chairman E. S. Varney was called upon to deliver the address of welcome. In his remarks, Mr. Varney told of the pleasure it gave him to welcome Mr. Turnbull on behalf of Eirene lodge and the other lodges represented. He spoke of the honor conferred upon Eirene lodge and upon the city of Lowell in having a resident chosen to be one of three to represent the 7000 Good Templars in Massachusetts.

A dialogue, "Popping the Question," by Austin Fitz and Edith McDonald of General Fiske lodge was cleverly given after Mr. Varney had concluded his remarks; and Past Chief Templar Luther S. Wood of the same lodge had a pleasant word to say of Mr. Turnbull on behalf of the General Fiske brethren. D. H. Jones also spoke for General Fiske lodge. John W. Boker of Mt. Zion lodge also had a good word to say of Mr. Turnbull, and Ira G. George of West Chelmsford and Mr. Middleton of Chelmsford Centre extended a welcome on behalf of their respective lodges. Miss Alice Kelley of Eirene lodge gave a reading very creditably and Miss Ina Chalmers, Whitley F. Johnson, District Secretary Mrs. Ida A. Tilton and others followed with remarks and all had a pleasant word to say for the man of the hour. Mr. Turnbull was the last speaker. After thanking all for the generous welcome extended him Mr. Turnbull went on to tell of his trip and although limited to a few minutes' time, he gave his hearers a pretty good idea as to what he saw, and the work accomplished during the session. He told of the many changes that were made in the ritualistic and signal work of the order and of the plans that were laid for the general advancement of the cause throughout the world.

The number of members now in the Good Templar order, he said, is 600,000, a gain of over 20,000 during the past two years. The next session will be held in Stockholm Sweden in 1901. Mr. Turnbull was highly pleased at the reception tendered the delegates from all over the world by the Canadian members and spoke of Toronto as a model city. Afterward a general good time was enjoyed, all being given an opportunity to meet Mr. Turnbull personally and shake the hand that has come in contact with all the notables of the order during the past two weeks. Refreshments were served by a committee from Eirene lodge who deserve special credit for having managed the affair so successfully. Those who were prominent in the arrangements were: Mrs. Ida A. Tilton, Mrs. E. S. Varney, Mrs. Whitley F. Johnson, Mrs. John J. Kelley, William J. Smith, Frank Cote, Alice Kelley, Ethel and Winnie Woodman and Leola Craigie.

RAISED THE FLAG

Patriotic Exercises at Edson Orphanage Yesterday

The little waifs of the Edson orphanage, connected with St. Anne's church held a most pleasant flag raising at the orphanage grounds on Anne street yesterday.

The flag is the gift of Mr. John Houghton of Cambridgeport and Mr. Crawford Burnham of this city gave the flagstaff. Both gentlemen are interested in the orphanage.

The flag was raised at 4.30 o'clock with simple and appropriate exercises, a few friends assembling to witness the event.

The first on the program was the singing of "America" by the children, assisted by several members of the boy choir. Then there were a few special prayers by the rector, Rev. Dr. Chambre, after which Mayor Crowley, assisted by Dr. Chambre, raised the flag and unfurled it to the breeze. The boys then saluted the flag, and the Star Spangled Banner was sung.

Mayor Crowley made a three-minute speech and he was followed by the curate, Rev. A. V. V. Binnington.

"Brightly Glows our Banner" was sung in closing and then the guests were invited inside to inspect some improvements recently made in the building. The play-room has been renovated, through the generosity of Mr. Geo. Chase of the Lowell Wall Paper company, and it now presents a bright, clean and attractive appearance. It has been newly papered and painted. The dado is of Lincrusta Walton, finished with an oak chair rail over which the wall is papered with a design particularly attractive for a boy's play-room. It is of a bluish tint, barred off in diamonds and in the center of each diamond is a picture of one of our battleships, with its name beneath. The boys thus have the whole navy before their eyes.

The event of the afternoon came near being made doubly interesting by the presence of a former protege of the orphanage, Mr. Walter Gillespie, who is now a seaman on board the Dolphin. As soon as possible after his arrival in Boston he came to Lowell to pay a visit to his old home, and was urged to remain to the flag-raising, but was obliged to return to his vessel.

VOTED TO STRIKE

Action of Fall River Day Firemen.

WILL STRIKE IF CLAIMS ARE DENIED.

The Night Firemen Will Follow Their Example.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

FALL RIVER, July 14.—The day firemen of the different mills in the city held a meeting last night and voted to make a demand for an increase in wages to 17 cents an hour, actual time, and if this request is not granted to strike on Saturday. There were more than 100 of the men present and the meeting was most enthusiastic not a word of opposition being raised from beginning to end.

It was learned that the American Print Works had decided to grant the increase and that the Iron Works mill would follow suit. These two companies however, stipulated that a day should consist of 11 1-4 hours.

It was voted that if the demand for an increase is not granted the day firemen shall leave work at the end of their labor on Saturday with the understanding that the night firemen shall strike at the end of work Saturday morning. The night firemen will hold a meeting tonight and it is believed that concurrent action will be taken.

The local firemen's union consists of about 200 members but it is believed that a large number of non-union men are in actual sympathy with the movement. If a strike should come, no assistance from the outside will be looked for, as the workmen feel capable of taking care of themselves in such an emergency.

CRICKET MATCH.

A cricket game in aid of the Lowell hospital will be played on the U.S.B. C. C.'s grounds at Wigginville, Saturday, July 15, when the U. S. Bunting cricket club will meet the Boston cricket club. The admission will be ten cents.

The Bunting cricket club will be composed of the following men: T. Southam, captain; J. Walker, A. Moss, J. Patrick, W. Gath, W. Simpson, H. Rowley, J. Waterhouse, W. Midgley, R. Hood, M. Burns and J. Hutchinson. Wickets pitched at 2.30 p. m.

LAWN PARTY.

A largely attended and very enjoyable lawn party was held by Miss Elvena Coram last evening at her residence, 68 Mt. Hope street. The lawn was prettily decorated and orchestral music was furnished for "dancing on the green." A dainty lunch was provided.
